PEONAGE INIQUITY FORCED ON STAGE.

Horrors of Labor Slavery in Southern States Will Be Exposed by Congressional Inquiry.

CLARK'S 'DEFENSE' WEAK.

Venomous Attack by Florida Man in House Omitted Salient Facts in Notorious "O'Hara Case."

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—It is now certain that there is to be a sweeping investigation of peonage conditions in the southern states.

The resolutions passed by the house instruct the immigration commission to look into the conditions of supposed white slavery on plantations, in turpentine camps, lumber camps, and railroad settlements in Arkansas and Mississippi particularly, and in the other southern states in general.

The investigation is likely to take a long time. The department of justice already has gathered an immense amount of evidence in the matter, but it has really only touched the edge of the actual situation.

The immigration and naturalization commission, which is to undertake the investigation, is composed of three members of the senate, three representatives, and three outsiders, who are Prof. Jeremiah W. Jenks of New York, Prof. Benjamin Ide Wheeler of California, and Labor Commissioner Neill.

The first work of the immigration commission will be to go over the files of the department of justice and investigate the cases which have already been prepared.

There is material enough on hand in the department of justice to keep the immigration commission busy for a long while.

Clark's Venom Emphasizes Facts.

The extraordinary attack upon Attorney General Bonaparte and his assistants made in the house yesterday by Mr. Clark of Florida has only served to emphasize the fact that some of the biggest corporations engaged in the work of exploiting the southern states are behind the attempt to secure foreign labor for the south and to keep it in that section by devices which were employed to hold the negro in a condition of practical slavery long after he was declared free by the constitution and laws made under it.

There is every evidence that the immigration commission will be able to show, if it goes after the investigation in the right spirit, that a great many railroads, lumber, turpentine, mining, and plantation companies have been absolutely free from any charge of cruelty to their employes.

They have honestly sought to secure foreign labor for their enterprises, and have treated their men decently and paid them current market prices.

Juries Favor Standard Oil.

Unfortunately there has been another and different class of employers in the southern states. Some of them are individuals and some of them are corporations. Most of them are southerners, but a number of them are northern men who have gone down south to work the country for what it is worth.

The most notable offender of all has been the Florida East Coast railroad, which is a Standard Oil enterprise, and which is managed by Mr. H. M. Flagler.

In all probability Mr. Flagler has not been personally aware of the iniquities which have been practiced by his agents.

Men have been tried and punished for peonage in Florida, and in other cases, in which the Florida East Coast railroad was concerned, the juries have returned verdicts of acquittal in spite of convincing evidence to the contrary.

It is a curious thing that the southern members of congress have been absolutely blind to the actual condition of affairs. They have repeatedly declared that the campaign to stamp out peonage had been organized by northern labor agents who were seeking to prevent the south securing its share of the newly arrived labor from southeastern Europe.

South's Plot Charges Are Nonsense.

Absolutely the contrary is true. The first step toward the diversion of the stream of Italian immigration from the New York slums to the southern cotton fields was taken by no less a person than Baron Mayor Des Planches, the Italian ambassador.

He made a personal investigation, which he fortified by other inquiries, as to the condition of the newly arrived Italians in New York and other cities.

He was aware that a great many of his countrymen were of the peasant class, who were peculiarly unfitted for the life of the slums of a great city in a strange land.

It was through the personal efforts of Ambassador Mayor Des Planches that the stream of Italians began to be diverted toward the south.

It was only when complaints in regard to the treatment of these laborers began to come to Washington that the Italian ambassador, in common with other diplomats, made representations to the state department asking for an investigation.

Aliens Prey of Employers.

The foreign consuls in New Orleans and elsewhere in the south soon began to receive complaints by scores and by hundreds.

Italians, Hungarians, Russian Jews, Slavs, and all sorts of friendless foreign people who were attracted to the south by promises made of settled employment and prospects of earning a home began to pour their complaints into the ears of their consuls.

The department of justice took up the matter at the suggestion of the department of state, and the result was a series of peonage prosecutions in which the better class of southern planters and capitalists at first cooperated heartily, but in which of late there has been one miscarriage of justice after another.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which originally published the plans of the Italian ambassador and other foreign representatives to secure the movement of immigrants away from the eastern slums, was the first to print details as to the peonage conditions in the south.

It confined itself strictly to facts established by court records. Deriving its first information from foreign sources exclusively, it proceeded independently of all reports of the department of justice, until now congress has been forced to act and an official investigation is to be set on foot at once.

As a matter of course, the public prosecutions for peonage and the reports in THE TRIB-

STORM CITY HALL; CLAMOR FOR CARS

Residents of South End of Town Insist on Having Good Traction Service.

TELL WOES TO ALDERMEN

Council Committee Stirred to Action on the Calumet and South Chicago Ordinance.

People by scores from the south end of the city stormed the city hall yesterday afternoon and demanded street cars.

They represent the territory south of that covered by the City railway and they crowded into the meeting of the committee of local transportation until it assumed the proportions of a town meeting in cramped quarters. A goodly proportion of the residents of the territory south of Sixty-third street who could get away for the occasion were there to tell the committee what they wanted in connection with the proposed Calumet and South Chicago railway ordinances.

They were not opposing the ordinance. They have been so long without adequate street car service down in that country that anything which promised an improvement on existing conditions looked pretty good to them. But each locality had its own ideas as to what special things it wanted and came before the committee to tell about it. The result was the committee had to listen to individual and delegate suggestions for two hours.

Just Wants Street Cars.

The delegation from Hegewisch, for instance, contented itself with simply asking for street cars. If it could not get double truck cars, why, single truck ones would do. The residents down there had got tired of walking. Insure them cars now and they would take their chances of getting better ones in the future.

Representatives from Riverdale made the same point, except perhaps a little stronger. It is a case of walking with them most of the time now, and walking is not good in that part of the city this time of the year when the snow is melting and sidewalks none of the best.

Plea for Through Routes.

Residents of South Chicago at one end and West Pullman at the other wanted through east and west routes so they could travel without changing cars. Now they not only have to change, but must pay a 10 cent fare. The consolidation of the Calumet Electric and South Chicago City companies now occupying the territory contemplated by the ordinance would cut the fare to 5 cents, but passengers would have to transfer.

In the territory between Seventy-ninth and Ninety-fifth streets, which at its east end takes in part of South Chicago, the residents object to the provisions which will make them wait an indefinite time before they can get transfers from the new company to the Chicago City Railway company at Sixty-third street. They were willing to wait, but wanted to know just how long it would be.

Then the labor unions made a plea that the scale of trainmen's pay be fixed in the ordinance, asking it be made 30 cents an hour. The present rate in that territory is 23 cents and on the Chicago City road 27.

Delay Suggested by Fisher.

When this program had been finished the committee took up the ordinance in earnest. Special Counsel Walter L. Fisher raised the point at the start whether it was desirable to pass the ordinance at all or not. He pointed out that most of the ordinances of the two companies will expire in 1912 and the others in 1915, and it might be better to wait and then have the Chicago City company move in and occupy the territory.

But Ald. Moynihan of the Eighth ward and Ald. Bihl of the Thirty-third, representing the territory affected, protested. They said their people wanted better street car service at once, and were in no mood to wait for it.

Changes Made in Ordinance.

It was provided the work of rehabilitation should be done in three years and a half instead of four years, as originally provided, and the clause prohibiting the council from ordering an extension in a street within half a mile of a parallel street in which there were tracks was stricken out.

Then the provision allowing the company to do an express business came up. It set forth the express cars should not carry "live animals except dogs."

"Why favor dogs? Why pass over cats and parrots?" Chairman Foreman asked.

Ald. Bihl explained that during the duck season considerable travel on these lines consisted of hunters in search of game, and they naturally wanted their dogs carried.

"All right," said Ald. Foreman. "Let the pointers and setters ride in the express cars."

Series of Transfer Zones.

As the ordinance is drawn it provides for a series of transfer zones, the first being bounded on the south by Seventy-ninth street. In this zone transfers with the Chicago City company north of Sixty-third street are to be exchanged, and after a year, if the income of the company is 6½ per cent on its investment, they shall be extended to the second zone, running to Ninety-fifth street. So on until the city limits are reached.

Ald. Bihl suggested it would be more satisfactory to name a fixed time, say, five years, in which the second zone must be included. The representatives of the company said they thought it could be arranged. So the rest of the ordinance went over until Friday afternoon.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BRIDES

Mrs. Adelia McKey and Miss Gertrude McKey the Principals in Double Wedding.

A double wedding at which mother and daughter were the brides was the unusual service which Chicago gave to the events of yesterday. The brides were Mrs. Adelia McKey, widow of Henry McKey, and her daughter, Miss Gertrude McKey.

Mrs. McKey was married to Mr. Fielding A. Randle and Miss McKey became the bride of Mr. Edwin A. Hearne, the service taking place at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. McKey, 5136 Kimbark avenue.

Mrs. Randle has been a resident of Chicago for the last thirty-one years and is well known in Hyde Park. Before her first marriage she was Miss Adelia Parkhurst of New York, a distant relative of Dr. Charles Parkhurst.

SOCIAL ECONOMICS CLUB RENT

Woman Speaker Hissed for Reply to Arthur Burrage Farwell.

MANY HURRY FROM HALL.

Those Who Remain Applaud and Insist on Hearing Both Sides.

The Social Economics club, which holds monthly "council meetings" in the Masonic temple to dispose of municipal problems which the city fathers have neglected, encountered the worst storm of its career yesterday.

After trying in vain to hiss from the platform Miss Rose Evans, one of the speakers of the afternoon, half of the 150 or more women present left the hall precipitately, their faces white with anger. Then they sent back a representative, instructing her to stop Miss Evans if possible. The representative was hissed in turn and promptly "sat upon" by Mrs. John F. Thompson, president of the club, and the meeting was adjourned hastily.

As the result of the half hour's turmoil the club is facing permanent disruption.

The cause of the outbreak was a personal attack made by Miss Evans on Arthur Burrage Farwell, president of the Chicago Law and Order league. At the club's invitation Mr. Farwell made the principal address at the meeting, presenting the work of his organization and urging the clubwomen's cooperation.

After he had finished his address Miss Evans was introduced as a former prison reform worker in New Orleans and one who "would present the other side."

Trouble Begins Immediately.

The clubwomen looked up in surprise. Miss Evans' name had not been included in the printed announcements. The speaker adjusted her black rimmed eye glasses and began:

"In this age of isms and ideas that seem to have afflicted the clergy more than anyone else the genial speaker of the afternoon appears to be affected as much as anyone. He certainly gave an address bristling with 'I's' and personal experiences——"

Here a storm of hisses interrupted Miss Evans. The president arose and rapped for order, but the hisses, broken by a counter wave of applause, continued.

Miss Evans laughed.

"There are just two kinds of creatures that do this sort of thing," she said. "They are geese and snakes, and if that element is present it won't bother me, really!"

Mrs. Thompson wielded her gavel again.

"I can't allow this sort of thing!" she said, her face white with emotion. "I have never allowed personalities in these meetings, and I won't now!"

Meanwhile the women were trooping out, overturning chairs and tearing skirts in their eagerness to leave the hall. In the anteroom they congregated about a table, discussing the speech excitedly and raising their voices in an effort to drown the speaker's voice.

Those Who Remain Applaud.

Those who remained encouraged Miss Evans with applause and cries of "Go on!" She continued a moment longer, avoiding further direct reference to Mr. Farwell, only to be interrupted again by a voice from the back of the hall.

Miss Inez Lane, "alderman" from the First ward, had been sent in as the spokesman of the recalcitrants in the anteroom. Her eyes were flashing with suppressed excitement.

"Madam President," she said, "may one question be asked? A number of the ladies outside would like to know by whom the speaker is employed and at what salary! A number of the women have asked this question!"

Miss Evans' face went white with anger.

"I shall be glad to answer the question!" she returned. "Very glad!" But Mrs. Thompson, wilting the venturesome "alderman" with a glance, bade her go on with her remarks.

"There is something radically wrong," said Miss Evans, "if we must resort to religion to remedy our evils! Purification must be inward and not by legislation, nor by these prayers for effect, made in public places!"

The tumult at the door was increasing and Mrs. Corinne Brown, one of the club officers, arose and faced the members angrily.

"'At least,' she said, 'it is due our own self-respect to give this speaker a hearing! This is disgraceful!'"

Pleads for Free Speech.

"'I didn't come here of my own accord,' put in Miss Evans. 'I was invited, and I am standing merely for the right of free speech.'

"'You're a disgrace to all of us!' shouted some one in the doorway.

This was a signal for more applause and hisses, and after a few more sentences the speaker gave it up and took her seat at the rear of the hall, by the side of a tall, husky young man who had accompanied her.

Then the meeting was adjourned, and everybody started in to say what was in her heart.

"If this is an exhibition of Christian charitableness," said Mrs. Abbie Schoen, "fire marshal" of the club, "I'm glad I'm a Jew!"

Mr. Farwell was the center of a solicitous group. He was the only one who was smiling.

"Whatever injuries my feelings may have received," he said afterward, "are more than compensated for by the things that individual members have said to me. Really, I enjoyed the meeting."

But there were others who didn't. And they are wondering a bit whether there will be any more meetings, and if so, whether the program will be "censored."

EXPLORE THE NORTH SIDE ON CARS FROM SOUTH SIDE.

Stopped at Center in First Actual Gauge Test of the Union Traction Company Line.

The first run ever made by cars of the Chicago City railway company over any of the lines so long under Yerkes' management took place early this morning. The run was in a way a sample of the coming "through routes."

In order to test the large City railway cars on the North Clark street line, two of the big cars were started north from Washington street at 1:17. The cars ran side by side, one on the north bound and the other on the south bound track. The schedule of the north side cars had been arranged to leave both tracks clear for the test.

The big cars made the run successfully to Center street, but there they had difficulty in rounding the curve and were still there at 2:15 this morning.

LEPER CURED BY EDDY FAITH

Christian Scientist Takes Up Challenge of Foe.

ST. LOUIS CASE IS CITED.

G. W. Barrett Wires Boston Churchman of Recovery from Disease.

Boston, Mass., March 3.—[Special.]—That a leper was cured of his disease by Christian Science was the statement made today during a hearing before a legislative committee on the Peabody bill designed to make illegal the occupation of healers.

Frederick W. Peabody was urging a favorable report on his bill by the subcommittee on public health. Alfred Farlow, head of the publication department of the Christian Scientists, fought the bill, and during the argument Peabody said that if authentic information were furnished of any cure of leprosy by Christian Science methods he would withdraw his bill and himself become a Christian Scientist.

Challenge Is Answered.

At the same time he reminded H. A. Johnson, clerk of the First Church of Christ, of a cure of leprosy he once told him had been made and asked for its verification.

Mr. Johnson answered that the case he had told of was one that had figured in the recent litigation over the affairs of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy.

Mr. Farlow did not make immediate answer, but after the noon recess asked for the floor in order to give the name of a man cured of leprosy by the scientists.

"That man was Dr. George W. Barrett of St. Louis," he said, "and he told me of the facts in his case personally. I could tell his story if I cared to, but felt that this committee would rather have it from Dr. Barrett himself. Therefore during the session I have telegraphed him at St. Louis and asked him to wire his own story for your benefit.

Answer Comes Later.

The hearing closed at 6 o'clock, and soon after that hour Mr. Farlow received the telegram he had been waiting for from St. Louis. His query and the answer follow:

George W. Barrett, 2240A South Grand Avenue, St. Louis: Do you still claim that you have been healed of leprosy by Christian Science? Give date of healing. Wire immediately.

ALFRED FARLOW.

St. Louis, March 3, 1908.—Alfred Farlow, Berkeley Building, Boston: Healing took place 26th day of September, 1891. You are correct in your inquiry. Will find full account in Sentinel.

GIRL STENOGRAPHERS LET OUT.

Drainage Board Discharges Five Young Women, Putting Four Men in Their Places at Lower Wages.

Five young women stenographers employed by the Sanitary district of Chicago have been superseded by men. Frequent bickerings over favoritism which they believed to have been shown, it is said, put some of them out of "speaking terms" with others, and as a result the board decided to make a clean sweep and hire men who are not so likely to be subject to jealousies. President McCormick, however, said the change was made to reduce expenses.

No reflection as to the efficiency of the women was cast on them by any one.

SLAIN ANARCHIST AID OF REITMAN'S; MORE ARE HELD.

Anarchist Assassin One of Followers of the Committee Which Pleaded for Permit to Parade.

HEARD THE RED ORATORS

Several Acquaintances of Boy Are Arrested, but as Yet No Proof of Extensive Plot Is Found.

Lazarus Averbuch, the young Russian anarchist who attempted to assassinate Chief Shippy and was himself slain, was one of the body of men who called upon Corporation Counsel Brundage several weeks ago to secure permission for the parade of the "unemployed." This permission was denied because it was believed it would bring about a clash between the "reds" and the police.

Averbuch was not a member of the regular committee that accompanied Dr. Ben L. Reitman over to the city hall. He was a sort of "camp follower."

Joseph Huhn, Mr. Brundage's secretary, yesterday recognized in the dead man who still is at the Bentley undertaking establishment at 238 Lincoln avenue, a man who had come with the Reitman committee.

"I saw this man," said Mr. Huhn. "He was one of several who came over with the committee. He was at the inner door of the vestibule leading to the private office.

"'I no speak English,' he said when I asked him what he was doing there. Afterwards he muttered something about looking for the Russian consul."

Inspired by Inflammatory Talk.

The police continued their efforts yesterday to learn just what inspired the attempt upon Chief Shippy's life. They had reached the conclusion at the close of the day that denunciation of the police and appeals to "direct action" by "lecturers" connected with the Edelstadt group were responsible.

Several new arrests were made: an avowed anarchist; an attendant at night lectures at the university, and an old-country acquaintance of Averbuch's being locked up.

If there was an organized anarchistic plot to kill the chief of police and other high officials the police hope to unravel it through the young woman who was a friend of the young anarchist. Her name, it was learned late in the day, was Rosa Stern.

She had lived in the same little Russian town the Averbuch family came from. Up to two weeks ago she resided with Lazarus Averbuch and his sister Olga in the flat at 318 Washburne avenue. Now she has disappeared.

"We have not yet discovered the existence of a general anarchistic plot against the life of Chief Shippy," admitted Assistant Chief Schuettler in the evening, "although we are still working on that theory. We would much like to interview Miss Stern."

Shows Her Brother's References.

The police have an idea that this young woman can furnish them with more information than the sister of the assassin is able or willing to disclose. Olga Averbuch was questioned at length by Schuettler late in the day. She gave him little or no information of her brother's anarchistic tendencies. She said she never had heard him mention Chief Shippy's name. To substantiate her assertion as to his character she showed him her brother's college diploma, several excellent recommendations from employers in Russia and Austria and his passports.

A large number of letters from the young man's mother in Austria were discovered in his room. Their general tenor was to urge him to cheer up, stop his brooding, and be more content with his lot. There were no letters from anarchists in the lot.

Several Suspects Held.

Among the suspects arrested during the day some were able to throw light upon Averbuch's history. The police, however, uncovered nothing that would lead through the tangled maze of Chicago anarchism to a master mind or a collective body that might have directed Averbuch's attempt upon the life of the chief of police.

Isadore Maron, living at 304 Throop street with his parents, was the first person arrested during the day. From him the police learned the details of Miss Stern's relations with the Averbuchs.

Maron was arrested in front of the Averbuch house at 7 o'clock in the morning by Detectives O'Connell and O'Brien of the chief's office. He is 20 years old. At first he was thought to be the "curly headed youth" industriously sought by the police as a possible accomplice. He attended an anarchist meeting Sunday night with Averbuch in Workman's hall, West Twelfth and Waller streets.

One Speech at Meeting.

"There was only one speech at that meeting," said Maron, "and it related to the establishment of an eating house for workingmen. It was delivered by Dr. William Nathanson. I am not an anarchist, and I never heard Averbuch talk much against the police. I have met him only three times.

"I am much better acquainted with Rosa Stern. I met the Averbuchs through her. Coming over from Russia two years ago, I became acquainted with Miss Stern on the steamer. After she had been some time in Chicago she learned that Olga Averbuch, whom she had known in Russia, was in the city. The girls became inseparable, and Rosa, when the Averbuchs rented the rear rooms at the Washburne avenue house, went to live with them.

"I am employed in a window shade factory, and two months ago, when the flat was rented, I was introduced to Lazarus Averbuch. They wanted some shades, and I met him in that way. I do not know where Rosa Stern now is. She may be hiding somewhere on the west side or she may be in Milwaukee, where her brother lives."

Maron's sister called at the Maxwell street station to see him in the evening and was herself taken before Assistant Chief Schuettler. Later she was released.

Student Is Arrested.

From a memorandum found in Maron's pocket the police were led to arrest William H. Abramovitis, 20 years old, rooming at 339 Fifty-fifth street. A large amount of socialistic literature was found in his possession. Abramovitz was at the Sunday night meeting with Averbuch. He is a student of political economy, taking a night course at the University of Chicago.

It was learned that Abramovitz was a member of the Junior Franklin union of press feeders and job pressmen, but knowing from past experience that little information could be obtained by direct questioning of the members, a "fake telegram" was used to learn the whereabouts of the man wanted. This was sent from the Hyde Park station to the union headquarters, 14 Custom House court, and thus it was learned he was employed by H. O. Shepard & Co., 126 Sherman street, the head of the company being a close friend of Chief Shippy. Abramovitz was arrested there by Detectives Wolf and O'Connor and taken to the Hyde Park station. No information could be obtained from him and in the evening he was sent to the assistant chief's office. He admitted he had been at the house of Maron Sunday night, but denied being acquainted with Averbuch. He told the police he had been in the United States five years, three of which he lived in New York, coming here from that place. He refused to tell where he lived before going into the Hyde Park police district.

Thinks Boy Is Not Involved.

Inspector Hunt, in speaking of Abramovitz, said: "I have not satisfied myself as to his knowledge of the affair of Monday morning. However, he tells a straightforward story and denies even knowing Averbuch. He is an impulsive lad and I think has been led into his views by others."

From the fact of his arrest there arose a story that a group of young anarchists was in attendance at the university. This was absolutely denied by Dr. Charles R. Henderson and Prof. Samuel Harper. They said there were many socialists among the students, but, so far as they knew, no anarchists.

Says No Anarchists at University.

Prof. Henderson, who is head of the department of sociology and chaplain of the university, denied all knowledge of any expression of anarchistic views within the schoolroom or the campus.

"There are many Russian Jews students here," said the professor, "who are studying social and political economy. The majority of these are socialists, but none of them have ever expressed within the classroom any anarchistic ideas. Such conduct would be followed by immediate expulsion."

When told that there was a vague rumor that an assistant professor of the faculty of sociology had attended an anarchistic meeting and aired strong views, he said:

"That is outrageous and not based on a bit of truth."

Russian Jew Students Socialists.

Prof. Harper, who is a son of the late president of the university and professor of Russian literature, said:

"I know that there is no truth in the rumor that anarchistic views have been aired here.

"I am well acquainted with the social ideas of the Russian Jew students in the university, and although they are for the most part strongly socialistic, still I have never heard an expression of anarchy. In the classroom in the sociology classes the professors have taught the theories connected with the science, but have never gone further.

"I don't believe the attempted assassination was the work of an organized movement. I think the man was insane. I am interested in the condition of the Russian Jew in America and I attended a socialistic meeting of Jews myself last Sunday."

Edelstadt Secretary Held.

Another suspect arrested during the day was Harry Goldstein, secretary of the Edelstadt group. He was brought into Assistant Chief Schuettler's office by Detectives Mills and Crandall, who found him selling Emma Goldman's and other anarchist pictures and literature at Twelfth and Sangamon streets. He had a large collection of Russian anarchist books. Goldstein also has a bushy head of curly hair, and the police are looking for Russian Jews with curly hair.

Mayor Busse happened to be in Assistant Chief Schuettler's office when Goldstein was brought in and asked the man several questions.

J. Leibling, publisher of the Daily Jewish Press, 429 Union street, and owner of that building, told the police that he gave Goldstein a lease on the hall above his office on Sept. 20 which was to run six months. Goldstein told him at the time that he and other friends were organizing a club at which they would discuss Shakespeare and other topics of educational value. Leibling said he attended several meetings at first, these being of a mild nature and of no apparent connection with anarchy.

Anarchy Follows "Rent War."

Recently when the west side "rent war" started, the meetings, which were held each Friday evening and Sunday afternoon, became more radical and soon, according to Leibling, speeches bordering on anarchy were frequently heard. He at first attempted to convince Goldstein that his views were wrong, but failing to succeed demanded that the club seek new quarters.

Goldstein was in the party, as was Averbuch, that went before Chief Shippy and asked permission to parade the streets. This permit, as is known, was denied, and Leibling, fearing trouble, asked Goldstein to leave. The club moved on Feb. 20 to Turek's hall, 593 West Taylor street. The building at this address last night was deserted, and no one in the neighborhood could give the police information as to whether the club still used it.

Edelstadt Group's Activity.

The Edelstadt group, of which Nathanson and Dr. R. Miriam Yampolsky, 624 West Twelfth street, are the recognized heads, became particularly aggressive following the fiasco of the attempted "unemployed demonstration." For suppressing the parade Chief Shippy was denounced by Nathanson and other speakers at practically every meeting of the group. Averbuch listened to the inflammatory speeches with close attention.

At a meeting of the group a few weeks ago the members distributed hundreds of incendiary circulars in which President Roosevelt was termed "our crazy president" and Mayor Busse and Chief Shippy "brutal oppressors of the workingman." The circular closed with an appeal to direct action and the general strike.

The following are alleged extracts from a speech made by Nathanson in Yiddish at the meeting:

"Blood is the mother of liberty. Chief Shippy has denied us the right to parade and demonstrate. He is a tyrant, just as much so as the Russian police. Let us show him that we are not afraid of his club. Shippy is a miserable police official, the like of whom we look with contempt upon in Russia."

Averbuch Sr. Once Well Off.

Averbuch was a son of Jacob Averbuch, formerly a well to do grain merchant of Perlitz, provincial government of Bessarabia, Russia. Young Averbuch was sent to Kisheneff to school, graduating from the Kisheneff college two years ago. His father at one time was worth $50,000, a fairly large fortune among the trading class of Russia.

The family is said to have lost its property in the Kisheneff riots, from which all the Averbuchs fled to escape the infuriated Russian mobs. After coming to Chicago Averbuch read many Russian and Jewish revolutionary and anarchistic books, which were furnished him by the Edelstadt group.

The money taken in from the sale of anarchist literature was taken by Dr. Yampolsky, a woman physician, who acts as a sort of treasurer for the group. She is well known as an anarchist all over the Ghetto district. When seen in the afternoon Dr. Yampolsky said:

"I will tell you nothing. You are all liars, so what's the use of telling you anything? You couldn't tell the truth if you wanted to. Good-by."

Sister Held in Station.

Olga Averbuch remained a prisoner at the Harrison street annex except when she was brought into Assistant Chief Schuettler's office for a searching inquiry in the afternoon. Schuettler couldn't make much out of her, he said.

"My brother was not crazy, I am sure," she said. "He was in good health, but he was dissatisfied because he was not making much money—he was paid $6 a week, while I made from $10 to $15—and he expected to go back to Russia in May. He was of an affectionate disposition. He never mentioned Chief Shippy's name in my hearing. He did not believe in religion, but he did not discuss anarchy with me.

"I don't know when he bought his dagger and revolver—probably they were purchased out of his pay Saturday night. This has been a dreadful experience to me, and it will kill my parents, whom I expected to bring to this country soon. I send every month $20 out of my earnings; my brother was able to send but $3 a month. I had bought a ticket for my sister Rebecca to come to this country, which the police now have, but now I do not wish her to come."

All the women for whom Miss Averbuch sewed, speak well of her. She came to this country eighteen months ago, and first lived at the Miriam club, an institution for working girls, at 497 Bowen avenue.

The names of several families she had worked for were found by the police. When questioned they had nothing to say against her.

No Letters from Anarchists.

The translation of the letters found in Averbuch's trunk added weight to the theory that no actual plot existed. It was found that in all his voluminous correspondence the young Jew never had received letters from other anarchists or from those who spoke of any scheme to slay. The letters were mostly from his mother. They indicated that he had spoken in bitter tones of his disappointment with his life in America and his failure to get a good salary here. In one of his own letters, which had not been mailed, he complained of the fact that he could earn only $6 a week, while his sister was earning $10 or $15. On this account he was sorry, he said, that he could not send more money home every week. The young man told in this letter of finding conditions here for advancement almost as bad as in the old country. In no place, however, did the letter speak of anarchy or his growing ideas of violence as a cure for the evils of society.

The letters from his mother in Austria were of kind and cheerful tone, such as any good mother would write to a homesick boy far away from home. She told him not to despair, but to brace up and be brave and work hard.

The persons held by the police Monday evening were released. They are: Mrs. Mary Adams, 640 Canal street; T. Korimoros, her bartender; Edward Berman and W. D. Siegel, shoe dealers at 574 West Twelfth street.

Precautionary measures to guard the homes of Chief Shippy and Mayor Busse were continued last night when two detectives were detailed to guard the residence of each.

Heavy Fine for Gun Carriers.

Fines aggregating $900 were imposed on six men by Judge Scovel yesterday on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

The men were arrested by detectives from the West Chicago avenue station as a result of the order sent out by Assistant Chief Schuettler following the attempted assassination of Chief Shippy.

The men who were fined range in age from 21 to 28 years. Their names are:

Andrew Barich, 32 Temple street.
Stanley Hederman, 32 Ayres court.
Paul Milkowak, 263 Center avenue.
John Knitch, 338 Ada street.
George Kiska, 154 Front street.
George Kosach, 154 Front street.

Seize Priest's Alleged Enemy.

Frank Zajicek, 584 Blue Island avenue, was arrested yesterday on a charge of sending a threatening letter to Father Procopius Neusil, pastor of St. Procopius' Roman Catholic church, Eighteenth and Allport streets. The police say Zajicek admitted sending a letter demanding $1,000 from the priest. He also confessed, it is said, sending similar letters to Attorney Frank C. Soubrada, 711 Allport streets, who represents Father Neuzil, and Frank Topisovsky, a tailor, 805 Allport street.

Edelstadt Talks of Averbuch.

Butte, Mont., March 3.—[Special.]—Abraham Edelstadt, who is mentioned in the dispatches from Chicago today as being the founder of one of the chief societies of the "reds" in Chicago and a propagandist for anarchism up to the time he moved west four years ago, is now the proprietor of the Chicago shoe shop in this city. He is a solid business man, mild appearing, and perfectly willing to talk of all his connections with the Chicago "radicals." His wife took a prominent part in the Chicago reception of Prince Kuropotkin when he came to this country a few years ago.

As to his connection with the Edelstadt society of Chicago, Abraham Edelstadt says it was a singing and educational society, and was named after his brother, David Edelstadt, a noted workingmen's poet, who wrote "Volksgedichte," in the Yiddish language. These are songs primarily directed to the feelings of the workingmen, and are designated by Mrs. Edelstadt as being "radical."

Mr. Edelstadt is emphatic in his belief that Averbuch is no anarchist, judging from the praying proclivities of the man.

"It has been said that he was an orthodox religionist, Jewish or otherwise," he said, "and if this is true, it proved that he could have been no anarchist, as all the anarchists that I know are free thinkers and adhere to no religion."

TOWN THREATENED BY REDS?

Wawaka, Ind., Told in Anarchist Letter to Pay $750 or Be Blown to Atoms.

Goshen, Ind., March 3.—[Special.]—Wawaka, a town of 500 inhabitants, located in Noble county, has received a letter postmarked New York City, in which $750 is demanded from the town within two weeks.

The letter says that if the money is not delivered to a certain point in New York the town will be blown to atoms. It is signed "Anarchists." It has been forwarded to the postal department at Washington and steps are being taken to guard the town.

A vigilance committee is being organized and officers will meet every train pulling into Wawaka for the next two weeks.

CORNELL COLLEGE MEN MEET.

Have Alumni Banquet in the Auditorium Hotel—S. S. Shirer Elected President.

"The new religion now being taught is intensely practical and personal, and helps one to bear the burdens of life," said the Rev. Rollo F. Hurlburt of Buffalo last night at a banquet given in the Auditorium hotel by the Chicago club of Cornell college, Mount Vernon, Ia.

"We are no longer dreaming about the celestial city to come, but are trying to make more celestial the cities in which we reside."

The Rev. William F. King, president of the college since 1863; Prof. W. O. Allen, and Col. E. B. Soper, a trustee, also spoke. The club elected officers as follows:

President—Seward S. Shirer.
Vice president—Mrs. William F. Durno.
Secretary—H. Craig Jones.
Treasurer—Horace G. Losier.
Chairman executive committee—Dr. E. Franc Morrill, retiring president.

OBITUARY.

DR. GEORGE F. CONTANT of La Salle, Ill., one of the leading physicians of central Illinois and coroner of La Salle county, died last evening at his home in La Salle at the age of 60 years. The doctor was an ex-president of the State Homeopathic Medical society and graduated from the Hahnemann Medical college, Philadelphia, in 1871. Funeral notice later.

MRS. HARRIET C. TILDEN, widow of William M. Tilden, a pioneer of Chicago, passed away yesterday at her residence, 1301 Wabash avenue. Mrs. Tilden for many years was connected with the Trinity Episcopal church. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

JOHN H. MURPHY, general counsel for the Western Federation of Miners and general counsel for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, died of consumption in Denver, Colo., last night.

Water Contaminated; Boil It.

Following the examinations of the city's water supply the city laboratory reported "an increasing indication of contamination in the public water supply" and advised all to boil the water until further notice.

ANARCHISTS TO BE SWEPT FROM CITY.

Authorities Join Hands to Banish Leaders and Crush the Various Groups.

EVIDENCE ALL IN HAND.

City, State, and Federal Officials in Conference Forming Campaign Plan.

Anarchistic societies that infest Chicago are to be exterminated root and branch. Assistant Chief of Police Schuettler probably will be assigned to carry out the plan to rid the city of dangerous organizations and individuals.

It developed yesterday that Mayor Busse has determined to adopt this policy as a safeguard of the peace and liberty of Chicago's law abiding population. Aroused by the attempt on the life of a member of his official family the mayor set in motion during the day the forces that will be relied on to stamp out anarchy wherever it shows itself.

Every power at the command of the local authorities will be invoked to achieve this piece of municipal house cleaning. The authors of seditious utterances will be prosecuted under the criminal statutes. Undesirable foreigners who have been in this country less than three years will be deported under the federal law. Street gatherings of malcontents will be absolutely prohibited. At the same time, state and municipal legislation enabling the authorities to deal summarily with anarchistic disturbances of any sort will be sought.

Developments of the Day.

The principal developments of the day along the line of a campaign against anarchy in Chicago were:

Mayor Busse called a conference of his chief advisers to work out a systematic plan of action.

District Attorney Sims advised Assistant Chief Schuettler of the kind of evidence necessary to obtain the deportation of undesirable immigrants.

Corporation Counsel Brundage recommended state legislation prohibiting utterances advocating murder.

Ald. Dever announced that he would call for the passage by the council tomorrow of the ordinances regulating the carrying of concealed weapons.

Ald. Young announced that he would submit to the council the question of enacting legislation against the dissemination of anarchistic doctrine.

Time for Action, Says Mayor.

Mayor Busse declined to tell his plans in advance of the action he intends to take. He said it was no time for "outflushing." He did that up demanded is not talk but action. It became known, however, that he has been working quietly for some time in the direction of some plan for curbing the increasing boldness of the anarchists in Chicago. His attention was called to the menacing conditions some three months ago.

Thinking that the disturbers might be driven out of the city quietly, he advised against any drastic move then by the police, but gave orders that evidence of the gatherings of anarchists and the inflaming utterances made therein be secured for future use. This was done, and the administration is in a strong position to prosecute the ringleaders and force their followers out of the city.

The mayor talked with District Attorney Sims and State's Attorney Healy at his office in the morning. Both officials promised him all the aid in their power. Mr. Busse then called a conference of his advisers for today or tomorrow to consider a definite plan of action.

Besides the chief of police, the officials whom the mayor has asked to advise him are Assistant Chief Schuettler, Corporation Counsel Brundage, Health Commissioner Evans, State's Attorney Healy, and District Attorney Sims. The mayor will ask these officials to consider the problem not only of stamping out the immediate peril but of obtaining legislation that will furnish an adequate protection.

Schuettler May Be Put in Charge.

One of the suggestions that will be considered seriously by the mayor is the assignment of Assistant Chief Schuettler to take personal charge of the campaign to suppress the reds. He is considered the best equipped member of the police department for the work. The mayor has been urged to commission Schuettler to pick a staff of assistants and drive away the revolutionaries by means of prosecutions, deportation, and whatever other means appears most efficacious.

Schuettler already has in his possession sufficient evidence to prove more than a score of the anarchist ringleaders undesirable residents of the city. He has been gathering this evidence ever since the mayor gave the order three months ago.

"The methods of the anarchists have changed materially in the last twenty years," Schuettler told the mayor. "In the days before the Haymarket riot the anarchists were preaching violence against a class as a whole. They went in for wholesale violence. They had English and German leaders. But now the Russian element has come to the fore and we have the nihilistic idea. They preach the assassination of the individual. These later anarchist leaders are of a lower, more despicable criminal type, but their methods are more dangerous."

Wants Iowa Law Copied.

Corporation Counsel Brundage is prepared to tell the mayor and his advisers of the limitations of action by the municipal authorities in default of a strong state law against anarchy. He will urge that the legislature when it reconvenes in May be asked to enact a law similar to the Iowa statute, which was passed after the assassination of President McKinley. The Iowa law reads:

"Whoever shall within this state advise, counsel, encourage, advocate, or incite the unlawful killing within or without the state of any human being, where no such killing takes place, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than twenty years."

With such a law in force in Illinois Mr. Brundage points out the authors of inflaming utterances in the recent anarchist meetings could be arrested and prosecuted. As it is at present the police have no authority to interfere in these meetings.

Mr. Brundage said he was in favor of prohibiting the street meetings of social malcontents. Under the city ordinance a meeting in the street cannot be held without a police permit, but the authorities have been lax in enforcing the law.

Deportation Simple and Summary.

District Attorney Sims had a long talk with the mayor and later conferred with Schuettler. He informed both officials of the broad scope of the federal statutes authorizing the deportation of undesirable foreign immigrants. He left with the mayor a memorandum of the law.

The procedure under the law is simple. The secretary of commerce and labor, whenever satisfied of the violation of the law, "shall cause the offender to be taken into custody and deported to the country from which he came."

Ald. Dever, as chairman of the judiciary committee, will call up the firearms ordinances for passage by the city council tomorrow afternoon. One of these measures provides for the licensing of dealers in firearms and the registration of sales. The other provides that a citizen must obtain a permit to carry concealed weapons and pay an annual license.

Chief Shippy, who spent the day at home, said he would have several suggestions to make at the conference.

"I think Chicago is going to witness a weeding out of undesirable citizens," said the chief. "I think you will find there will be no more meetings in which murder is advocated. I think that Mother Jones, for example, will not be allowed again to address an audience at Hull house. I think Hull house will not be used for any such purpose in the future."

BAR ON ALIEN ANARCHISTS

Laws Against Outcasts Are to Be Enforced.

AID OF THE CITIES ASKED.

Police Officials Are Urged to Be on Their Guard.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus today issued an order to all immigration officials, directing them to confer with the police in their respective jurisdictions with a view to securing "their cooperation in an effort to rid the country of alien anarchists and criminals failing within the law relating to deportation."

Text of Straus' Order.

The order of Secretary Straus follows:

"To all commissioners of immigration and immigration inspectors in charge: It is hereby directed that, with a view to promptly obtain definite information with regard to alien anarchists and criminals located in the United States, you shall confer fully with the chief of police or the chief of the secret service of the city in which you are located, furnishing such official with detailed information with regard to the meaning of the term 'anarchist' as used in the immigration act of Feb. 20, 1907, and with regard to the inhibition of that statute against aliens of the criminal classes, explaining the powers and limitations imposed by said statute upon the immigration officials with respect to such persons.

"You should call to the attention of the chief of police or chief of the secret service the definition of 'anarchist' contained in sections 2 and 38 of the act of Feb. 20, 1907, and the provisions of section 2 placing within the excluded classes 'persons who have been convicted of or admit having committed a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude,' pointing out that, if any such person is found within the United States within three years after landing or entry therein he is amenable to deportation under the provisions of section 1 of the act.

Outlines Course of Action.

"The cooperation of said officials should be requested, making it clear that in order that any particular anarchist or criminal may be deported evidence must be furnished showing (1) that the person in question is an alien subject to the immigration acts, (2) that he is an anarchist or criminal as defined in the statute, (3) the date of his arrival in the United States, which must be within three years of the date of his arrest, (4) the name of the vessel or of the transportation line by which he came, if possible, and (5) the name of the country whence he came, the details with respect to the last three items being kept at the various ports of entry in such a manner as to be available if information is furnished with respect to the anarchist's name, the date of his arrival, and the port of entry.

"It is desired that the previously indicated steps shall be taken at once and that no proper effort shall be spared to secure and retain the cooperation of the local police and detective forces in an effort to rid the country of alien anarchists and criminals failing within the provisions of the statute relating to deportation."

NEW YORK TO WAR ON REDS.

New York, March 3.—The order of Secretary Straus for the deportation of such alien anarchists and criminals as the law can reach will be enforced promptly and vigorously by the local and federal authorities, working in harmony with the municipal police.

Commissioner of Immigration Watchorn, United States District Attorney Stimson, and Police Commissioner Bingham are prepared to exercise every precautionary measure possible. A conference between several federal authorities will be held tomorrow and it is understood that a representative of the immigration service will confer with Commissioner Bingham and a plan of joint action be mapped out.

It is known that a systematic campaign against those suspected of anarchistic sympathies has been quietly waged in this city for months, and a warm reception awaits the avowed anarchist from other parts who may turn his steps New Yorkward.

A report that Archbishop Farley, head of the Catholic church in New York, had been threatened by anarchists reached Commissioner Bingham today, but he would not confirm it later. The archbishop's subordinates however, have been in communication with the police in an effort to hunt down the authors.

Commissioner Bingham also denied special details of police had been sent to the financial district because of threats against men there. He declared he himself had received no threats, but admitted one of his deputies had.

TWO CHURCHES THREATENED.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 3.—[Special.]—Two of the biggest Roman Catholic churches in Philadelphia today were put under strict police surveillance because of anarchist threats to destroy them. The churches are St. Ann's and the chapel of the Holy Name. The parochial school of the latter has been closed for the last two days because of the report.

The police were first notified of the danger when some one telephoned that the Rev. Matthew J. Hand, rector of St. Ann's, had received a threat that unless he paid $5,000 the church would be wrecked while the congregation was within.

Police in plain clothes were sent to watch night and day. On Monday night seven men were discovered acting strangely about St. Ann's. They were pursued, but fled and escaped.

EMMA GOLDMAN STILL DENYING.

Springfield, Mo., March 3.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, addressing a meeting tonight said anarchism did not mean murder and killing, but aimed at the overthrowing of present society, the church and bad government.

She followed this with a tirade against the newspapers, saying they and the police were responsible for the assassination of rulers and for the wicked form of government.

She repeated her declaration that Lazarus Averbuch, who attacked Chief Shippy of Chicago, was not an anarchist and that she had never heard of him.

PRIEST'S SLAYER HELD SANE.

Denver, Colo., March 3.—Giuseppe Allo, the slayer of Father Leo Heinrichs, is declared sane in a report submitted to District Attorney A. Stidger today by four experts in mental diseases who examined the prisoner. They agreed that Allo is above the average in intelligence and powers of memory.

KING OF MISRULE REIGNS.

Brilliant Costumes Add Interest to Spectacle in Which 800 Take a Part.

With all the gayety and pageantry that 800 exuberant young art students could crowd into three hours' time, Shrove Tuesday was joyously celebrated at the Art institute last night.

Several hundred privileged persons were crowded into Blackstone hall when at 9 o'clock a fanfare of trumpets announced the approach of the king of Misrule and his suite. Between the massive cement models of Roman and medieval architecture which tower 25 and 30 feet into the air in the center of the hall a place was kept clear for the revelers. At one side of this was the royal throne, backed up against a Roman triumphal arch, and opposite the doorway of a European cathedral.

To the music of largo, sung by twenty choir boys, the king and queen entered, attended by a stately cardinal in scarlet, men at arms, ladies in waiting, courtiers, harlequins, columbines, cowboys, devils, Japanese, Indians, Mexicans, Puritans, and a hundred other characters from all history and all the world. Each in turn came and paid homage at the foot of the throne.

May Pole Dance Is Given.

Then two heralds, a glance at whom brought thoughts of jousts and tournaments, arose and through intensely modern football megaphones, cried: "Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye! We proclaim it May."

At this twenty airy sprites in shimmering gauze and tinsel fluttered out from the wings for the first of the eleven pantomimes of the evening. Each paid tribute to the royal personages with a flower and then all joined in a wild, graceful dance around a May pole.

As these ethereal creatures fluttered and drifted from the scene, a natty orderly in khaki sprinted on the scene and announced something to the heralds in red tights. The heralds thereupon, with due "Hear ye's," proclaimed "Blind Man's Buff." This was a tableau by children in white nightgowns; but was spoiled by some of the ancient Egyptians and Quakers in the royal suite, who, probably inspired by the cry of the heralds, began to sing: "We're here because we're here, because we're," etc.

"Heave Ho, and a Bottle of Rum."

The children were followed by a set of rumians of the Spanish Main, who lugged in a huge wooden chest and shouted in the manner of a college yell: "Fifteen men on a dead man's chest, Yo heave ho, and a bottle of rum!" And they danced on the "dead man's chest" and shook their cutlasses and dirks in a terrifying manner. Then they crouched behind the chest while several pretty Spanish señoritas of New Castle meandered near them. The maidens were soon captured, wooed, and won; and the bloody cutthroats and the dainty lasses engaged in a game of "Pease porridge hot, peas porridge cold," etc., followed by a dance.

The fourth pageant represented the doge, the prelates, and the citizens of the free republic of Venice espousing the Adriatic. The espousal was preceded by a waving, sinuous, wonderful dance by a girl who represented the Adriatic.

Seven señoritas in orange and black next gave a graceful, vivacious Spanish dance to the music of tambourines and castanets.

"The Skeleton in Armor."

They were followed by a pageant called "The Skeleton in Armor." A chorus of Norse maidens, each carrying a candle, appeared in the darkened hall chanting a strange refrain. An old man followed them, and tottered up to a niche in the Roman arch where a gruesome skeleton in helmet and breastplate stood. To the horrible thing he addressed the opening words of Longfellow's poem, "Speak, speak, thou fearful guest," and from the recess he was answered with Longfellow's tale of the Norse lover who fled with his love to America long before Columbus.

The last two figures were a scene from "Tannhauser" and "Snowflakes." At the close of the last figure the subjects of the king suddenly rebelled and stormed his throne with red fire, torpedoes, and confetti.

MIR SARABAND RUG

THERE are a great many Nomad rugs that have the Saraband pattern, but they look like cheap imitations compared to those woven in the district of Mir. The soft rose ground with mellow blue tints in the figures and the indefinite, graceful river-loop pattern of the Mir make it "a thing of beauty that is a joy forever." One of the choicest specimens from this district.

BIDWELL NEMESIS IS STAR WITNESS.

Miss Ida Palmer Tells of Business Methods of the Cold Motor Promoters.

STANDS A HOT GRILLING.

Admits She Assisted in "Lying, Cheating, and Swindling" for Her Employers.

The Nemesis of the Bidwells, Miss Ida Palmer, was on the witness stand nearly all day yesterday in Judge Chetlain's court. The morning session and the first half hour of the afternoon were taken up with her recital on direct examination of the methods by which the Bidwell Electric company got the money of credulous persons throughout the country and how the Bidwells in turn appropriated to their own use the money of the Bidwell Electric company. The remaining two hours were taken up with a rapid fire cross examination by Attorney Brady for the defense.

The courtroom was crowded with intensely interested spectators, many of them stockholders in the "cold motor" corporation.

Attorney Brady attempted to show that Miss Palmer's character had been bad and that she had been dishonorable in her dealings with the company which employed her. On the whole she held her own, though forced into many self contradictions, but at the close of the session Attorney Brady declared that her ordeal had just begun.

Cross Examination Is Lively.

Attorney Brady sat motionless and speechless through the whole direct examination, but when Assistant State's Attorney Popham turned to him and said, "You may take the witness," he plunged immediately into the battle with that question which most lawyers studiously forget to ask of their feminine witnesses:

"How old are you?"

"Thirty-six," replied Miss Palmer quietly.

"You will have to speak louder; we can't hear you," said the cross examiner.

"Thirty-six," was the reply, this time clear and defiant, and there was no truce until court adjourned.

"Where did you meet Charles F. Bidwell?"

"In Michigan."

"Who introduced you?"

"He introduced himself."

"What was your business at that time?"

"I conducted an art school—a school of pyrography."

"Were you ever in the fortune telling business?"

An objection by Mr. Popham was overruled by the court and the witness answered in the negative.

"Were you ever in the business?"

"No."

"You were never in the palm reading business?"

"Well, not for myself. I conducted such a business for H. K. Dean of Grand Rapids, Mich."

"Did you ever conduct a matrimonial agency?"

"Not for myself. I simply worked on a salary for H. K. Dean."

"Were you ever connected with a marriage bureau in Chicago?"

"No."

"Or in the palm reading business in this city?"

"Not that I remember."

Smiles for Lawyer Brady.

"Well, look at this circular and see if it refreshes your memory. I want to know whether after looking at it you remember going around the country and in Chicago selling it and other similar literature and reading palms?"

Attorney Popham objected at this point and asked to see the pamphlet. Miss Palmer handed it to him, smiling sweetly.

"Why such pleasant smiles for the prosecuting attorney?" asked Attorney Brady.

"The smiles are not for Mr. Popham; they are for you, Mr. Brady," retorted the witness, and it took the bailiffs about two minutes to restore order.

"What businesses were you connected with in Chicago?" asked Brady.

"With the Bidwell Electric company."

"What else?"

"I helped Charles F. Bidwell earn his living by picking basting threads out of belts. He made electric belts and traveled around selling them."

"Where did you live when you first came to Chicago?"

"I don't remember."

"Did any one tell you to say that when you did not want to answer a question?"

"No, certainly not."

"How did you earn your living before you were employed by the Bidwell Electric company? How about this pamphlet?"

Witness Protected by Court.

Here Mr. Popham objected, and, following an argument, the court ruled:

"Any question merely calculated to disgrace the witness and not bearing directly on the issues in the case is not admissible."

At this Miss Palmer whirled around and said something to the court which could not be heard, and Judge Chetlain explained that he was simply laying down an abstract rule of law.

"How much did you earn picking basting threads out of belts for Charles Bidwell?" asked Brady.

"I don't know."

"How long did you work at that?"

"O, I helped Charles F. Bidwell more or less all the time that I knew him."

"Did he pay you a salary for your work?"

"No."

"Did you work on commission?"

"No. It was this way: If I was broke and he had money I was welcome to it, and if he was broke and I had money my money was his."

Attorney Brady then examined Miss Palmer as to her connection with Rose & Eldridge, the attorneys for the stockholders, while she was employed by the Bidwell Electric company as a private secretary. She admitted she went to their office every few days from April, 1907, until June, when she was discharged.

Evasive Answers Are Given.

"Your conferences were with relation to the business of your employer, the Bidwell Electric company, were they not?" she was asked.

"Not altogether."

"Did you have any other business with Rose & Eldridge?"

"I may have had and I may not."

"What was your principal business at their office?"

"I can't answer that."

"Did you have any other business?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

"Find out."

Attorney Brady protested to the court and Judge Chetlain told the witness that she must answer.

Miss Palmer asked that the question be read by the stenographer, pondered for awhile, and then replied:

"I asked them for legal advice."

"Was it with reference to the blackmailing of Charles Bidwell?"

"No, indeed; nothing of the kind."

"Did it pertain to an attempt to get $2,000 from Charles Bidwell, which you claimed he owed you for selling stock?"

At this point Miss Palmer appealed to the judge to decide whether she must reveal her private business not connected with the trial and she was excused from answering. Attorney Brady then brought out the fact that Miss Palmer was married on Sept. 23, 1907, to a man named Huckins.

Attorney Brady Is Annoyed.

Then the lawyer questioned Miss Palmer with regard to the exhibition of the cold motor at the electrical show in the Coliseum in January, 1907.

"Was there any trouble about installing the exhibit in the show?"

"Yes, there was. The Bidwells ran a 'scab' factory and——"

"I object, your honor. That is improper. Did any one tell you to say that, Miss Palmer?"

"No one but you. You asked me if there was trouble and I was telling you that there was because the 'scab'——"

"I object. I withdraw my question. Who put the motor together at the show?"

"Scab workmen and——"

"I object to that word, your honor."

The court ruled in favor of Mr. Brady and he again put the question:

"Who installed the exhibit?"

"Nonunion people," was the ready answer, to which Mr. Brady objected again and said: "What I want to know is who did the job; I want names."

"I don't know their names," answered the witness, and then quickly added, "but I do know that nonunion men caused the trouble."

Keys Stolen; Duplicates Made.

Miss Palmer told how she stole Charles Bidwell's private keys to his secret compartments in the safe and had duplicates made one night.

"The next morning," she said, "I threw them under the safe, and in the middle of the forenoon I pretended to find them on the floor by accident when Charles Bidwell was present. I asked him if they were the keys to his secret compartments, and he said 'Yes,' and took them.

"'It is lucky for you,' I said, 'that no one found them, or they could have got at your secret books and made copies of them. He looked at me but did not say anything."

"What did you copy first?" asked Attorney Brady.

"The '700 book.'"

"Where?"

"Right in the office."

"During the time they were paying you $20 a week for your services?"

"Yes, sir."

"On their time?"

"No, on my own time, at the noon hour, each day that I had a chance."

Wants Money for Swindling.

"How often did you talk to Charles F. Bidwell in June about the $2,000 you thought he owed you?"

"Twice."

"Did you really think he owed it to you?"

"Your honor, must I even tell what I thought?"

"You must answer the question," said the court.

"Well, I did think he owed it to me, and he does owe it to me, for my services in accord with our agreement."

"For what services?" asked Brady, touching off a bomb of feminine wrath.

"For lying, and cheating and swindling for them. For selling poor people stock in their worthless cold motor proposition."

"How much of it was owing to you for stealing and duplicating their keys?"

No answer from the witness.

"How much of the $2,000 was due for your work in copying their private papers?"

"They would have paid thousands of dollars not to have had me do it."

"Yes, and you would have taken it, wouldn't you?"

"I wouldn't touch their stolen money."

"From what money did you want them to pay you the $2,000?"

"From their own money."

"Did they have any money of their own?"

"They had money from the sale of stock."

"Wasn't that too tainted for you to touch?"

Miss Palmer became badly confused, and frequently contradicted herself when the attorney began to probe her motives.

Calls Cold Motor a Fake.

"How soon after you came to work did you decide that the cold motor was worthless?"

"Two months after I came to work Charles F. Bidwell told me that it was simply a fake to sell stock."

"When were you first conscience stricken?"

"I was never stricken at all."

"Well, when did you first experience a change of heart?"

"Toward whom?" with a glance at Charles F. Bidwell.

"Toward the thousands of stockholders of the company whom for fourteen months you say you had been assisting Benson and Charles Bidwell in swindling."

"I was working on a salary."

At the morning session Miss Palmer told of her dealings with the Bidwell Electric company and its exploiters during the sixteen months that she served as confidential secretary to Charles F. Bidwell. Benson Bidwell slept through both sessions on a couch in the judge's chambers. Charles sat listening intently to every word, taking voluminous notes and seeming much amused at most of the testimony. His daughter Bertha sat beside him.

FIELD MUSEUM TO RECEIVE AN ANCIENT EGYPTIAN TOMB.

Relic Weighing 250 Tons Will Be Shipped to Chicago from the Land of the Pyramids.

An ancient Egyptian tomb, weighing 250 tons, situated near the pyramids twenty miles from Cairo, may be removed to Chicago as a specimen for exhibition in the Field Museum of Natural History. A representative of the museum is making preparations for the transportation of the relic, according to reports from Cairo.

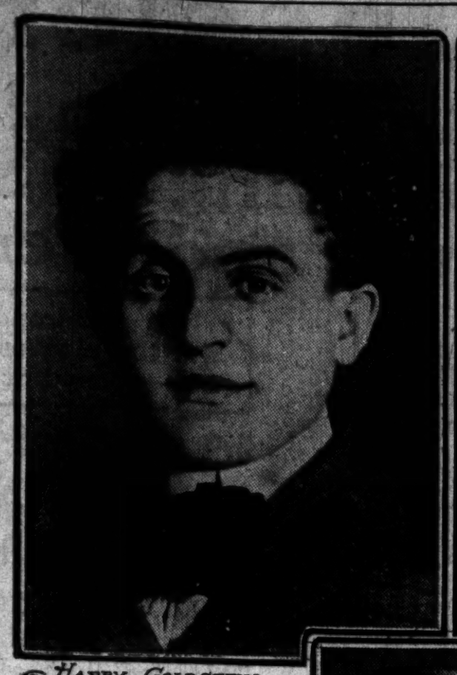

The tomb is near the pyramid Sakkara and is one of the objects of interest most frequently visited by tourists in Egypt. A great task is before the museum authorities in removing the relic bodily from Egypt to Chicago. The tomb is many miles from a railroad. It will be taken apart and shipped to America in sections.

It is believed that Prof. George A. Dorsey, who is making an extensive tour in securing relics and specimens for the museum, has recommended the removal of the tomb. Prof. James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago expedition into Egypt in search of ancient relics has visited the tomb several times and studied it.

Religious Society at Banquet.

The eighth annual dinner and business meeting of the Independent Religious Society of Chicago was celebrated at the Palmer house last night. Chairman D. H. Hillis spoke of the growth of the society, declaring it had increased more than 100 per cent during the last year. The following trustees were elected: Herman Mueller, Edwin L. Lobdell, F. G. Whitney, Henry J. Boha, Dr. B. Rat Van Doozer, and J. H. Ostrander.

PRICE OF CREAM DROPS ALSO

Reduction of 1 Cent Per Half Pint Made by Two Concerns.

JOLT FOR BORDEN COMPANY?

Other Dealers Say the Cut Simply Means Selling Below Cost.

If there are any lingering doubts in the minds of Chicago householders as to the existence of a "rate war" among Chicago milkmen, they may as well consider themselves dispelled.

Just by way of going the Borden company one better in its campaign of rate cutting two big milk firms announced yesterday a reduction of 1 cent per half pint in the price of cream. This will go into effect at once, side by side with the 7 cent rate on milk. It sets the price of cream at 9 cents a half pint, instead of 10, the rate which had prevailed for months.

The leaders in this counter move are the Wieland Dairy company and the Bowman Dairy company—both among the "six" which were involved in the grand jury investigation last fall.

"This is simply carrying the thing out logically," said Charles G. Wieland with a smile that looked more grim than humorous. "If milk is to be sold at 7 cents, I see no reason why we shouldn't sell cream at the lower rate. We can afford one just as well as the other."

Protest by Borden Manager.

There is little doubt that the Borden company, which started things on Sunday by cutting 1 cent from its price for milk, will meet the reduction in the price of cream. But there is also little doubt that the action of the other dealers took the big firm unawares.

"We made our cut on milk because it is a necessity and we felt that the consumer was entitled to the lower rate," said John H. Marsh, superintendent of the Borden company's Chicago plant, "but the cream is a luxury. It would be ridiculous to make the price on cream lower. We could not do it without lowering the quality, and that we will not do."

When the news of the Wieland company's reduction was broken, gently and by degrees, Mr. Marsh looked quietly interested. Then he said that the matter is in the hands of the company's directors in New York.

The Kee & Chapell Dairy company, the last of the big firms to meet the Borden company's reduction on milk, announced definitely in the afternoon that it will establish the new rate tomorrow. With the exception of the Wieland and Bowman companies, however, no announcement as to the rates on cream have been made.

Dealers Taken by Surprise.

Sidney Wanzer & Sons, the Ira J. Mix company, the Kee & Chapell company, the Huntley company, and the rest have been taken completely by surprise, they declare, and must consider carefully before committing themselves.

"It's a serious situation," said one big dealer. "We cannot sell cream at 9 cents any better than we can milk at 7. Both rates mean a loss on every quart—or half pint—sold."

Inasmuch as the quantity of cream sold is far less than the quantity of milk, it is possible that many of the dealers will refuse to meet the new rate, possibly starting competition in other directions.

POWER PLANT AT LOCKPORT DAMAGED BY TWO WORKMEN.

Sanitary District Police Arrest and Cause Indictment of James and Charles Jender for Vandalism.

James and Charles Jender, brothers, who live at Lockport, were arrested by the sanitary district police yesterday on charges of conspiracy to wreck the electrical machinery of the district's power plant at Lockport. It is said they fed iron clippings, filings, and other pieces of junk into the machinery, but what their motive was in damaging the machinery was not learned.

The two boys had been working in the power house for a month.

State's Attorney Heise of Joliet believes they did the damage in order to make work for themselves.

WORLD RACERS LOST IN CITY

Chicago Baffles Frenchmen, Who Conquer "Polar Indiana."

EXPECT VICTORY IN CONTEST

Moto Bloc Men Say American Auto Will Lose Out in Siberia.

The three French drivers of the Moto Bloc automobile, who survived "the ravages" of the "hoosiers" and expect to pick their way across Alaskan glaciers and Siberian steppes with experience in the New York to Paris race, were lost for the first time yesterday afternoon just after they had crossed the city limits of Chicago.

Several cars had been sent out by the automobile club to meet the Frenchmen at Jackson park. After reaching the park the racers got off the track and missed the escort entirely. Becoming hopelessly lost, the car was piloted about promiscuously on the south side until it ran across an automobilist on Garfield boulevard, who showed the way to the Chicago Automobile club. The French car arrived there at 3:20 p. m., and the three escort cars reached the clubhouse fifteen minutes later.

Frenchmen Charge Extortion.

The Frenchmen asserted the Indiana farmers and townsmen had relieved them of everything except their ambition and appetites. Without taking time to change their togs, they were shown to the dining room on the third floor, where they ate enough for thrice their number. They then went to their rooms, shaved the week old beards from their faces and donned new raiment.

It was "ladies' afternoon" at the club. A hundred women discontinued their six handed euchre game long enough to give the Frenchmen an enthusiastic welcome.

Charles Godard, who was in charge of the car, is an experienced hand, having participated in the Pekin to Paris race a few years ago. His companions were Arthur Hue, Maurice Livier, and Henry Ziemer of Michigan City, who piloted the racers from that town to Chicago.

"I certainly had my hands full," said Ziemer, who also acted as pilot for two of the three cars that arrived here last week. "The Frenchmen couldn't talk a word of English, and I don't know a word of French. I just had to make motions."

"Those Indiana people are like a pack of wolves," said Mr. Godard through an interpreter. "They not only held us up for all the money they could, and then set a constable on us, but stole every loose automobile part.

"One hotel man at New Carlisle, Ind., tried to make us pay $5 a night. There were six in the party and three of us had to sleep on the floor. Some of his townsmen came to our rescue, and he cut the bill to $2.50. No one ever paid more than a dollar a night there before.

Lose Equipment; Buy New Stuff.

"We put the machine in a livery stable in Wauwaka for the night and saw the place locked up. Next morning our Winchester rifle, moving picture machine, camera, and most of the tools were gone. But the barn door was still locked.

"Some fellows offered to tote our machine through the snow to Michigan City for 60 cents a mile. The bill came to $30. They wanted $125. We objected, and they got a constable, with whom we 'compromised' for $79."

The tourists got a new set of equipments, including a $200 moving picture machine, here. Mr. Godard says he will win the race.

"The American car has made a good showing, but it can't make one after it gets into Siberia. It isn't equipped for that climate," said Mr. Godard.

The Frenchmen ate dinner Monday evening with the German drivers, whose car was then mostly in pieces in Chestertown, Ia. The steering gear was badly crippled.

The men will not ride farther than Chicago. The auto rules call for the drivers to ship cars to Seattle not later than March 5 in order that they can sail, along with the other cars, from San Francisco on March 10.

Denies Hansen's Charges.

The controversy which arose between Col. Hansen, the Norwegian, and Bourcier St. Chaffray of the French car that left several days ago, and which resulted in Hansen leaving the race, seems to be unsettled still. In regard to affidavits made by Hansen while here St. Chaffray sent this telegram yesterday from Cedar Rapids, Ia.:

"After reading the dreaming stories of Col. Hansen published in your paper I ask you kindly to print my flat denial."

PRIMARIES TODAY; DEMOCRATS VOTE.

Contests for Nominations in Seven Wards, Others Having Little Interest.

VOTERS' LEAGUE SPEAKS.

Reminds People This Is the Last Chance "Selfish Interests" Will Have.

Contests for democratic aldermanic nominations are limited to about seven wards in the primaries which will be held today. In the other wards the nominations will go by general consent, general apathy, weight of superior numbers, or by impressment, according to the political character of the districts.

The polls will be open from noon until 7 p. m., but in most of the wards the vote will be only a ratification of the ward leader's choice or of the ward organization's indorsement. In some cases in which ordinary republican majorities make democratic success almost hopeless the candidates will not be known until the conventions are held and men "pressed into service." Conventions will be held in the Thirteenth, Seventeenth, and Nineteenth wards tonight.

Hard Contest in the Fourth.

In the Fourth ward the politicians are picking Ald. John A. Richert to defeat ex-Ald. James Dailey, in spite of the latter's admitted strength as a primary fighter.

In the Fifth ward Ald. James J. McCormick, who is opposed by Patrick Carr, finds nearly all the democratic factional leaders lined up against him. He has been telling his auditors that they now have the grand chance of their lives to give the whole "outfit" one good blow and knock them all down.

Ald. Peter L. Hoffman and John F. Joyce will settle a little difference of opinion in the Eleventh ward, and Ald. D. M. Dougherty and James F. Kane will settle one in the Twenty-second.

In the Twenty-third ward Ald. M. J. Jacobs is being made to work by a hard fight with John Haderlein.

The Twenty-seventh ward democrats are in a quandary, but Peter Bartzen may be taken as a "compromise" candidate. Bartzen is willing. In the Twenty-ninth ward Joseph Swift and James O'Donnell have ambitions, as have one or two other democrats.

A contest was promised in the Fourteenth ward, but it is said that Ald. William T. Maypole will be renominated without much difficulty, in spite of the fact that he is not in the good graces of the Municipal Voters' league.

Voters' League Bulletin.

The league issued a special bulletin yesterday, treating the situation in some of the contested wards both with regard to the democratic primaries today and the republican primaries on Friday. The report follows:

TO THE VOTERS: The democratic primaries for the nomination of aldermanic candidates to be held on Wednesday, March 4, and the republican primaries to be held on Friday, March 6, will be the last under the present system. The new primary law goes into effect July 1 next, and thereafter nominations will be made directly by the people. At this primary, however, the voters should take care that selfish interests do not seize what is possibly their last opportunity to control the situation and nominate their own men. It would be unfortunate if the primaries to be held this week should be allowed to go by default and the less desirable candidates be permitted to win through the mere failure of citizens to vote in cases where there are contests that call for their participation.

In many wards there are no contests, and in others the issues are not clearly defined. The Municipal Voters' league calls attention to the following situations where, by proper activity, public spirited citizens can effect results:

Urges Defeat of Dailey.

FOURTH WARD—Democratic Primaries—Vote for Richert.—The league has already dealt with the Fourth ward situation in a special bulletin. The defeat of Dailey, who is unfit, and the nomination of Richert at the democratic primaries is earnestly urged.

FIFTH WARD—Democratic Primaries—Vote for Carr to defeat McCormick.—James J. McCormick, the outgoing alderman, is a candidate for renomination at the democratic primaries. His council record is bad. To defeat McCormick democrats are urged to vote for Patrick J. Carr.

EIGHTH WARD—Republican Primaries—Defeat Jones.—There are three avowed candidates for the republican nomination in the Eighth ward, with the possibility of some dark horse. One of the avowed candidates is John H. Jones, former alderman. Prior to his defeat for reelection two years ago the league was obliged to criticise Ald. Jones for his connection with the Illinois Improvement and Ballast company, which took contracts for city work and furnished material for street improvements. As the league then stated, it is contrary to law and sound public policy for an alderman to be thus interested in city contracts. No man can serve two masters.

Objects to Charles J. Lucas.

FOURTEENTH WARD—The Republican Situation.—No contest is expected at the republican primaries. The nominating convention presumably will be controlled by the regular organization leaders, and it is said to be the purpose to nominate Charles J. Lucas to make the fight against Maypole. The league finds little in favor of Mr. Lucas. He belongs to the mediocre type. The need is for men of superior fitness. Chris B. Skallerup, a commission merchant, is of the type of men whose services are especially needed in the city council. Mr. Skallerup does not intend to make a fight at the primaries, but he would accept the nomination if it could be secured for him and would then make an aggressive fight for election.

TWENTY-SECOND WARD—Democratic Primaries—Vote for Kane to Defeat Dougherty.—Michael Dougherty, who is seeking renomination at the democratic primaries, deserves defeat. His votes and attitude in the gas, oil, and electric light committee and on other occasions show a disregard of public interests. His opponent is James F. Kane. Kane was born and brought up in the ward. He is president of the Union of Marble Setters' Helpers. He is a young man of limited experience, but he bears a good personal reputation and should be nominated in preference to Dougherty.

Prefer Krumholz to Haderlein.

TWENTY-FOURTH WARD—Democratic Primaries—Vote for Krumholz.—August Krumholz, the outgoing alderman, is certainly to be preferred to John Haderlein. When Haderlein was a candidate for alderman last year against Hahne the league said that he had been in the past "a political ally of 'Bobby' Burke; unfit for office."

THIRTY-SECOND WARD—The Republican Situation.—In the Thirty-second ward the party leaders and public spirited citizens have united to secure the republican nomination for Homer E. Tinsman, a lawyer of standing, in opposition to Joseph Badenoch, the outgoing alderman. It is reported that Ald. Badenoch will not make a contest at the primaries, but instead will appeal to the voters on election day as an independent candidate. Badenoch was criticised in the preliminary report of the league as one of the aldermen who have helped to discredit the committee on gas, oil, and electric light, and his defeat was urged. In case a contest should develop at the primaries, the league strongly urges the republican voters to give their support to Tinsman in preference to Badenoch. Tinsman is particularly well qualified for office.

YATES HITS DENEEN METHODS

Candidate Aroused by Letter of "Namesake Committeeman."

NEW CONTESTANT IN FIELD?

Representative Charles Adkins Urged to Seek Nomination.

Richard Yates continues his protest against the organization campaign of Gov. Charles S. Deneen by making public some letters received by him from committeemen in counties which have joined the Deneen column by committee indorsement.

In Effingham county, the committee of which indorsed the governor, it is charged the committeemen found themselves the guest of some one, not mentioned, that their dinners had been paid for, and that the resolutions indorsing the governor had been printed in advance.

Yates' Namesake Writes.

"As a member of the committee from West township," E. S. Yates wrote to the former governor, "and having led the fight against the passing of the resolutions, I am prompted to write you an account of what actually happened.

"In the first place, there was not a full attendance, only seventeen members out of twenty-one being present and only eleven votes were recorded in favor of indorsing, five votes being against and one refusing to vote.

"I will also say that three of the eleven votes were cast by Postmasters Austin, Faulk, and Gibson. Game Warden Bartels was another who voted for the resolutions. However, they were so badly mutilated and changed before we got through with them that they hardly amounted to anything."

Mr. Yates' comment on the tidings sent him by Committeeman Yates is:

"If I were nominated at the general primary election as the result of the 'stampede' created in my favor on primary day by such methods as were practiced in Effingham county I would not expect to be elected—I would not give 10 cents for the nomination."

Brand New Candidate.

From down state there comes a report that a brand new candidate for the republican nomination for governor is "sprouting." He is Representative Charles Adkins, a farmer of Bement, Piatt county. His admirers are urging him into the contest by telling him that he is the only man in sight who has the qualities which should be possessed by the governor.

They tell him that he will be specially strong in all farming communities because of his attempt last spring to secure the passage of a reciprocal demurrage bill by the legislature.

Plan Taft Campaign.

The executive committee of the Chicago Taft club at a meeting at noon in the Great Northern hotel discussed plans for the opening of the "Taft for second choice" campaign, with a number of downtown noonday meetings. Plans for extending the branch organizations into all the wards also were considered.

The Taft supporters receive encouragement when an occasional county committee or county convention declares for the secretary of war in preference to Speaker Cannon. The last indorsement of this character came from Knox county.

The local Taft men are encouraged to believe that in spite of the intention not to try to deprive Cannon of a complimentary vote there will be some national delegates instructed for the Ohio candidate for the first ballot.

At the meeting of the executive committee resolutions were passed declaring it the purpose of the organization to secure the election of men who favor Taft as delegates from the Cook county districts.

SCHOOLS JOIN WAR ON SMOKE.

Board of Education and Representatives of City Inspection Department Reach Agreement.

A "peace conference" between representatives of the city smoke inspection department and the board of education was held yesterday at the school board rooms. Repeated assertions in regard to violations of the smoke ordinance have been made by Smoke Inspector Paul Bird. It was reported all differences between the two departments have disappeared.

Hungry As a Bear and Can't Eat

If, When Mealtime Comes, You Suffer From a Yes-Not Kind of Hunger, You're a Dyspeptic

How to Cure All Stomach Troubles

A good many people get mad when you tell them they've got dyspepsia, but way down deep in their stomachs they know they've got it.

"I'd love to eat it, but I can't," is one kind of dyspepsia.

"I hate to think of it," is another kind. There are thousands of people today who hate their meals and love them at the same time. They haven't that fine dimpty-hungry eat-everything-in-sight kind of feeling which goes with every good strong healthy stomach. That's because they have dyspepsia. And then there are others whose mouths don't water at meal time or at any other time. They sit at the table and go through the motions only because it is time to eat. These people, too, are dyspeptics.

Every possible kind of stomach trouble can be cured by taking something which will just take right hold of all the food in your stomach and digest it alone without the help of the stomach, and let the stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. They are composed of the best digestive known to science, and are absolutely safe. One ingredient alone of one of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food! These tablets do exactly the work that a good strong healthy stomach does.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, burning or irritation, loss of appetite, bloat, brash, belching, aversion to food, fermentation and gas on the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will make you feel "good" before and after each meal, and make your stomach strong and healthy again. They will make you happy.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 180 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

GIBES PRESIDENT; SCOLDED BY TAFT.

Simeon Ford's Jokes Bring Public Rebuke During a Banquet in Boston.

CHILL TO DINERS' SPIRITS

Secretary Surprises All When He Resents Even Praise for Himself.

Boston, Mass., March 3.—[Special.]—Simeon Ford's jokes on the strenuosity of the president fell on barren ground tonight when they were uttered in the hearing of Secretary of War Taft. As a result the candidate to succeed Roosevelt put a damper over the feelings of 500 business men of Boston when he publicly rebuked the speaker for his utterances.

The New York joker preceded Mr. Taft as speaker at the annual banquet of the Boston real estate and auction board. He was in good fettle and the good natured gibes he shot at the president pleased all except the secretary of war, and this in spite of the fact he came in for a good share of praise himself.

The shafts aimed at the president to which the secretary took umbrage were as follows:

"When I read the last stirring collection of expletives of which the president relieved himself [the one in which he makes a noise like a third term], its lofty patriotism fired me with enthusiasm. But the next morning, when I went into the bank to borrow some money on my Southern Pacific stock, I was again 'fired' with enthusiasm.

"I dote on lofty sentiments, but I hate to see my cash drawer so 'décolleté' all the time, and I love to see the millionaires writhe, but I am a mighty poor writer myself.

Remedy in Heir Apparent.

"I won't venture to say what has brought about the present condition of business depression, but I realize that the times are out of joint, and that something must be done.

"Perhaps we have our remedy right here—the heir apparent to the throne. I wonder if this big, calm, wholesome, sane guest of ours, taken steadily for four years, would not put us on our feet again. I never saw him before, but I've been looking him over, and he seems to size up all right. He looks to me like a good all 'round man, who could hold down any job, no matter how big.

"I think he could fill anything—even a bobtail. Perhaps, like the whale which swallowed Jonah, he could even fill an interior. He has sat on the bench—no end of benches—but none of them could hold him. He's too heavy for the bench, and there's only one chair big enough for him and he holds the coupon for that, I guess.

Two Bills, One Counterfeit.

"It looks now as if next November we'll have to choose between two Williams—William Taft and William Bryan. A genuine bill and a counterfeit.

"If the election were to take place tomorrow I think all the republicans over my way would vote the democratic ticket and all the democrats the republican ticket."

When Mr. Taft was introduced, a few minutes afterward, there was astonishment on the faces of practically all present as he began in a solemn manner to comment on Mr. Ford's joking remarks in a manner to show that he regarded them, as he stated, as a reflection on "my chief."

"I am put in an embarrassing position," said the secretary. "If I could feel that what the last speaker said was mere pleasantry and humor, whether it be cast at my chief or at myself, I think we are both men enough to stand it without the slightest trouble. But, gentlemen, I ask you to consider my position. If those remarks were intended for another purpose every impulse of loyalty in me requires me to answer them.

Fears Attack in Jests.

"Now, I don't like to put myself in an attitude of breaking in on the generous hospitality of a delightful association like this, but when I love a chief and when I am loyal to him, and when I admire him from top to toe, I cannot be silent to permit to be supposed that I sympathize with what may be hidden in a jest.

"I do not mean to say that we are not all subject to ridicule. If we did not have humor in American life, if we could not stand the jolts of what occurs to us all, and if I could not enjoy a joke on myself, I would retire to a monastery. I am trying to make a distinction, gentlemen, and I hope it is good."

Abandoning his rebuke of Ford as shortly as he had begun it, Mr. Taft then took up the subject of the "open door and trade with China."

Earlier in the afternoon Mr. Taft talked on the questions of the day at the banquet of the Massachusetts Republican club and was given the organization's indorsement as presidential candidate.

POLITICAL NOTES BY WIRE.

MONTPELIER, VT.—Returns from the 236 towns throughout the state show that twenty-nine towns voted for license this year, against thirty-three last year. One city of the large class, Burlington, swung from no license to license, but Barre and St. Albans changed from "wet" to "dry."

TERRE HAUTE, IND.—Congressman James Watson, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, answered the charges that he had supported legislation in opposition to the will of workingmen.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Republicans of the first congressional district indorsed Cannon for president and instructed their two delegates to support him at the Chicago convention.

POWDER BLOWS UP A TRAIN; TWO MEN SEVERELY INJURED.

Explosion in Center of Freight on Big Four Road Near Litchfield Wrecks Entire Train and Is Felt for Miles.

Litchfield, Ill., March 3.—A cargo of powder carried by a Big Four freight train exploded today while the train was running at full speed two miles from here. Two men were seriously injured. The train was wrecked and several cars were burned. The concussion shattered windows for many miles.

The freight train left Litchfield after having been inspected by the crew, and no hot boxes were reported. Two cars filled with powder were in the middle of the train. Ten minutes after leaving here, at a sharp curve, the cars containing the powder were blown high into the air and the whole train was instantly wrecked. Cars were blown fifty feet from the track and débris was scattered over twenty acres of ground.

The two men who were injured were riding in a car some distance from the middle of the train. They are Lloyd Gaw of San Antonio, Tex., severely injured about the head, and Paul S. Dougherty of Paxton, Ill., injured internally. The latter carries an honorable discharge from the United States navy. They were brought to St. Francis' hospital here.

FORAKER ROUT IS COMPLETE

State Convention Sounds Knell of Senator's Machine.

HARRIS SURE OF NOMINATION

Will Be Picked by Acclamation for the Governorship.

Columbus, O., March 3.—[Special.]—Every vestige of the old Foraker-Dick machine in the republican state organization was swept away this afternoon when the delegates to the state convention assembled by districts for the selection of members of the state central and other committees prior to the formal opening of the convention.

The Taft-Roosevelt forces were in absolute control. Neither Foraker nor Dick is here, and not one of the members of the old state central committee who voted at the behest of Senators Foraker and Dick against the indorsement of Secretary Taft for the presidential nomination was reelected.

At a meeting of the committee held after the adjournment of the convention Walter F. Brown of Toledo was reelected chairman and Malcolm Karshner of Columbus secretary.

The committee on permanent organization decided tonight to report in favor of Attorney General Wade H. Ellis for permanent chairman.

The pictures of Senators Foraker and Dick were hung in the convention hall, but where few could see them, and the platform which will be presented tomorrow has in it tonight a plank commending the "Ohio representatives in congress," without, however, mentioning any of them by name. At the same time another plank which is also in the platform tonight strongly indorses the passage of the railway rate bill, against which Senator Foraker fought so vigorously on the floor of the United States senate.

The convention was called to order by Chairman Walter Brown of the state central committee, who introduced the Rev. S. S. Palmer, who made a short prayer.

The Columbus Republican Glee club then sang several selections, the most popular of which with the convention seemed to be "The Star Spangled Banner" and "We're Wearing Our Hearts Away for You, Billy Taft."

When the glee club retired from the rostrum Chairman Brown announced that the temporary organization of the convention would be: Chairman, James R. Garfield, secretary of the interior; secretary R. M. Switzer.

Taft Men in Control.

When the secretary had concluded his speech, the various districts presented the names of the committeemen who had been selected at the caucuses held just prior to the opening of the convention, and it was then made manifest that the Foraker influence had disappeared from the state central committee.

A short session of the resolutions committee was held after the adjournment of the convention, and it then met a second time to prepare the platform.

It is not expected that it will differ in any material respect from the outline already given. There will be no change in any of the matters of national importance, and but few if any alterations are expected in those planks which relate to state issues.

For the head of the ticket Gov. Andrew L. Harris will be nominated by acclamation. He is highly popular with the delegates and every mention of his name today called forth enthusiastic cheers.

There will be no contest for the delegates at large to the republican national convention, and Gov. Harris, A. I. Vorys, Charles P. Taft, and Myron T. Herricks will be chosen.

For secretary of state, Carmel A. Thompson of Ironton will be named by acclamation.

Kansas to Pick Taft Men Today.

Topeka, Kas., March 3.—The republican state convention will meet here tomorrow at noon to choose four delegates at large to the national republican convention.

United States Senators Chester I. Long and Charles Curtis will have places on the delegation unopposed, it is said tonight. The delegation will be instructed for Taft by unanimous vote.

SEEK RICH MATES; FIND EXPERIENCE

Three Men and as Many Women Tell Grand Jury of Their Disappointment.

ACCUSE MRS. JENNIE SCOTT

Evidence Said to Be Similar to That Produced Against Marian Grey.

Half a dozen patrons of the mail order soul mating concern of Mrs. Jennie Scott, 241 Thirty-first street, sat smiling consolingly at one another yesterday afternoon outside the grand jury room on the eighth floor of the federal building.

Three of them were women and three were men. They took turns relating to the grand jury their experiences of invoking Cupid through the matrimonial bureau. The women endeavored to describe the heart throbs caused by the receipt of "his picture" and how willingly they reimbursed Mrs. Scott financially; how disappointment succeeded these heart throbs when they found that they had paid $2 each not for the "wealthy man of good habits who wants a home loving wife" but for no husband at all.

Out of Matrimonial Race.

"I'm out of the race," remarked Harrison Miller of Clarion, O. "I thought I was coming in on the homestretch for a winner when I got that literature from Mrs. Glynn (Mrs. Scott's alias). Once before I got almost under the wire when another fellow butted in and won the prize. I'm out of the race."

Mr. Miller's vernacular is explained by the fact that he is a horse trader. He attracted considerable attention about the federal building. He wears his heavy raven black hair down to his shoulders, a broad rimmed black hat, and boots with heels two inches high inside his peg topped trousers. He is ruddy faced and about 32 years old.

Another witness who didn't care who knows that he is on a still hunt for a wife was Philip Chandler of McAlester, Okla., 35 years old, a coal miner.

Still Looking for Rich Wife.

"I bit, and I will admit it," said the coal miner. "It looked good to me—a millionaire wife for $5, so I forwarded the 'V.' But I am still looking for the millionaire wife. I've got her picture—that is, one that the agency sent me. They tell me a lot of other fellows got the same picture, so I reckon that some other fellow has her before this.

"I never would have harped on the Cupid bureau only the federal officials got my name, and sent for me. Gee, I'm having the time of my life, and it's better pay than coal mining, too."

Mr. Chandler wore a rough rider hat of black felt, a soft shirt and stand up collar, and his "Sunday best" clothes. He was good natured, and between puffs at his pipe stole glances at the bench across the hall. He said none of "those present" corresponded to "her" photo.

"We promised the grand jury not to tell what we told them," said one of the feminine witnesses after leaving the jury room. "I hope this will not get into the newspapers."

Still Has Same Old Name.

"My name?" she continued, a smile tightening her angular countenance. "Well, it's never been changed. I guess that's enough," indicating that it had been the same for some thirty-eight summers.

The case is said to be similar to the Marian Grey case. The case was presented to the grand jury by Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Childs. Deputy Inspectors Frank F. Sharon and Albert E. Germer from Inspector Stuart's office, gathered the evidence. Letters are being received daily from former patrons of the agency, which was known to them as "Glenn's International Correspondence club."

The inspectors also have gathered evidence against some half a dozen other Cupid concerns which will be presented to the grand jury.

"Some of these have started up since Marian Grey was convicted," said an official interested in the case. "In most instances the concerns are in women's names. One is run by husband and wife, who were affected by the business depression and saw profits in mate making."

AGREE ON TUBE FRANCHISE

Council Committee and Corporation Reach a Compromise.

NO REVERSION OF EXTENSION

Present Conduits Must Be Bought of City When Time Expires.

The council judiciary committee agreed yesterday to recommend for passage an amended form of the postal pneumatic tube ordinance, which the company is willing to accept, and under which it thinks it can finance the extensions of its system.

The company now has nine miles of tubes in Chicago, which carry mail from the substations to the general postoffice. Their operation has proven satisfactory in saving both time and cost, and the desire is to extend the system to something like eighty miles. But when it came to raising money the company ran into a snag in its ordinance. This provides that at its expiration, fifteen years from now, the property of the company shall revert to the city, and nobody would buy any bonds under these conditions. So the company asked that this clause be stricken out.

Terms of Compromise.

It has been before the committee for months, a source of constant argument, but the agreement finally reached is:

"That the reversion clause stand as far as the nine miles already built go, but be stricken out as to all tubes which may be laid in the future.

"That at the end of the franchise the company be allowed to buy from the city, 'at an appraised valuation,' the nine miles which will then become city property, conditioned on the city then giving the company a new franchise."

The dispute in the committee was what the company should pay for these nine miles at the end of the term. The aldermen insisted the tubes must be regarded as part of a going concern and not so much metal, and that view was finally accepted.

Doubt Authority Over Tax Boards.

The judiciary committee has authorized Ald. Kruger of the Fifteenth ward to go ahead and investigate the doings of the county board of assessors and the board of review if he can. That is to say, it has given him permission to ask the corporation counsel whether the city council has any authority to interfere with those two boards in the making of assessments.

Mr. Brundage was not ready yesterday to say whether the council could take any hand in the matter or not.

Ald. Kruger's resolution presented to the council and referred to the committee recited there were many complaints that the assessing boards had favored the rich.

Railway Man Blames Passengers for Insanitary Condition of Cars.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, March 3.

Mayor McClellan and Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, met today for the first time since they parted company just after the election in 1906.

Mayor Meets Murphy; Grins Break the Ice.

The mayor went to the Hardware club about 1 o'clock for luncheon. A few minutes later Murphy strolled into the dining room and was conducted by a waiter to a table opposite McClellan's.

As Murphy was about to sit down his eyes met those of the mayor. After a momentary hesitation Murphy nodded to the mayor, who returned the nod. Both grinned. Then Murphy stepped toward the mayor's table, just as the mayor rose and advanced toward Murphy. They shook hands.

McClellan said: "I don't think you have ordered your luncheon yet. Won't you eat with me?"

The invitation was accepted.

T. W. Whitridge, receiver for the Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery railroad, in answer to a complaint of the board of aldermen, wrote as follows: "I trust the honorable board of aldermen will consider that the unclean, unhealthy, and menacing conditions of which they complain are largely caused by the personal habits and insanitary conditions and manners of the people carried in the cars. I should be happy to coöperate with them in any device they may suggest, including free baths on our routes, for remedying these conditions.

Ald. Dowling declared the letter an insult to the board. It was placed on file.

Is it wicked for ministers to kiss pretty girls in their congregations?

Bishop Defends, Pastor Scores, "Parson Kissing."

This question was aroused by the announcement of Bishop Olmsted of the Episcopal diocese of New York that he will preach a sermon defending the Rev. E. Warren Saphore, the kissing pastor of Syracuse, for attempting to caress the lips of a charming member of his flock.

"I won't criticise the stand Bishop Olmsted has taken in coming to the aid of the Rev. Mr. Saphore," said Dr. Robert S. MacArthur of Calvary Baptist church today, "but I will say that any pastor who takes advantage of his position as a servant of the Lord to practice intimacies with women of his congregation is contemptible."

"What about the bishop's statement that scores of ministers go about kissing elderly female members of their congregations at every opportunity?" Dr. MacArthur was asked.

"I am not acquainted with any such men," was the reply. "I have had wide experience as a minister for thirty-eight years. In all that time I never have known a pastor who made a practice of extorting kisses from the women of his congregation. I do not believe the average minister does that sort of thing. There may be some who occasionally kiss the elderly women of their flocks. That is not so bad as kissing the young women. Such a practice, however, is the height of indiscretion. I do not even approve of pastors kissing brides after performing the marriage ceremony!"

Riding his motor cycle at seventy miles an hour in the chase of a lawbreaking auto, Bicycle Policeman Luke Grace dashed into the gates of the Long Island railroad crossing at Jamaica and was hurled over the locomotive of the Montauk express and fell on the other side of the double tracks. He struck just as the train swept past the crossing and was but slightly hurt.

Bicycle Cop Hurled Over Express Engine.

A ninety horse power machine was being driven by a demonstrating chauffeur and in the tonneau sat a prospective purchaser.

Policeman Grace saw the auto doing its sixty miles and started in pursuit. The chase lasted for miles. Then suddenly loomed ahead the Merrick crossing.

The gates descended. The chauffeur plunged down his brakes, caromed off into the ditch and thudded up against the embankment less than five yards from the tracks. Grace saw his danger too late. His machine hit the gates and broke them, but Grace, just as the express flashed by, cleared the smokestack of the engine by three feet.

Although Dr. Otto Schultze testified at the inquest today that an autopsy he made proved that Gerolano Cella, a wealthy importer, was murdered, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that he came to his death by his own hand. Cella was found dead in his office in West Broadway on Feb. 28. His head had been battered with a hammer and his mouth burned by sulphuric acid.

Coroner's Jury Says Cella Killed Himself.

In the room the police found a letter in Cella's handwriting in which he said he could not live longer under the conditions which prevailed in his home, and had determined to end his life. The coroner decided the injuries on his body could not have been self-inflicted and directed that Cella's brother, Dominteo, and his stepson, Cesare Bianchi, be held as witnesses pending investigation. They were discharged when the jury returned its verdict.

At the last meeting of the Woman's Peace Circle several women denounced President Roosevelt for his support of rifle shooting for boys. They said the practice was a menace to the country, as it did much to make the boys desire war, when the schools should teach them a love of peace. Boys' clubs connected with churches and the teaching therein of military drill came in for their share of the denunciation of the speakers. Some of them objected to allowing little children to play with toy soldiers on the theory that such playthings tended to inculcate in children a love of war.

GET TOGETHER ON THE CONGO

Leopold and Government Have Reached an Agreement.

KING TO GIVE UP ESTATE.

Treasury to Pay Ruler $600,000 Annually for Six Years.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BRUSSELS, March 3.—The government has reached a complete agreement with King Leopold as to the Congo Independent state on the basis of the convention of 1890. In addition to the treaty of annexation, Premier Schollaert has obtained important concessions from the king.

The treasury has agreed to pay King Leopold $600,000 annually for fifteen years, to be expended exclusively for hospitals and other institutions in the Congo. The king is to surrender to Belgium his estate at Cape Fenat, France, including the villa of Polonais, but will retain the use of them during his lifetime.

A fund of $12,000,000 is to be created to carry out the plan for public works, including colonial museum schools, completion of the works at Laeken, and improvements at Ostend. One of the greatest concessions wrung from the king is the transfer of the control of the Congo budget to parliament, which also appoints a majority of the colonial council.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 3.—The entire town of Dubno, which has 13,000 inhabitants, has been sold by the owner, Countess Shuvalovo, to Count Offendorf, an Austrian, for $2,000,000. The transfer includes the site of the Russian fortress at Dubno.

This town is one of several in Russian Poland that has been held under the ownership of a single individual since the old feudal days. It was founded in the tenth century and was once owned by a king of Poland.

HYPNOTIZED BY WOMAN, KILLS

Slayer of German Officer Under Influence of Latter's Wife.

DEATH PLOT OFTEN MADE.

Prisoner Commits Suicide and Companion Is Placed in an Asylum.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, March 3.—Baron von Schrenck-Notzing, the alienist, declares Capt. von Goeben, who committed suicide yesterday while awaiting court martial for the murder of Maj. von Schoenbeck, was not insane, but under some hypnotic influence. Capt. Goeben had declared Mrs. von Schoenbeck had bewitched him. She has been committed to an asylum.

In order to determine the condition of the captain's sanity the alienist spent four days with him in prison. He says Von Goeben was mentally sound, but in a condition of complete infatuation with Mrs. von Schoenbeck.

Continuing his report, the alienist says Von Goeben was so sensitive to hypnotic suggestion that he acted through suggestion, his normal mental powers being partially in suspense.

Confession of the Murderer.

In the course of his confession, which was sworn to, Von Goeben said:

"My country, my mother, my friends, all, I would have cheerfully betrayed could I have but exchanged them for this witch who made me swear, beneath the twinkling branches of her children's Christmas tree, that I would kill their father that night."

Although he knew from her own lips that she had led a reckless life, Von Goeben said:

"I regarded her as something pure and sacred. I believed blindly in anything she said. When I think back I cannot comprehend how I credited it all. The woman must have exercised a sort of mesmerism over me, for I would have unresistingly and unhesitatingly committed the greatest crime for her. I never had the slightest pangs of conscience and I honored her as a goddess."

Murder Plot Often Discussed.

The woman constantly complained of her husband's ill treatment, and Von Goeben resolved to free her. They discussed the means of getting rid of him, and at one time decided that the wife should poison him. In his confession, Von Goeben added:

"I bought her enough arsenic to poison 200 persons, but her courage failed."

Other means were discussed, until, when Christmas came, Von Goeben was Von Schoenbeck's guest. During the latter's absence from the room, Frau von Schoenbeck made Von Goeben swear he would kill her husband. Von Goeben said:

"I cheerfully made that oath."

With the wife's connivance he reëntered the house after leaving by an open window three hours after midnight. Maj. von Schoenbeck, disturbed by the noise, met the intruder with his revolver, but before he could fire Von Goeben shot him squarely in the middle of the forehead, killing him instantly.

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH A CONVERT TO SOCIALISM?

Rumor in London Says Member of Vanderbilt Family Soon Will Join Social Democratic Federation.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 3.—The duchess of Marlborough has become deeply interested in the theories of socialism and leaders of the social democratic federation hope to add her name to their organization soon, is the rumor about the young duchess, who was Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York.

The report adds that since the duchess has been studying the terrible conditions of the poor in the east end of London she has been studying, too, various proposals and theories for the amelioration of those conditions.

While discussing the problems of poverty with her friends recently the duchess startled them often by advocating advanced socialistic doctrines. She praised theories whose practical application would subvert society—in the broadest sense of the word—as now constituted, would destroy great accumulated wealth and would overturn the high caste into which the duchess entered by her marriage.

Six days of good temper in every box of Cascarets. Six days when you feel at your best; no headache, no dullness. Are they worth ten cents?

It is folly to talk of the "laxative habit."

The habit lies in eating the wrong sort of food, and too much of it. And in getting too little exercise.

While you do that, you must give the necessary help to the bowels in some other way.

Else there is always a penalty.

Here is the way to avoid it:

Eat coarse food in moderation. Eat plenty of fruit, many green vegetables. Drink no alcohol. Walk ten miles per day.

Those are Nature's ways for keeping the bowels active.

The next best way is Cascarets.

Cascarets, better than anything else, supply the place of laxative foods and of exercise.

They do what right living would do. And they do it just as gently, just as naturally. They are vegetable.

You'll need them just as long as you live in-doors, and eat rich foods; and no longer.

Take them as you take food—when you need it. Carry a box in your pocket, and take one Cascaret at a time. That's better than to suffer and wait.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and

GRAIN EXCHANGES FIGHT INSPECTION

"Open Season" for Protests Aimed at Gronna Bill Begins in Washington.

'FUTURES' AID TO NATION.

Members of Chicago Board of Trade Say Law Against Trading Would Be Costly.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—[Special.]—The open season for protest and commendation concerning Representative Gronna's bill for federal inspection and grading of grain entering into interstate commerce was declared today by the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

A hearing was started which will last two days and will allow time to the boards of trade, commercial associations, and grain exchanges throughout the country to deliver their views to the committee. The views of these associations are unanimously against the bill.

There is a committee from the Chicago board of trade, headed by its president, H. M. Sager, in Washington. Its arrival simultaneously with the opening of hearings on the grain inspection bill gave rise to the belief that its members had come for the purpose of registering the protest of the Chicago board of trade with the rest.

Mr. Sager and his companions, who are B. A. Eckhart, B. B. Bryant, and William S. Warren, however, assert that they came to Washington on an entirely different errand.

Bills having in view the impairment of the system of selling grain for future delivery, it seems, are of far more importance to the Chicago board of trade at present than the bill for the federal inspection of grain.

Plan Fought and Upheld.

The house committee today heard the protests of representatives of the Boston chamber of commerce, the commercial exchange of Philadelphia, the Buffalo chamber of commerce, and other organizations, against the Gronna bill.

The representatives of other organizations are slated to talk tomorrow, but as near as it can be learned the Chicago board of trade is not among them.

Mr. Eckhart said this evening that there was no intention on the part of his committee to take up the grain inspection matter during this visit to Washington.

Representative Gronna of North Dakota appeared before the committee in support of his measure, which provides a uniform system of inspection of grain throughout the country by inspectors under the supervision of the secretary of agriculture, and gives assurance concerning the quality of grain under federal certificates.

Mr. Gronna read communications which have been received from certain bodies which control the sale of grain in Europe, protesting against the present system of inspection, partly public and partly private, and upholding the scheme for federal supervision of the whole matter.

He also cited President Roosevelt's recommendation in his annual message to congress concerning the advisability of a national system for the inspection and grading of grain entering into interstate and foreign commerce as a remedy for the present complex system.

Exchange Men Air Views.

Mr. Eddy, an official of the Boston chamber of commerce, explained the letters of protest which Mr. Gronna had received from the London board by saying that it was the wish of the foreign buyer to buy American grain as he did from the Argentine republic, Russia, and other points, from which he demands that it shall arrive in cool and sweet condition.

"We do not have to sell it in this manner," said Mr. Eddy, "and we will refuse to sell it that way. The only way to insure dry shipment of corn is to dry it before consignment by the use of kilns.

"We will gladly do this if the European buyer will pay the extra price, which amounts to 3 cent a bushel and more."

Representatives of other commercial bodies expressed the general idea that the Gronna measure was one calculated to interfere with private enterprise and to throttle the wholesome competition which now prevails between our different ports.

The representative of the Philadelphia corn exchange was questioned closely by members of the committee as to which person, the producer or consumer, ultimately would have to stand the loss on deteriorated grain shipments.

He asserted that it would primarily fall upon the consumer, but in the long run the producer would feel it on account of the loss of business due to inferior shipments.

He did not admit at first that the exchanges would lose much through the failure of their certificates to give truthful characterization of the grain.

Representative Mann of the committee, however, drove him to admit that the exchanges would probably be losers by saying:

"If you could be real certain about not losing anything you would not have half as much interest in this bill."

Chicago Men Defend "Futures."

The Chicago board of trade men were busy making a call on the secretary of agriculture, before whom they laid their protest against proposed legislation prohibiting the transmission over interstate telegraph and telephone lines of messages relating to options on agricultural products.

They maintained that such legislation would close the great grain and cotton exchanges of the country and drive all speculative buying and selling to the European boards of trade. They also said it would deprive the farmers, live stock raisers, and cotton planters of the immense advantages of the broad, open competitive markets now afforded by the exchanges.

BIG RAIL THEFT CHARGED

Solon Says Mail Roads Robbed People of $70,000,000.

CALLS WEIGHING PLAN BAD.

Lloyd of Missouri Demands Probe of Postoffice Department.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The charge that the railroads of the country carrying mails had robbed the people of $70,000,000 was made in the house of representatives by Mr. Lloyd of Missouri today. He declared the new system of weighing mails was an admission by the postmaster general that the weighing in the last twenty-seven years had been fraudulent.

He demanded to know why suits had not been instituted against the railroads to recover this money. No suits, he said, had been filed, and none suggested.

"I call upon the chairman of the committee that audits and controls the expenses of the postoffice department," he exclaimed, "to investigate that department and ascertain whether there is anything wrong."

Mr. Lloyd, referring to the retirement of Mr. Madden, third assistant postmaster general, and the proposition to drop twenty-two postoffice inspectors, declared they were from the beginning all "marked" men because of their connection in one way or another with the suppression of certain publications.

"We have too much bureaucracy," he declared. "We need more law and less department rule."

VENEZUELA AGAIN DECLINES CASTRO-U. S. ARBITRATION.

Believed That Refusal Makes Diplomacy of No Further Use in Settling Controversies.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Venezuela has again declined to arbitrate the questions between the Castro administration and the American government. The refusal is specific with respect to each of the questions separately, and differs from the last in that the refusal then was made as to all questions en bloc.

It was explained at the state department today that the presentation by Minister Russell of each of the five points in dispute with a request for arbitration leaves no foundation for a future representation by Venezuela that she was not asked to arbitrate the questions separately. This would seem to make it plain that diplomacy can accomplish nothing further toward settling the controversies.

In asking arbitration the American government left open the question of the machinery of arbitration to be employed. The United States would have been glad to have had the controversy go to The Hague. Failing in this, it is believed any other duly appointed tribunal would have been acceptable.

WORK ON CANAL IS BOOMING.

28,414,934 Cubic Yards of Excavation Removed from Ditch Since Government Took Charge.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Up to March 1, 28,414,934 cubic yards of excavation had been taken from the Panama canal route. This is one-fifth of the entire amount estimated on May 1, 1904, that would be required to be excavated to complete the waterway.

Should the work proceed at the present rate it is estimated the remaining excavation would be completed in three years. However, it is understood that the work of excavation will not be pushed to completion, but that meanwhile construction of the locks will proceed, the intention of the commission being to finish all parts of the canal construction at about the same time.

EXPERTS REFUTE CRITICS OF NAVY.

Four Officers Tell Senators Our Ships Equal Any Others in World.

GUNNERY PEER OF BEST.

Sims' Charges Denied and Turret Construction Defended by Witnesses.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Four naval officers, all experts in turret construction and ammunition manufacture, today testified before the senate naval committee in defense of the American navy against all forms of criticism.

Three of the witnesses—Prof. P. R. Alger, former instructor in mathematics at Annapolis and a member of the special board on turrets; Commander F. F. Fletcher and Lieut. Commander V. O. Chase spoke in detail concerning turret accidents and the methods that have been adopted to make turrets safe. None of them seemed to think there was great danger from the direct hoist between the ammunition rooms and turrets.

Prof. Alger defended the navy against the criticism made by Commander Sims, that poor marksmanship was shown at Santiago. He declared American gunnery was as good as that of any navy at that time and also at the present time.

Gunnery of All Navies Better.

Prof. Alger said that since the battle of Santiago there had been "a revival of gunnery," due largely to Commander Sims' campaign for the installation of the telescope sights for big guns. He said the guns were all right at Santiago, but the men had not learned how to shoot them. He asserted, however, that at that time no other navy knew how to shoot.

The finding of foreign substances in sacks of powder put up as charges was explained by the witness, who said "such gross carelessness" was not possible now, because since the appointment of Admiral Converse as chief of the bureau of ordnance a system of inspection had been inaugurated. He had heard of only three instances out of thousands of sacks of powder where foreign matter had been found.

Claims Turrets Are Safe.

Prof. Alger also testified as to the excellence of American turret construction. He described the Missouri accident and said that never again will fire get into the magazines in that manner, for the copper flaps covering the apertures through which powder is passed are always kept in place.

This accident will be explained in full tomorrow by Rear Admiral Cowles, chief of the bureau of equipment, who was in command of the Missouri when the explosion, the worst in the history of the American navy, occurred.

Lieut. Commander Joseph Straus, on duty at the proving ground at Indian Head, today testified as to the cost of government manufacture of powder. The plant at Indian Head turns out 3,500 pounds of powder a day at a cost of about 45 cents a pound. The government pays for powder manufactured at private plants 69 cents a pound.

Indicted for Lumber Frauds.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—The federal grand jury today reported indictments against Henry S. Whitner, George B. Gale, and George M. London of Flat River, Mo., and James A. London Jr. and Gilbert V. Whitner of Leadwood, Mo., on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government out of timber lands in Montgomery county, Ark., by means of bogus entrymen.

PEONAGE INIQUITY FORCED ON STAGE.

ures as to the horrible conditions in Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama, and other states, were widely printed in the foreign press of the United States.

The news then penetrated to the home papers of Italy and Hungary and within the Jewish pale of Russia.

The result has been, unfortunately for the south, that the movement of foreign laborers toward that section has absolutely stopped.

It will not be renewed, in the opinion of those who are studying the situation, until the southern leaders display a much better spirit than they have yet shown.

The attack upon Attorney General Bonaparte and the department of justice made by Mr. Clark of Florida was but little more than what was expected, and yet it did a great amount of harm to the other southern states.

Cases are now pending against the Florida East Coast railroad and its agents both in Florida and in New York City. It has been accused not only of peonage in Florida but of kidnaping in New York, and it is only natural that it should attack the department of justice.

Hitherto the department has proceeded exclusively along legal lines. It has not given out any of its evidence to newspapers, and has not sought to create any sensation.

Proof of Slavery on All Sides.

After having been attacked openly in congress the attorney general and his assistant, Mr. Russell, will be compelled in self-defense to furnish the immigration commission with all the evidence they have accumulated.

There is every reason to believe that the evidence is of a most sensational character. There are dozens upon dozens of cases, involving the managers of some of the largest corporations in the south, which show a condition of actual slavery.

All of this material will now be turned over to the immigration commission, and if the hearing in regard to peonage is public and impartial Attorney General Bonaparte will be in a position to prove a network of cruelty and defiance of law such as has not been known in this country for many a long day.

In his speech in the house yesterday Mr. Clark of Florida unwittingly put his finger on the sore spot which has prevented the complete rooting out of peonage conditions.

He entered into the defense of several persons connected with what is known as "the O'Hara case" in Florida, testimony in which shows a peculiarly aggravated condition of affairs, although no one was convicted.

Clark's "Defense" Omits Facts.

The Florida representative eulogized the foreman of that jury as being one of the largest business men in the state. He omitted to inform the house of representatives that the juryman in question was at the head of a large grocery corporation which supplied most of the commissaries of the very plantations and turpentine camps which were charged with peonage.

The other jurymen, while honest men undoubtedly, were unavoidably influenced by local opinion. They were a part of the network.

All these facts were included in a confidential report to the attorney general made by Assistant Attorney General Russell more than a year ago. That report was furnished in confidence to the committee on rules.

Its contents would never have been made public had not Mr. Clark himself quoted from it yesterday.

Now it will become necessary to furnish the report to the immigration commission, and it will be published in the proceedings of that body.

Much the same condition of affairs exists in regard to the series of reports made by Mrs. Quackenbos, the woman assistant to the attorney general, who has been credited with stirring up most of the agitation on this subject.

Details to Be Made Public.

Her reports, a dozen or so in number, have never been given to the public. They have been treated as confidential by the department and no newspaper correspondent has been permitted to see them or allowed to obtain even a synopsis of their allegations.

Representative Crumpacker of Indiana introduced a resolution in the house calling for the publication of these reports, and yet the department of justice has treated them as confidential hitherto.

Under the resolution passed by the house these Quackenbos reports, which contain an extraordinary amount of detail as to peonage conditions all over the south, and which are supposed to show the ramifications of the conspiracy between corrupt labor agents in New York and unscrupulous employers in the south, will have to be submitted for consideration by a commission.

It is the general understanding in congress now that it will be impossible to conduct a secret investigation. The chances are that the immigration commission will have public hearings and will publish the results.

If there is no peonage this will be the best thing for the south, which needs a new and clean bill of health.

If there is peonage the action of the department of justice will be justified, and no more immigrants will go into the south until white slavery is abolished by local public opinion, which is the only way in which it can be abolished.

A DISTINCTIVE HOTEL

St. Regis Not Only the Finest but the Most Comfortable in New York.

SOME POINTS IN ITS FAVOR

None of New York City's great hotels has been more talked about than the St. Regis, at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Recognized as the finest hostelry in the world, its chief claim to popularity lies in the fact that it offers the largest measure of refined personal comfort at standard prices.

The St. Regis has come to be recognized as the leading living and dining establishment in New York. It is not an experiment, but a well-established necessity in the city's hospitality. It has been tried and tested by thousands, and not found wanting. It represents a superior phase of hotel life and stands unrivaled for comfort and homelikeness. On this subject the London Times, in an article published soon after the St. Regis opened its doors, remarks: "If a great art connoisseur planned to furnish a house so that it would give the highest pleasure and comfort to his intimate personal friends, he could do no more than the St. Regis does for all its guests."

For some unaccountable reason, living at the St. Regis has been considered by many as a luxury beyond their means, and all sorts of foolish and exaggerated reports have been circulated regarding the prices prevailing there. The truth is, that the cost of living at the St. Regis is no greater than at other first class hotels, and, considering its exceptional accommodations and service, it is even less. This is shown by the fact that a beautifully furnished room of large size may be had for $4 a day, or the same, with private bath, for $5 a day, or for two people at $6.00 per day. Parlor, bedroom and bath from $12 upward. The restaurant charges are no higher than in other first class hotels.

The A B C and X Y Z of ADVERTISING

A SERIES OF TEN TALKS ON ADVERTISING written by Seymour Eaton of Philadelphia for the readers of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

No. 8

Most department store advertising may be divided into three classes: bad, very bad, and damned bad.

Bargain advertising is in the first class. It does sell goods; but if well done it could easily make three blades of grass grow where one grows now.

The "worth-$20-now-$12.50" bargain offer has been done to death. The people buy the $12.50 article because $12.50 is as much as they want to pay; because they have seen the goods; because they have intelligence enough to know that they are getting good value for the price; but for every one who buys there are two others shoo-ed off by the roll-up, tumble-up, throw-up-your-money hurrah.

An honest bargain properly announced is always good advertising. If I controlled a newspaper page I should use one-third of it, down the side, for legitimate bargains. I should put the word "Bargains" or Today's Bargains" at the top and with the descriptions of the articles I should give selling prices only; say nothing in figures about values or cost prices; use that space for describing the goods. I should make the descriptions as brief as possible; leave everything to the imagination of the customer except the selling price; and now and then I should omit that; let the customer come to the store to find out. Then I should make these bargains look like charity by very contrast; by using the remainder of the page to advertise my regular-priced, always-in-stock clothing and dress goods and carpets and furniture and all that sort of thing; and I should make this department so full of life and spirit and enthusiasm for the goods as to make my counters irresistible.

The store that preaches is in the second class. Preaching isn't advertising. It may be entertaining and instructive; it may analyze to a nicety the ethical policy of the store; it may impress the weak-minded with the fact that this store is a great public benefactor, a powerful influence for good in the community, a sort of merchandise university which ought to be endowed by the State. But preaching doesn't sell goods; it doesn't even draw a crowd.

The formal, refrigerator, my-brass-plate-is-sufficient advertising is in the third class. It has all the dignity and drawing power of a corpse. Mark you, I am not criticising the idea. The idea is fine. To be a chosen people clothed in purple and fine linen; to bask in the sunshine of wealth, or of aristocracy, or of fame; to eat where it eats, to drink what it drinks, to wear what it wears, to buy where it buys, to talk what it talks, to dress your poodle dog with what it dresses its poodle dog; to be somebody exclusive, even one or two removed or second hand; that is greatness; and people pay big money for greatness, even for the varnish or veneer. It is the advertising that is bad. It might easily quadruple the trade and yet keep within the boundaries of the elect. Exclusive people don't think. You don't need to put salt on their tails. They follow a leader like a lot of sheep. Your business as an advertiser is to capture the leader; the bellwether of the set. The rest is easy. The others will pay for the privilege of standing in line.

Embalm and bury the brass-plate advertising. Use the space to talk to your customers. Some of them read advertisements. If a poor plebeian should happen to read about your goods and wander into your shop by mistake let him do the worrying.

MEN FROM 'EGYPT' THRIVE ON STATE.

Asylums, with Many Good Jobs, Promised Land of Newly Discovered Race.

CIVIL SERVICE IS NO BAR.

Witness Tells of Bad Food and "Tampings" Given Boys at Lincoln Home.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Lincoln, Ill., March 3.—[Special.]—A peculiar race of human beings, indigenous only to Johnson county, whose chief mission in life is to act as attendants at state institutions, was discovered today when the limelight of legislative investigation was flashed over that portion of the state known as "EGYPT."

The credit for this discovery must be divided between a witness before the asylum investigating committee and chairman John W. Hill, who conducted the examination. It was William Whipple, an attendant at the Lincoln asylum for feeble-minded children, who unfolded his tale of experiences with Johnson county attendants which forced even the sober minded attorneys to give way to hilarious mirth.

"You," ruminated Whipple, "the Johnson county class of attendants is a most peculiar and interesting lot. I can tell them every time at a glance."

"What is their striking characteristic?" asked Mr. Hill. "What is the basis for their peculiar distinctiveness?"

"Well, to begin with, they always size up a radiator as soon as they enter an asylum and ask: 'What sort of a machine is that?'" replied Whipple. "They're a tall, skinny lot, don't know anything about anything, and they fall asleep watching the rest of us do the work at the asylum."

Tells of "Examination."

"I suppose that they all take civil service examinations?" asked Mr. Hill.

"H—m. They claim they took the examination," replied the witness dubiously. "I've noticed that they can't read and write, though. I don't know how they could have taken such an examination. One man told me he just filled out an application, and they told him to come to work. He thought that it was a pretty easy thing to get the work."

Then in the same light hearted, cool manner the witness told of an alleged attack upon an inmate of the place by one of the attendants which was declared to have caused so much noise and such a display of blood as to attract "unusual attention."

"Did you ever see anybody beaten out there with a stick or fist?" was the question which brought out this story:

"O, yes," replied Whipple. "I've seen boys whipped and slapped."

"On what occasion?"

"Well, I remember that William Beach tamped a boy proper," answered Whipple.

"Tamped?" exclaimed Mr. Hill. "That's a new one; what is that?"

"That means the boy was thrashed, whipped, or punished," was the answer.

Tells How Boy Was Beaten.

"What sort of a tamping was this?"

"As I remember it, Eddie Kutz was sitting on a radiator when the attendant saw him, and told him to get down," said Whipple. "He did not get down, so the attendant struck him, and he jumped down and struck back. I was in another room at the time, but the noise called my attention. I ran out and saw the boy standing there with blood flowing from several places all at once, and screaming at the top of his voice."

"Do you think it necessary to handle inmates in this manner?" demanded Representative Manny.

"Certainly not," answered Whipple. "I have been there a long time, and I can handle them without striking or beating them. The man had no business striking this boy."

"Now," asked Mr. Hill, "what effect has civil service had on the service at the institution?"

"Shucks," exclaimed Whipple, "civil service out there is a joke. We had good men before civil service came in. Now, Dr. Hardt has to fire them all the time. Say, those men don't know anything."

Choked "Like at Asylums."

"Now, I want to ask you about the charge that inmates have been choked with towels. Have you ever seen anything like that?" asked Mr. Hill.

"Yes, I have," said Whipple. "I have seen a towel used for choking purposes in the barber shop. Robinson used one on a patient who never would sit still. 'I'll show you how they do it in the insane asylums,' Robinson said. So he wound the towel about the child's neck until he was blue in the face."

"Did the child become unconscious?" asked Mr. Hill.

"No, I think not," was the reply. "He never moved after that, though."

"Was the man who did the choking frail or big?" asked Representative McKugh.

"A great big fellow," said Whipple.

Under the questions of Chairman Hill he replied that the conditions had been much better under the régime of former Supt. Taylor.

Bride Hears of Poor Food.

One of the delicate features of the afternoon session was the fact that the youthful bride of Representative Walter I. Manny was compelled to listen to the tales of poor cooking at the institution, ranging from meats to cakes. As Mrs. Manny has been married but two weeks, the culinary art is a delicate subject with her, and she feared that there was some hidden purpose in the questions fired at the witness by her husband.

"How is the meat out there cooked?" Mr. Manny asked the witness.

"Why, Walter, don't begin on that subject in public," whispered Mrs. Manny across the inquisitors' table to her husband.

"Why, my dear, there is nothing personal in that. This is on another matter entirely," was the reply sent back in a hoarse whisper.

"The meat," answered the witness, "was tough and hard until the beneficent influences of this investigation were felt at the asylum. Now it is plenty and not so tough."

"How about fish?"

"Fish," exclaimed Whipple. "Say, I hate to mention the subject. The fish we got was so strong you could smell it all over the building."

Says Goat Meat Was Served.

Mr. Hill next told to Whipple that he had learned of goat carcasses being served at the asylum tables.

"Sure, that's true," said Whipple. "The only trouble was that it was tough. It was an improvement on the beef we had been getting."

More details of the "lively" condition in which food was declared to have been found were furnished by Miss Luelle Jordan, formerly a cook at the asylum. Miss Jordan declared worms were to be found in the oatmeal, bacon, and prunes. She specified that the worms in some instances were half an inch in length and that their lively movements had interfered with frying of bacon. The food, she said, was fed to the inmates in spite of this complaint.

There are more witnesses to be heard on the food question today.

"I'm not admitting any ignorance of cooking, but I may say that I have learned much about methods to avoid in preparing food," said the blushing Mrs. Manny, who hereafter will be one of the important members of the investigating body which is touring the state.

HEALY "TALKS TO" THE JAILER ON COOKE'S RETURN TO JOLIET

Sheriff Strassheim's Subordinate Fixes Thursday as Day, After Brief Conference with State's Attorney.

Jailer Will T. Davies is again having great trouble in making up his mind to take John A. Cooke, the convicted clerk of the Circuit court, back to the penitentiary. Yesterday afternoon after the state's attorney had "given him a talking to" the jailer named Thursday morning as the time for the removal of the prisoner to Joliet.

Mr. Davies went to the state's attorney's office to find out the intention in regard to the other cases against Cooke.

"I didn't want to take Cooke down to Joliet and bring him right back on these other cases," explained Jailer Davies.

"John A. Cooke was brought up here on a writ of habeas corpus in one case," State's Attorney Healy said. "An order of court in that case remanding him to the warden of the Joliet penitentiary was issued yesterday. It seems to me that your course should be plain.

"You are not holding him in Chicago to accommodate this office. You have no authority to keep him here longer. Do not let the other cases influence your conduct."

Jailer Davies later consulted Sheriff Strassheim and made the announcement he would take Cooke to the penitentiary Thursday.

"It is not convenient for me to take any prisoner to Joliet before Thursday," he concluded.

FISH PUT IN RANKS; I.C. MEETING ACTS.

No Disturbance at Last Session, Which Deposes Former President as Director.

DEFEATED MAN ABSENT.

President Harahan Announces J. Ogden Armour Has Been Proffered Nomination.

There was no need of interposed tables and brawny detective "stockholders" at the final session of the stockholders' meeting of the Illinois Central railroad yesterday. President Harahan was there, but Stuyvesant Fish was conspicuously absent. Peace and harmony prevailed throughout the meeting, the election program of the Harriman-Harahan interests was carried out without a hitch, and Mr. Fish was relegated to the ranks of the stockholders without a protest upon his part. Mr. Fish delegated his powers to his son, Stuyvesant Fish Jr., and to Attorney Farrar, while he himself remained at his rooms in the Auditorium Annex and prepared a statement explaining his nonappearance.

Holdings Reported; Directors Named.

The meeting began with the report of Chairman E. S. Conway of the proxy committee. The committee placed the holdings of the Harriman-Harahan interests as follows:

	Shares.
President J. T. Harahan	581,458
J. T. Harahan (for directors only)	250
Robert Goelet	15
R. M. Shaw	150
E. K. Reeves	41
William N. Cromwell	202
Samuel Dauche	103
E. B. Hamilton	18
Total	582,214

Following the report, Attorney Lee, general counsel for the Illinois Central, offered a resolution to proceed to the election of three directors to succeed Stuyvesant Fish, Edward H. Harriman, and John J. Astor for the long term expiring in October, 1911, and one director to succeed A. J. Hackstaff for the short term expiring next October.

Mr. Hackstaff interrupted to move that the report of the proxy committee be accepted, and then came another interruption on the part of Frank H. Culver, attorney for Henry W. Leman. Mr. Culver desired to read and place on the minutes of the meeting the protest of his principal to the holding of the meeting and to the voting of the 261,231 shares of stock held by the Union Pacific and Railroad Securities companies. The protests were received and placed on file as requested.

The election proceeded and closed with the following vote:

Edward H. Harriman	582,162
John J. Astor	582,362
Joseph F. Tittus	582,162
A. J. Hackstaff	582,162
Wentworth Holmes	60

Says Armour Has Accepted.

"Mr. J. Ogden Armour has accepted the nomination as a director of the Illinois Central and he will be elected to that place in a few days as soon as the stock books are opened and the stocks held by him can be registered in his own name," President Harahan announced after the election.

This explained the election of Mr. Titus, assistant to President Harahan. At the next directors' meeting, by which time Mr. Armour will be a stockholder of record, Mr. Titus will resign, it is said, and Mr. Armour will be elected to the vacancy.

In only one point of issue was the power of Stuyvesant Fish visible. Attorney Lee offered a resolution authorizing the board of directors to purchase the Kensington and Eastern and the Memphis and State Line railroad companies, in which the Illinois Central railroad company is interested to the extent of about $600,000. Mr. Fish previously had agreed to the purchase, but as he was absent and would allow none of his holdings to be voted, the resolution failed passage for want of the two-thirds vote necessary for purchase expenditures.

It was announced during the day that no action was taken on a $30,000,000 bond issue at the directors' meeting of Jan. 29.

Fish Explains Absence.

In the statement explaining his absence from the meeting Mr. Fish said:

"I refrained from taking any part in the meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad company because I deemed it best for those stockholders whose proxies I hold that neither they nor I be in any manner bound by anything done at the meeting."

When Jay Cooke resorted to advertising to finance the country during the War people thought his gray matter had faded. Advertising might sell soap, but, of course, it was utterly unsuitable for finance. You know, or should know, the result.

Advertising, in each new province of life, must have its Christopher Columbus.

Forget for a moment whether advertising has been used, or is being used, in your branch of business, and simply ask yourself, some quiet evening, "Is there a way in which the printed word could advance my interests, enlarge my environment, multiply my power?"

If you would care for any information from insiders, any rays from the light of Experience, put out an inquiring line to the Advertising Department of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL (more than a million copies each month).

Digest That Food

Every symptom of indigestion is due to undigested food. To food that ferments and forms gas; to food that hardens and irritates; to food that decays and poisons. To stop those symptoms, let Kodol digest that food.

We guarantee the action of Kodol. Please note the offer below.

We claim that Kodol does all that a healthy stomach can do. That it digests any food, at once and completely.

Please prove this at our risk. Eat what you need of the food that you want, and note how Kodol acts. Note the absence of pain, of fermentation, of gas.

Don't doubt facts that mean a great deal to you, when they are easily proved.

There are many ways to digest part of the food, but Kodol alone digests all of it.

Pepsin digests albumen, but not starch or fat. So the many digesters depending almost solely on pepsin are only partial helps.

A complete digester must be a liquid, for some of the needed elements can't be given dry. They must be preserved in glass.

That is why Kodol is liquid, like the digestive juices. The result is, its action is instant. It even begins in the mouth, by starting the flow of saliva.

The cure of indigestion requires, above all, that you relieve the stomach.

Tonics and stimulants only spur it to action, like whipping a tired horse. Weak organs never gain strength by forcing.

But digestion is necessary, else the food grows hard and irritates the stomach lining. It ferments, and forms gas, and breeds germs. It decays, and loads the blood with poisons. And all the food that fails to digest fails to nourish you.

Your digestive powers are bound to grow weaker so long as those conditions continue.

A weak stomach must have rest. Treat it like a lame ankle. Don't tax it. Don't allow undigested food to disturb it. Let Kodol, for a little time, do the stomach's work. Then note how quickly nature cures, when it has the chance.

Some people try to relieve the stomach by dieting, but that means partial starvation.

The body requires variety in food, and when you limit that variety you are robbing some part. That isn't the way to gain strength.

A person who suffers from indigestion needs nourishment. Needs it more than a well person. The right way is to eat the food you need, then let Kodol digest it.

Please don't judge Kodol by any other form of digester. In Kodol alone are all the needed elements brought into combination. Nothing else does all that the healthy stomach will do. Nothing else brings complete relief.

Our Guarantee

The power of Kodol is easy to prove. Buy a large bottle, and ask for the signed guarantee. If it does all we claim, think what it means to you. If it doesn't, take the empty bottle back with the warrant, and your druggist will return your money.

This offer applies to the large bottle only, and to but one in a family. That is enough to prove. Then please tell your friends what a help you have found.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1908.

AN OVERWORKED OFFICE.

The facts seem to sustain the contention of the United States district attorney that he has insufficient help in his office. Nearly 300 cases are said to be pending in the District court and the work of the attorney's office is declared to be a whole year behind.

The seriousness of the situation is emphasized by the announcement by one of the United States district judges that the attorney may not have more than one week longer to arrange for the setting of a hundred cases which have been long delayed. The attorney cannot accomplish what he is asked to do in the time allowed him. The result is likely to be that many of the less important cases will be dropped.

Such a solution of the difficulty is in no way satisfactory. It does not smack of justice to indict people and then fail to bring them to trial. Theoretically the cases in the hands of the attorney should be treated alike. The right way to handle the situation is to have a greater number of capable men in the office. The district attorney has made his plea for such addition to his working force. The Washington officials have been slow in responding.

The federal courts sitting here have attracted much attention during recent months. They have passed upon some famous cases of exceptional importance. Their decisions have been heralded all over the land. The activities of judges and attorneys have brought these men into the limelight as efficient public servants. What has been accomplished by the federal courts in Chicago is creditable to the national judiciary.

There is no reason for thinking that the demands upon the courts will lessen in number. The indications are exactly the opposite. The strategic location of the city is certain to make it the place of many important suits in the future. The district attorney needs additional help in his office for emergency work. Any provision for meeting his call should have connected with it satisfactory arrangement for adequate working forces in days to come.

DEALING WITH ANARCHY.

Judge Gary said, in sentencing the anarchists, that the law, "being common sense," holds that "whoever advises murder is himself guilty of the murder that is committed pursuant to his advice." Averbuch did not succeed in murdering Chief Shippy, but the men whose violent harangues and criminal advice put it in his head to go forth on his criminal errand are guilty of an attempt to commit murder and should be prosecuted if they can be caught. The police should leave nothing undone to that end.

But the more important question is, How shall the counseling in public meetings, in newspapers and other publications of the murder of individuals or of all men belonging to a particular class be stopped? The corporation counsel says that the Illinois law permits a man to get up in a public meeting and specify persons who ought to be killed, but as long as they are not killed nothing can be done to him except arrest him for disorderly conduct.

If this be the law, then the law is not "common sense." The Illinois constitution says that "every person may freely speak, write, and publish on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that liberty." It is for the legislature to define what shall constitute an "abuse of that liberty." It has failed to provide an adequate punishment for such an abuse as advising the murder of priests, policemen, or public officials. That is a wicked "abuse of liberty" whether it can or cannot be proved that it was the cause of anybody's death. The public looks to the legislature for action that shall reconcile the law and "common sense."

Such legislation, however, will not be a perfect antidote for anarchy. Speakers at public meetings may be compelled to be tame in their remarks. The sending through the mails of crime inciting publications may be stopped. There still will be anarchistic "groups" in Chicago, and they will give utterance in private to the venomous sentiments they dare not avow openly. They may plot murder behind closed doors. The police department, realizing that, should use the best detective ability it can command to run down the men who belong to these organizations and ascertain their records. As was said in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, if any are newcomers to the country, have them deported. Those who cannot be dealt with in that way should be watched closely.

There is another thing which should be done, but which the police cannot attend to. Nearly all the revolutionary anarchists are the product of European conditions and are ignorant of the language and the institutions of this country. They need enlightenment. They need to be taught the difference between Europe and America. That teaching should be undertaken by their better informed compatriots in this country. They are the ones to begin an educational campaign against anarchy among the men who have brought from Europe a hatred of law and government which has no justification here and which will not be tolerated.

PERIL OF WILD TALK.

There will be a good many members of the community who will question whether the anarchist orators of the Emma Goldman type are solely responsible for the spread of anarchistic doctrine in the big cities of the country. A branch of the socialists vehemently protest that they preach pacific revolution. But any reader of the mass of socialistic literature now put out, or any person who has listened to discussions of socialistic doctrine, will have read or heard enough violent language to conclude that there are among the socialists a fair proportion who believe that there are alternatives to the tongue and the pen which may be used to bring about a communistic state. We have been so tolerant of wild talk, not only by anarchists but by socialists and other demagogues, that in 1908 we have almost forgotten that a president of the United States was assassinated in 1901. American society is organized for mutual self-protection and the preservation of individual liberty. It was not intended that that organization should protect its avowed and violent enemies.

We have been taught to believe in tolerance and liberty of speech and of free tongue. Our determination to preserve these three essentials to our society may lead us into a foolish toleration of violent language and unsound doctrine. Nobody wants to establish a censorship or to extend the activities of the police to domiciliary visits, but the assassination of a priest at the altar and the attempt on the life of the chief police officer in Chicago are of enough significance to make serious people consider seriously the question of legislation to protect society and to exclude from this country the individuals who menace it.

THE NINE HOUR LAW.

The interstate commerce commission has refused to yield to the petitions of railroad officials for extension of the time within which to comply with the provisions of the nine hour law. A full year's notice was given to the roads that after March 4, 1908, there must be a nine hour day for all telegraphers or any persons transmitting orders affecting the movement of trains. So far as time is concerned the railroads have no ground for complaint. They have had ample notice and plenty of time to make their plans.

Many of them have done nothing, hoping all along for some relief from the law. Their officials have been making a hard fight to postpone the day of change. They have filled the papers with woeful predictions. Many offices would certainly be closed. Not enough men could be found to do the required work. A time of depression was the worst possible time to put into effect a law whose operation would certainly mean increased expense for the roads.

The members of the commission heard all these pleas with patience. In spite of them they declined to postpone the date of enforcement of the law. The railroads declare their intention to obey it, despite a certain observed sullenness of disposition on the part of managers.

The probabilities are that the commission found the real objection a matter of money. There are plenty of telegraph operators ready to work for proper wages. The contention of the roads that sufficient help cannot be found is unreasonable. The secret of the opposition is the unwillingness to spend the extra money for wages. The proper thing for the railroad companies to do is to accept the situation and let the matter work itself out.

Some offices may be closed temporarily. But that is a thing which will regulate itself according to the demands of business. It may prove desirable to make more use of the telephone in connection with the moving of trains. Some roads are extending this branch of their service with satisfactory results. It is not hard to see the advantages of the telephone over the telegraph in many instances. The technical training of the telegraph operator is unnecessary in the use of the telephone. The certainty of a repeated message by telephone has much in its favor.

Congress is unlikely to interfere for the relief of the roads. They will have to face the situation and make the best of it. The intent of the law appeals to every one as a correct one. It may cost the roads a little to obey the law. But there is a likelihood that many of the expressed fears of the railroad men will be proved lacking in reality when the law gets into working order.

ALDERMANIC PRIMARIES.

For the sake of voters who may have become confused by the complications of primary election legislation it may be stated that the primaries held this week are remnants of the old law. If the Supreme court be kind to the new act they will be the last of their kind, and the professional politician will be the only mourner.

Anything so strictly "within the family" as the democratic primaries which will be held today and the republican primaries which will be held on Friday would be hard to find elsewhere. In nine-tenths of the wards the word of the organization heads has been accepted as final. The man in control has picked the candidate. The primary will be a formality. In some wards an obliging democratic leader will present his republican friend with a candidate intended to be defeated in the election in April. In other wards an obliging republican will do likewise for a democratic friend.

There are evidences of an interparty agreement which are pleasing to the candidates who will benefit therefrom. There will be as many "appointments" to the council as there are elections. In many wards the supremacy of the ward leader can be viewed with complacency. He is supreme because he has picked the candidate whom the people want. In such cases there is no regret that there is no contest. In other wards the hopelessness of fighting the organization has enabled the ward leader to appoint whether the people like it or not. Nothing so well illustrates this as the fact that in some wards in which a contest is to be made against the organization it will be by an independent candidate in the election and not in the primaries.

In a half dozen wards the voters will have something to say about the nominations, and if they have not lost all interest in the character of the city council it will be well if they take advantage of their opportunity.

AN IMPROPER LETTER.

Letters from a member of the legislative investigating committee to the superintendents of two state charitable institutions have been printed. In one of them the writer says the concern with which he is connected would be glad to furnish the institution anything it needs in the building material line, and says he will probably see the superintendent soon, since he is on a committee which is about to investigate his institution.

The writer of the letter is unable to see anything wrong in it. Manifestly he is a man of rather coarse fiber or he would not put in the same letter the suggestion that he would like to sell some goods and the statement that he was about to investigate the person from whom he would like to get an order. The statutes make it an offense for any member of the general assembly to be directly or indirectly interested in a state contract; but, quite aside from this, the letter should not have been written because its language is so open to misconstruction.

It is to be hoped that there are not many members of the general assembly who are as ignorant of the statutes or the canons of good taste as to write such a letter as the one referred to. If there be others who have got or tried to get orders from any of the state institutions the voters should know their names, for they are men who would not be reelected if the facts were known.

AMERICAN capitalists and financiers who have been induced by King Leopold to embark large sums of money in the acquisition of concessions in the Congo Free State may be startled to learn that they are in danger of losing their entire investments of this character.

Here it is understood that when the Belgian government finally takes over the Congo Free State along with the crown domains in the Congo valley the Belgian government will hold itself responsible for the execution of the pledges undertaken by the king, and in return for which he received such a large quantity of good American dollars.

But it seems that the terms of the concessions which he had granted, or rather sold, are extremely unsatisfactory to the Belgian government, and that, among other things, the Belgian government will be no party to the system of compulsory native labor, by means of which the concessions can alone be worked so as to yield returns.

This compulsory labor was assured to the concessionaires had Leopold retained possession of the Free State, or even of the crown domains, in which most of the American held concessions are located.

It has been suggested that the Belgian government might under the circumstances find it well to buy out the concessionaires.

But an outcry has been raised against this proposal in Belgium on the ground that the concessions are invalid, owing to the fact that they violate both the letter and the principle of the Congo treaties of Berlin and of Brussels, by means of which the Free State was constituted and confided by the great powers to the sovereignty of Leopold.

The Belgians, in fact, object to any of their money going to buy off holders of Congo concessions purchased from King Leopold, and are supported in their attitude by the press and by popular sentiment in England, France, Germany—in fact, in almost every other country of Europe.

The position of the concessionaires is therefore a weak one and they run a grave risk of losing all the money which they have been induced by "elusive Leopold," as he is now nicknamed, to embark in the venture.

Certain it is that neither Belgium nor the great powers will permit the exploitation of the concessions by the only means through which they can be worked at a profit, namely, by the forced labor which has been employed until now all along the Congo valley.

That is at an end, and Sir Edward Grey, the English minister of foreign affairs, has given parliament an assurance that Great Britain will not tolerate it any longer, and that if the system is not ended in one way it will be put a stop to in another.

Much is being printed just at present on both sides of the Atlantic concerning the crisis which led to the retirement of M. Delcassé from the office of minister of foreign affairs of France some three years ago, and M. Tardieu, the well known Parisian journalist who has recently been lecturing at Harvard on the subject of France's international relations, has in his addresses there contributed his share to the data on the subject, based on information which he is understood to have derived from friends at the Quai d'Orsay who are hostile to Delcassé.

No mention, however, has been made of the rôle which woman's jealousy played in the downfall of Delcassé, whom the then premier, Rouvier, forced to resign on the pretext that his remaining in office meant war with Germany about Morocco.

Between the young second wife of Prime Minister Rouvier and Mme. Delcassé not merely jealousy but strained relations and even openly manifested ill will prevailed from the time that their respective husbands had formed part of the same cabinet.

Mme. Rouvier, a handsome woman, with lots of social aspirations, resented the fact that Mme. Delcassé should be so much more magnificently housed at the department of foreign affairs than herself, and that it should fall to the lot of Mme. Delcassé to entertain all the foreign monarchs and royal personages visiting Paris at the palace of the Quai d'Orsay, which is virtually the only government department fitted for state hospitalities.

When King Edward was in Paris in 1895 he not only dined with Minister and Mme. Delcassé at the department of foreign affairs but also caused them to be invited to meet him at luncheon and dinner at the houses of his friends, such as, for instance, the marquis de Breteuil.

He accorded little or no attention to Mme. Rouvier, and when he quitted Paris at the close of his memorable visit left there a disgruntled and embittered woman, namely, Mme. Rouvier, whose irritation was aimed, however, not at himself but at the Delcassés.

Their retirement had already been decided upon when King Alfonso came to Paris, and, of course, that caused the already brimming cup of Mme. Rouvier's bitterness to overflow and the virtual dismissal of Delcassé two days after Don Alfonso's departure followed, Rouvier absolutely declining to permit Delcassé to remain any longer in his cabinet.

It was only people abroad and not those behind the scenes who were astonished that Premier Rouvier himself assumed the post of minister of foreign affairs in addition to his own office, although he had no previous experience whatsoever in diplomacy.

But it enabled Mme. Rouvier to take possession of the finest and most grandly appointed official residence in France, that of the department of foreign affairs, and to realize the dream of her ambition—that is, to play the rôle of hostess and to do the honors of all the foreign sovereigns and royal personages visiting Paris.

It is seldom that Edward VII. errs in matters of etiquette and diplomacy, and if he does happen to make a mistake he loses no time in making clever and graceful reparation.

As soon as ever he learned of the fact that the Rouviers felt that they had not received sufficient attention at his hands on the occasion of his visit to Paris in the spring of 1905 he determined to make amends at the first opportunity that offered itself.

Accordingly, when the English fleet visited Brest that summer and its officers were so magnificently entertained not only there but also at Paris, particularly by the Rouviers at the department of foreign affairs, he sent a most graceful telegraphic message of appreciation and thanks, addressed direct to the prime minister.

Under ordinary circumstances a message of this kind should have been directed to the president of the republic, and for a sovereign to ignore the executive of a foreign country and to direct a communication to one of his cabinet ministers is without precedent.

But King Edward tactfully and, of course, without any knowledge on the part of the public communicated the text of his message to President Loubet before dispatching it to Rouvier and asked for and secured the permission of the president to send it.

The message was of the most flattering character, was published in all the papers as having been sent by the king to Rouvier, and was rightly regarded, as the British ruler expected it would be, as a tribute to the greatness and the importance of the Rouviers.

It may be further added that if Loubet had been permitted to have his way at the time of the resignation of Delcassé he, too, would have retired from office and would have vacated the presidency of the republic as a protest against the position assumed by Rouvier that it was necessary to sacrifice the minister of foreign affairs of the cabinet in order to avert war with Germany.

Loubet held that a concession of this kind to a foreign power was unworthy of the grandeur and prestige of France, to which he could be no party.

It was Mme. Loubet's influence and that of certain of the president's friends which, after discussions and hesitations that extended over a period of forty-eight hours, eventually caused him to relinquish his intention.

Mr. Watterson Still Hopeful.

The senator-elect is an old line, thorough going republican, and regrettable as it is that a sound exponent of democracy could not be elected, the elimination of Beckham, both now and in the next campaign, clears the way for the party to kick the remnants of the shattered machine out of its path and come into its own again.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE COWBOY AND THE SQUAW.

A Melodrama in Four Acts.
BY JOSEPH BYRON TOTTEN.

Presented in the Criterion Theater, Chicago, March 3, 1908. The Cast:

Robert Westerman .... Charles Bartling
Bud Hawley .... Edward Soraghan
Pete Raymond .... Frank Dear
Ray Tarbell .... Everard Lovett
Yaller Tail .... W. J. Baxter
Bears Tooth .... Hugh E. Thompson
Ike Tartar .... R. F. Sullivan
Richard Tompkins .... Allan St. John
Ruth Tompkins .... Marie Falls
Silver Heels .... Dorothy Lyon
Bridget McGinnis .... Winona Bridges
Prairie Wolf .... Pearl Lytell

The cowboy is "Bob" Westerman, the best little broncho "buster" in Montana. The squaw is Silver Heels, daughter of Bear's Tooth, Crow Indian chief. The play is "The Cowboy and the Squaw," and the result is a protracted threatening of sudden death and the wasting of enough gunpowder to fire the bomb salute for Pyrotechnician Paine.

As it is explained in the Criterion theater this week, "Broncho Bob," who is a tall, handsome, deep voiced blonde, owes his series of narrow escapes to two women who love him. One is Silver Heels, whom reckless Robert had on one occasion picked up just in time to prevent the cattle from trampling her to death, and the other Prairie Wolf, a soubrette who had grown up in the camps of the Sioux and been adopted by him.

Broncho Bob, however, is used to being loved, and is therefore not as devoted as he should be to Silver Heels and Prairie Wolf. When Ruth Tompkins wanders into the cattle country with her father, a side-whiskered business man from Chicago, Bob forgets all about his assorted charges and falls in love with the newcomer. Silver Heels continues faithful to the end, but Prairie Wolf loses interest in him the day she decides to marry "Shorty," a cowboy and a singer.

Yet, it is not all a case of love, requited and unrequited, in "The Cowboy and the Lady." There is "Bud" Hawley, who has long hated "Bob," darn him, and has threatened time and time again to shoot the hero on sight. For four acts it is a question of "fire if you dare" between these two. Seven times Bob has the "drop" on Bud. Seven times Bud has the "drop" on Bob. But each time some one or something interferes. Now it is little Prairie Wolf and her little gun. Again it is Silver Heels and her deer knife. Sometimes it is Bear's Tooth and his ominous growl. Occasionally it is Yaller Tail, a half-breed, who looks a worse villain than Bud himself. But usually it is Mr. Hogan's stage manager. This individual is used to dealing with just such psychological moments, and he either turns out the lights or changes the scene quickly, and the executions are delayed.

Then comes the third act. It is a cold winter's day in the mountains. All about the hills are covered with snow, and the program predicts a blizzard. In spite of this all the good people in the cast are out hunting with shooting gallery rifles, and are gayly planning to camp all night in the hills. Careless children. Hist! What's that?

A voice from the wings:

"Broncho Bob, you are surrounded on every side. Every rifle is pointed at Ruth Tompkins' heart. Will you surrender?"

"And if I surrender, what of the women?"

"They shall be spared, Broncho Bob! You shall be held! Will you surrender?"

"I will!"

"O, my Gawd!" wailed Ruth Tompkins.

Then came the most dastardly act of all. The women were not set free. All were held. All were tied to the frosty mountains. All were to die at dawn, if not sooner—all but Broncho Bob, curse him! And what of Broncho Bob? He was to be tied to the back of a wild steer that happened to be cruising in the ice bound pass, and given the ride of his life. Horrors!

There is a short parley after this threat, and then what do we see? The scene is changed, and there, running at the full speed of a smoothly working treadmill, is Silver Heels on a pony. Just ahead of Silver Heels the steer, and over the back of the steer Broncho Bob. Evidently they have run out of the hills on to the prairie. The buster is threatened with being "busted" this time and no mistake. But slowly Silver Heels and the pony gain on Bob and the property steer, and the rescue is effected just at the drop of the curtain. A panting horse, a modest bossy, Bob, and Silver Heels take the call.

There was not much to do after that. Bud Hawley continued his random shooting, and finally succeeded in hitting something. Poor little Silver Heels was killed. To prove his loyalty (and to show that all his ammunition had not been spent) Broncho Bob then fired a "requiem salute" of three shots into the ceiling, and shortly thereafter one evening's account of "The Cowboy and the Squaw" came to an end.

BURNS MANTLE.

At the Opera.

"Don Giovanni" was the bill at the opera last evening at the Studebaker. The audience was small, as it ever is in Chicago when the Mozart masterwork is given, and the San Carlo company did not cover itself with any especial glory. The voice of the prompter was loud in the land, and the hitches and hesitations were many. The cast was identical with that seen the last night of the former engagement, except that Mr. Blanchard replaced Mr. Maurel as Don Giovanni and Mr. Fornari instead of Mr. Segurola was the Leporello. Both the newcomers did acceptable work, although not equaling that of their predecessors. Miss Nielsen again was a pretty and vocally adequate Zerlina, Mme Desana was the Donna Anna, and Mme Claessens the Elvira, Mr. Tavecchia repeated his capital portrayal of Masetto, Mr. Dani was the Ottavio, and Mr. Pulcini the Commendatore.

The concert announced for this afternoon has been canceled, but tonight "Lucia Di Lammermoor" will be given with Miss Nielsen in the title rôle, Mr. Constantino as Edgardo, and Mr. Fornari as Henry.

WESTERN SENATORS DECRY BILL TO INCREASE CURRENCY.

Measure That Will Restore Public Confidence and Protect Deposits Greater Need, They Say.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Senators McCumber of North Dakota and Newlands of Nevada today spoke at length upon the Aldrich currency bill.

Mr. McCumber was opposed to any expansion of the currency except to save the country from a catastrophe, he said. He referred to the importation of $100,000,000 gold during the panic and declared it had not reëstablished the old conditions.

The pending bill, he added, was not put forth with the understanding that it would be a tonic for industrial conditions, but merely as a means of relief in case of runs on banks. Previous panics had been brought on by the people, but in the case of the recent panic it had been brought on by the banks, he declared.

"It is the activity and not the bulk of money that pays debts," declared Mr. McCumber. "I am not in favor of an elasticity in our currency, as I believe such elasticity is pernicious and almost as bad as an elastic conscience. But I can see that, if our industrial conditions are not changed, there may arise a condition that will demand elasticity to prevent a great catastrophe. For that reason and because of the universal demand for an elastic currency, I am willing to vote for this bill."

Declaring that currency legislation should be directed more to the security of depositors than to the creation of an emergency currency, Senator Newlands gave a careful analysis of certain features of the pending bill.

"The only way to secure depositors," he said, "is by ample capital and sufficient reserves. The capital and the reserve together constitute the security of the depositors and should in all cases amount to between 30 and 40 per cent of the deposits. The capital, which should amount to at least 15 per cent of the deposits, should be invested in interest bearing securities, and the reserve, which should amount to at least 20 or 25 per cent, should be kept in cash in the vaults of each bank and not intrusted to other banks."

TOBACCO WAR'S BLIGHT HITS TENNESSEE; EVEN CHURCHES SPLIT BY CONTENTIONS.

Murder, Pillage, Arson, and Beatings by Scores and Hundreds Follow Strife in Sections of State Where Leaf Is Grown—Tragedy Lurks in Air, and Life Constantly Is in Peril.

BY HARRY L. BEACH.

In Springfield, Tenn., stands a courthouse erected many years ago, in and around which much local history has been made. In its rooms decisions of much import to the state have been judicially pondered and solemnly delivered. In its hallways men have been lynched who were never given the semblance of a trial, and who dangled to death at the end of a rope to the accompaniment of hoots and jeers from the mob.

There is, in this old courthouse, a certain railing which has, for the initiated, a greater interest than any of the court rooms where formal legal procedure has taken place, for it is over this railing that men have been hurled to death and from it that time and again the corpses of men illegally executed have swung.

On one occasion either seven or nine colored men were hanged here in a single night. The exact number cannot be recalled, and it was so many years ago that it really makes no difference now. It probably made little difference then, save to the two men whose lives made up the now forgotten total.

It is a famous old railing, is this same low, homely bit of framework. It is known throughout all that section of Tennessee, and when the expression "Throw him over the railing" is heard, its meaning is well understood.

Tragedy Lurks in Air.

One the opening day of every term of court this courthouse with its old railing is a scene of much bustle and activity. Attorneys, witnesses, jurymen, politicians, and curiosity seekers gather in and around it. There are great discussions of problems economical, and agricultural, and political on the outside, while the verbose battles of the law are waged on the inside. It's a notable day here is court day, and most men who are anybody and not too busy with other things make a point of swelling the crowd in and about the courthouse at that time.

On a certain court day not long after the founding of the Dark Tobacco District Planters' Protective association at Guthrie, Ky., there lowered over the old courthouse the shadow of a slaughter that would have made all that had ever been done in and near it up to that time sink into insignificance. It was just at that time that the members of the famous association had awakened to the fact that not all of their fellows were subscribers to the same economic doctrine as themselves—the curtailment of crops and war upon the American Tobacco company. Feeling ran high and many men were disposed to be ugly and to seek for trouble—and a marvelously short search will locate that article in almost any section, either of Tennessee or Kentucky. The "hoe toters" were in the majority in the crowd around the courthouse, and they had the advantage of organization. The "hillbillies" were few and stood each man for himself. From angry looks and sharp words came open threats—and finally it was proposed by some of the more zealous "hoe toters" that they should "throw the 'hillbillies' over the railing." Some of the latter hastily departed while others stood their ground, determined that if their lives went out "over the railing" there would be other dead before they died themselves. It was only by the narrowest margin that the famous old temple of justice and lynch law did not become more famous still and that a bloody tragedy was prevented.

Hunt Buyers with Pistols.

A few weeks after a possible wholesale killing had been averted at Springfield a passenger train on the Elkton and Guthrie railroad was flagged at Bradshaw, Ky., two miles from Elkton. When the train came to a standstill masked men with revolvers in their hands sprang upon the engine and threatened the engineer with death if he moved the train without permission. These men remained in the engine cab, while others with pistols drawn went through the coaches, saying to the passengers that they were not robbers and intended harm to nobody. They were "only looking for nonassociation tobacco buyers." What they intended for the tobacco buyers is not known, as none were found on the train, but the chances are that they meant them no particular benefit.

Dycusburg, Crittenden county, Ky., soon after witnessed the first raid in that state, where men who held dealings with the American Tobacco company were brutally maltreated. A band of about seventy-five men rode into the village at 1 o'clock in the morning, firing rifles, revolvers, and shotguns as a warning to the residents that they must not interfere with the mob's program. The visitors were allowed their own way in all things. They cut all telegraph and telephone wires and fired and destroyed a distillery and a tobacco warehouse owned by Bennett Brothers, both valued at $40,000.

Tortured to Death's Brink.

Leaving a few men to guard the burning buildings, that no effort might be made to extinguish the flames, the remainder of the band rode to the home of William Groves, who had been purchasing tobacco from men not members of the farmers' association and shipping it to the French government. He was called upon to come out and did so, fearing that his house might be riddled with bullets and his family killed or wounded. Groves was dragged down to the neighborhood of the burning warehouse, where he was tied up and beaten with sticks on which long thorns had been allowed to remain. His back was torn to shreds.

The mob then rode to the residence of Henry Bennett, a member of the firm which owned the tobacco warehouse and also a buyer for the French market. He was called upon to come out, but refused to do so. A volley of bullets and buckshot promptly tore through his windows, and, fearing for the lives of his wife and children, he came out. He was at once hustled off to the same place where Groves had been flogged, and there he also was beaten with thorn covered sticks, and so severely injured that for a time it was believed that he could not survive.

Three Fires for One "Enemy."

W. E. Wall, a prominent resident of Montgomery county, Tenn., has long been an object of hatred to the association sympathizers. His plant beds were "scraped" repeatedly, a general merchandise store which he owned at Tredonia, Tenn., was burned, and later two large barns on his farm were destroyed by fire. He was for a long time, and probably is yet, the recipient of many anonymous letters threatening him with death, and his remaining property with destruction unless he becomes a member of the farmers' organization.

Adairville, Ky., furnished another instance in January of this year, of the willingness of the night riders to imperil women and children in order to accomplish their purposes. Near this village they called at the home of R. J. Burr and invited him to "come out." Burr, having some general knowledge of what an acceptance of this invitation involved, decided to remain inside. The raiders then set fire to two large tobacco barns belonging to Burr. Rage at the destruction overcame Burr's prudence, and he rushed out to save his property. He was promptly covered by a dozen rifles and ordered back into the house. The value of the barns and tobacco burned in this case was about $2,000.

Humorists in Arson Band.

A band of night riders which visited Bethel, Bath county, Ky., a short time prior to the raid of Adairville contained some conscious or unconscious humorists. In Bethel lives a tobacco buyer and warehouseman named Allie Robinson, who had been frequently and fruitlessly warned to have no dealings with nonassociation farmers. On the morning of Jan. 8 a strong force of night riders entered the village and made a bonfire of his warehouse, which contained about 35,000 pounds of tobacco.

It was totally consumed, and Mr. Robinson was about $4,000 poorer than on the day before.

Adjoining the warehouse of Robinson was the dry goods store of William Peters, containing a stock valued at $25,000. Against him the members of the mob had no ill will. When the warehouse was ablaze Mr. Peters became anxious for his store and put his head out of a window. He was threatened with death unless he took it inside, which he promptly did. The flames were soon eating their way into his store and goods, and when they were under full headway some of the night riders came to Peters' front door, told him that his store was burning, which was a piece of utterly unnecessary information, and advised him to "come down and get his books and save his property." They then rode away. Peters came down, but all he got was a closer look at the fire, and everything he saved was the recollection of the property he had once possessed.

Town Like War Camp.

The same band of burners had made threats to destroy property in the town of Flemingsburg, Ky., not far from Bethel, but the citizens of that place, seeing the light of the flames of Robinson's warehouse and Peters' store, turned out in force to resist any attack. None was made, but 150 men of Flemingsburg are sleeping every night with rifles within reach to fight off the threatened raid, which will probably, sooner or later, be made.

Near the little town of Era in Christian county, Ky., lives W. J. Ladd, who has a wife and seven children. A band of night riders came to his house one night, and by way of persuading Mr. Ladd to become a member of the association, fired volley after volley into the rooms where Mrs. Ladd and the children were sleeping. Ladd was then invited to "come out," and he came. He was told that unless he joined the association his property would be burned, and he himself injured. Ladd was willing to take his own chance, but the probabilities of injury to his family were so great that he insured their safety by joining the association.

"Absent Treatment" Burns House.

The same band of missionaries made another convert that night in the person of John Rogers, a justice of the peace in Era. He was threatened with violence unless he became a professing member, and the justice having some knowledge of the people with whom he was doing business, at once proclaimed himself full of the faith, and is today a forced recruit in the army of the association.

In January of this year the association people, destroyed a handsome residence in Dawson Springs, Ky., by giving it "absent treatment." In truth, they had nothing to do with this fire, but the incident serves to show how generally all fires are attributed to them, and how extensive have been their operations.

It is, as may be judged from the various acts of violence described above, customary for the barn burners when committing outrages, to fire their revolvers and rifles as a warning to people to remain inside their houses. Consequently, it is but natural for any man who has lived for as much as ten days in the dark tobacco district to attribute any rapid succession of shots to the night riders. The night watchman of Dawson Springs discovered this residence to be ablaze, and fired his revolver repeatedly for the purpose of calling out the volunteer fire department. But the volunteers hearing the fusillade whispered to themselves "night riders," drew the sheets over their heads and allowed the building to burn to the ground. The volunteers were not the only ones who declined to aid in subduing the flames, for several pedestrians whom the watchman attempted to round up for the purpose of aiding him, fled wildly into the side streets, and away from the fire, when they heard him call. It was not until the next morning that the people of Dawson Springs knew that no night riders had visited them.

War's Results Beyond Conception.

The list of these depredations, assaults, barn burnings, dynamitings, and whippings might be indefinitely prolonged. The instances given are but types. The cases of arson could be multiplied by the dozen, and the tobacco bed "scrapings" by the hundreds, and still the list would be an index only. When it is considered that, in addition to these acts of violence, long time friends have been turned into bitter foes, marriage engagements have been broken off, members of families turned against each other, and even the churches split in twain by the violence of this tobacco war, some conception may be had of the conditions that exist today in the dark tobacco district of Kentucky and Tennessee.

HOUSE PASSES TOBACCO BILL.

Frankfort, Ky., March 3.—The McChord tobacco bill, placing tobacco buyers under the police control of the state, was passed by the house this afternoon, 66 to 21. The bill will now go to the senate. It is designed to relieve the tense conditions in the tobacco growing districts, and received the backing of the growers' societies.

GRAND OPERA PRIMA DONNA SUES HER FORMER MANAGER.

Jane Noria Asks an Injunction Against Henry Russell of the San Carlo Company and Also Wants Damages.

Mme. Jane Noria, formerly a prima donna of the San Carlo opera company, filed suit in Chicago yesterday against Manager Henry Russell and asked an injunction against the use of her name on the programs. Mme. Noria filed the suit under her real name, Mme. Josephine Ludwig-Centanini, before Judge Kohlsaat. It was set for hearing on Friday.

The petition states that Mme. Noria left the company by mutual consent on Feb. 15 and that on Feb. 28 she sang in keeping with an agreement in Milwaukee. On Feb. 18 she asserts that while the company was in Duluth her name appeared on the programs and that the rôle under her name was carried by Mme. Tina Desana. On Feb. 20 in Minneapolis she alleges Mme. Milly Bramonia sang in her name.

Petitioner asks not only an injunction but damages for unfavorable notices she says were given to her in the papers as a result of the true identity of the singers not being known.

Mr. Russell says Mme. Noria has no need of an injunction to prevent his using her name in connection with the San Carlo company.

"She was unknown to the public before she joined the company," said he, "and she never has been a great drawing card. She has caused considerable trouble in the company, and for this reason I canceled her contract."

THE PRENTISS HOODOO.

Bravo, Mich., Feb. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Permit me to thank you for the compliment and warning that appeared on the editorial page of THE TRIBUNE of yesterday in these words: "William Prentiss would be an excellent candidate for governor of Illinois, but the old hoodoo still pursues him." Yes, "the old hoodoo," the political boss and manipulator, have pursued him for a number of years, as they have many another as good or better man, and no doubt they are still at it. I have been their victim more than once, but in the days when I was able to reach the people direct the "hoodoo" never did me serious harm. True, I have failed when the political tide was against my party, but I have as often won when I had less than an even chance.

In 1904 more than a majority of the duly elected delegates to the democratic state convention were favorable to my nomination for governor. But, through the most outrageous methods ever practiced or attempted in the history of conventions, the delegates were denied a voice in the convention, a small coterie of unscrupulous political manipulators, by fraud, force, and intimidation, seized control and gaveled through a program without regard to the wishes of the delegates or of the democrats of Illinois. I refused to allow my name to go before such an undemocratic body.

I have not yet decided whether I shall become a candidate for governor or not this year, but if I do make the effort I shall go to the voters direct and tell them what I want and why I want it. I have always had the most friends where I was best acquainted, and if I can become acquainted with enough of the voters of Illinois the "old hoodoo" may "pursue" me all he pleases.

CEREMONY IN GRACE CHURCH

Reception and Breakfast Follow at Magnate's Residence.

New York, March 3.—[Special.]—The wedding of Robert Livingston Gerry, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry, and Miss Cornelia Harriman took place today in Grace church. The Rev. Dr. William Reed Huntington, rector of the church, performed the ceremony at 12:30 o'clock. Bishop William Crosswell Doane of Albany pronounced the benediction.

Miss Mary Harriman attended her sister as maid of honor and Misses Marion H. Clark and Ruth Averell, her cousins; Margaret Dix, Elsie Howland, and Anita Peabody were bridemaids. Illness kept Miss Carol A. Harriman, younger sister of the bride, who was to have been bridemaid, away and no one filled her place. All were attired alike in gowns of a faint shade of pink made over taffeta, with bias folds of silk of deeper shade and Louis XV. coats of lace and brown net hats trimmed with tulle and feathers to match, tipped with pink. They carried bunches of bride roses.

The bride, who entered with her father, who gave her away, wore a costume of rich white satin, with point lace yoke sleeves of dotted lace, a veil edged with point lace and held with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her chief ornament was a diamond necklace, Peter Goelet Gerry assisted his brother as best man.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harriman gave a reception and breakfast at their residence, 874 Fifth avenue. The drawing and dining rooms were trimmed with pink and white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry will take a preliminary bridal trip before sailing for Europe later in March.

WORLD CHAMPIONS READY FOR WORK.

Manager Chance Will Lead Vanguard of Cubs to West Baden Today.

WEEK OF SPRING WATERS

First Practice Game at Vicksburg March 15—Senators Off for Galveston.

CUBS' ITINERARY.

March 5 to 12	At West Baden
March 13 to 24	At Vicksburg
March 25	At Meridian
March 26, 27	At Montgomery
March 28, 29, 30	At Atlanta
March 31	Toledo at Chattanooga
April 1, 2, 3	At Birmingham
April 4, 5	At Memphis
April 6, 7	At Nashville
April 8	At Evansville
April 9	At Terre Haute
April 10	At Fort Wayne
April 11	At Indianapolis
April 12, 13	At Dayton

Nine Cubs of the twenty-four left on President Murphy's roster will board a Monon train at 8:30 this morning bound for West Baden, where they will be joined by the rest of their teammates, with an exception or two, and during the week they are scheduled to imbibe the salts of the earth there.

The players who will leave here under the chaperonage of Manager Chance and Treasurer Williams are Pat Moran, Carl Lundgren, "Chick" Fraser, Joe Tinker, Artie Hofman, Heine Zimmerman, Jimmy Slagle, and Pitcher Donahue of the Spaldings. Trainer Semmens, Mrs. Fraser, and Mrs. Tinker will make a total of thirteen for the party, and the bat boy may be taken along to duck the hoodoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Overall already are at the Indiana resort, and Mordecai Brown is on his way. The rest of the Cubs will report to Manager Chance there direct from their homes within the week, with the exception of Johnny Kling, who has obtained a longer leave of absence in order to play Hueston for the world's pool championship. Campbell, the new catcher, and Ed Reulbach will go to West Baden from St. Louis, and Steinfeldt and Pfiester from Cincinnati. Evers and Schulte will be a couple of days late, the former to close up a business deal and the latter because he has a date to beat all the snow trotters in Syracuse with the horse he bought here last fall.

One Week at West Baden.

The Cubs will spend a week conditioning themselves at West Baden, then will hike to Vicksburg, where the first real practice will be undertaken. During their two weeks' stay in Mississippi only three exhibition games are scheduled—two with the Vicksburg club, on March 15 and 22, and one at Meridian, on the 25th. Then they will travel northward by easy stages, putting in only a little over three weeks in barnstorming.

President Murphy crossed two names off the Cub roster yesterday. Catcher Frank Olis, formerly of the Oak Leas, was disposed of to the Springfield club of the Three Eyes league, and Pitcher Merker of the Swifts sent word to headquarters that he would not make the spring trip, consequently will get no tryout. The Cub magnate will not accompany the club on its trip, but will remain at home to superintend finishing the work of improving the west side park.

The selection of a new man to handle the physical ills of the Cubs was no surprise to Jack McCormick, who has been the team's trainer for two seasons, according to his statement. McCormick said he considered himself a "free agent" without other form of notice when no new contract was submitted to him on or before March 1, as he had been signed to a regular players' contract each year.

"The reason I was dropped," said the former trainer, "was a difference of opinion over salary. Mr. Murphy paid me $800 a year for the two seasons I was with the club. I could not support myself and a family of three on that, and asked for $1,200 a year. I have heard nothing since from him. Expecting a change to be made, I have sought to provide for myself otherwise, and have one or two chances in New York."

Senators Off for Galveston.

Chicago was selected as a starting point by Manager Cantillon of the Washington club again this year. Eighteen Senators reported here and left with him for Galveston at 6 o'clock last night from the Union station. The players who made their getaway with Cantillon were Hughes, Smith, Falkenberg, Keeley, Peterson, Gehring, Oberlin, Wilson, and Ettinger, pitchers; Freeman, Shipke, McBride, and Meinke, infielders; Street and Kahoe, catchers; Ganley, Pickering, and Clymer, outfielders. Eight more Senators are expected to be at the training camp when the party reaches there. They are Delehanty, Altizer, Warner, Kay, Johnson, Patten, Byrnes, and Gates.

The Senators will remain in Galveston until March 29 and may play a few exhibition games with the St. Louis Nationals, who will be at Houston at the same time. The Minneapolis American association team, of which Manager Cantillon is a part owner, will follow the Senators at Galveston and may arrive in time for a practice game or two with Washington.

HABIT CLINGS TO SEBRING.

Reinstated Cub Contract Jumper Plans to Leave Home and Join California "Outlaws."

Pittsburg, Pa., March 3.—[Special.]—A telegram from Williamsport says that Jimmy Sebring, formerly of the Chicago National league team, but more recently of the Wilmington Tri-State club, has had a fight with his club over salary and has accepted a proposition to play in the California "outlaw" league. For some years Sebring and his wife have been anxious to reside in California, and when Sebring had his fight with the Pittsburg management years ago he threatened to jump to California.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pittsburg team has been called from his Kansas home to see what can be done with the players who are holding out for more money. For the first time in history Clarke is being brought east of the Mississippi river before the training season begins. He comes to have heart to heart talks with Wagner in Carnegie, with Leach at Cleveland, and with Gibson in Canada, each of whom refuses flatly to sign a contract.

Catcher Sam Brown, who has been sold by Boston to Toronto in the Eastern league, made the statement tonight that he thinks the reason he was forced to leave Boston was because he had a fist fight with Davy Brain last season.

GIANTS RELEASE MIKE LYNCH.

President Pulliam Announces Weekly Grist of National League Contracts and "Cannings."

New York, March 3.—President Pulliam of the National league today announced the following contracts and releases:

Contracts—With Boston, J. J. Boultes, August Dorner, W. J. Sweeney, George F. Graham, and V. A. Lindaman; with Pittsburg, James J. Kane, Edward J. Phelps, and Royal Shaw.

Releases—By Boston to Toronto, S. W. Brown; by Boston to Steubenville, Roy, Dessau, and McCabe; by New York, unconditionally, Michael J. Lynch; by New York to Oakland, Daniel C. Shay; by Pittsburg to Rochester, W. T. Otey; by St. Louis to St. Paul, P. J. Noonan.

DELAYS HOISTING PENNANT.

Detroit Club Not to Raise American League Banner Until Near the Middle of June.

Detroit, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—Friday, June 12, has been designated as "Flag day" at Bennett park. President Navin made the announcement today. The occasion will be a baseball holiday and elaborate arrangements will be made for raising the American league pennant. New York is the fortunate opponent. The pole for the pennant will be 110 feet in height. It will be erected in far center field, and will tower above any building near Bennett park. Speeches, floral displays, and other such doings are scheduled, but the program has not been completed.

Wallace Signs at Lower Salary.

St. Louis, Mo., March 3.—After a conference today with President R. L. Hedges of the St. Louis American league baseball team, Bobby Wallace signed a contract for the coming season. It is said Wallace was holding out for the salary of $6,500 he has received for the last three seasons, but the contract signed today stipulates a reduced amount.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

NOT AT AN IDLE MOMENT.

They've done away with racing in the Garden City now,
Except that at the stockyards they sometimes race a cow;
Or now and then an alderman may show old Weston how,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

They raised out all the gambling, almost or nearly quite,
Excepting penny ante and bridge at dead of night,
And then they raised the gamblers with sticks of dynamite,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

They banished all the bruisers and cut the boxing out,
Except where friendly coppers may arrange a little bout—
At least that's how I've heard it and I haven't any doubt,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

They stood for genteel wrestling, a lovely game, you know,
With ringers every minute and every chance to throw,
And surely of the suckers they made a holy show,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

They tried to close the barrooms and the prosecution sticks,
With eminent reformers putting in their biggest licks,
But it always splits up even when the jury's six to six,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

It really seems remarkable we cannot all be good—
It will not be disputed it were better that we should,
But the sinners are defiant and the saints misunderstood,
And there's always something doing in Chicago.

Now comes the open season for the fiery anarchist—
The Russian, and the Polack, and the Grewsome Hunchakist;
They'll hang a medal on you if you grab 'em by the wrist,
For there's always something doing in Chicago.

Tell it not where it is likely to cause any trouble, but at an international golf tournament at Rome a team representing the united kingdom spread it all over a team representing the United States. And our hired man, Lloyd Griscom, was the goat. Gris, old chap, we fear very much we shall have to recall you.

A section of Indiana has condemned lawn tennis and basketball as sinful pastimes. Croquet, you're next!

Of course, we are quite willing that the bowling tournament should become a permanent institution in Cincinnati. They seem to fit up for it down there better than they do at any other point on the map.

Isn't it rather remarkable that the pistol toter and the bomb thrower do not get into action until the town gets good?

Is it not safer to tolerate the evils you can deal with?

The only piece of incriminating literature that was not found in the library of the would-be assassin was a dope book.

How would you like to have the feelings of the organized and incorporated rooter? Wouldn't you rather be the small boy who has to blow his last 10 cents to get into the side show after carrying water to the elephant all day?

It's a poor rooter who roots for the pure pleasure of rooting. We are harking back to the definition of an amateur as it existed in the sconce of that ancient waterman, Elias Ward. And Elias Ward he said: "A hamateur, me lad, is a bloomin' hoarsman as cawn't row." The moving incentive to do anything in this country is this: $.

Our attention has been called to a few other extraneous baseball abuses, but life is too short and the subject too fleeting to dally with them.

Commodore Hesslip seems to remind Mr. Corrigan of the time he was trying to be friendly with George Hankins.

Replying politely to a correspondent as to why it is not possible to have racing in Cook county, we wish to state that there are eight reasons. Three of them are under indictment and the names of the other five can be found in the telephone directory.

"It is understood now that the New York to Paris automobile race is sure to result in international complications. Great! We always thought it would be a success in one way or another.

If there weren't two big political conventions coming up we might be grossly entertained with amateur athletic politics just now. We are quite willing that James E. Sullivan should be the managing editor of our athletic troubles. We won't get much out of the Olympic games if we get the whole smear.

The only misgivings we have about Jack Johnson fighting Tommy Burns in England and whipping him is that Johnson will draw the color line and refuse to fight a white man.

SEMI-PRO TEAMS ORGANIZE.

Park and Traveling Clubs Form Association, with William C. Niesen as President.

The Semi-Professional Baseball association has organized for the season of 1908. The officers are: William C. Niesen, president; Willis Melville, secretary and treasurer. The following parks and traveling clubs are members: Gunthers, Normals, West Ends, River Forests, Ansons, Artesians, Lawndales, Rogers Parks, Union Giants, White Rocks, Whitings, Elgin Nationals, Arions, Ravals, Mutuals, Felix Colts, and Garden Citys.

The directors are: Capt. A. C. Anson, P. W. Sullivan, Edward Kelly, James J. Shalek, S. B. Geiger, Fred Holmon, Roy Clarke, Fred Maguire, Walter Lyons, and John Mackey. Umpires signed are: Charles Tindel, Charles J. Peters, Mike Meyers, Ed Eckman, Harry D. Miller, John McWaters, M. J. Fitzpatrick, Thomas F. White, E. J. Tyler, Albert Mannassau, Herman Long, and John Long.

It is the purpose of the organization to hold its meetings at Anson's every Monday night, where games will be scheduled, players signed, and all grievances settled.

Evanston Baseball Men Report.

Forty candidates for the Northwestern varsity baseball team reported to Coach Bert Cunningham yesterday. Five of last year's team were out—Rader, pitcher; Northrop, catcher; Curtiss, shortstop; Springer, and Hobart, fielders. Freshmen reporting for practice were: Middleton, Oak Park, catcher; Vail, Shattuck Military academy, shortstop; Vehe, Lake View, pitcher; Manley, Evanston academy, pitcher, and Powell, Dennison university, shortstop.

Marquettes, 4; Murrays, 2.

The Marquettes defeated the Murrays in their indoor baseball game at Schoenhofen hall last night, 4 to 2. Score:

ANOTHER NEW MARK FOR HANDY

Chicago Swimmer Lowers Time for Seventy-five Yards, Back Stroke, by Over Two Seconds.

New York, March 3.—H. J. Handy of Chicago tonight established a world's record for swimming 75 yards with back stroke by covering the distance in :54 2-5 at Madison Square garden. The previous record for this style and distance was :56 4-5, held by C. F. Rubrel of the New York Athletic club. C. M. Daniels of the New York Athletic club equaled his American record for 120 yards, covering the distance in 1:21 1-5 in a contest in which he was the scratch man. Daniels and Handy will meet tomorrow night in a relay race and Thursday night in a 300 yard contest.

Track Athletic Notes.

Crane High's track team will meet Oak Park Saturday afternoon at the Bartlett gymnasium.

Coach McBean of the Central Y. M. C. A. track squad arranged yesterday for a return dual meet with the Evanston department March 14, at the downtown gymnasium. Central will take on the Sleipner A. C. Friday night at the latter's gym.

WHITE SOX BEGIN PRACTICE TODAY.

Near Los Angeles Last Night, but Landing Is Delayed by Request.

WORKOUTS TO BE BRIEF.

Second Squad Booked to Leave for San Francisco Without Night's Rest.

On Board White Sox Limited, Imperial Junction, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—The White Sox are on California soil tonight, only eight hours from Los Angeles, but their limited train will not run into that city until tomorrow morning, in compliance with President Comiskey's wishes.

The Colorado river was crossed shortly before dark, and when the train hit this side of the river a shout rang through the cars that could have been heard for miles on the desert if any one had been out there, so glad were the White Sox that they were so near the end of their long and tedious journey.

No time will be lost after the players land in the morning. Manager Jones is expected to be at Los Angeles awaiting their arrival, and with Jakey Atz, who was taken aboard at El Paso last night, will complete the roster of talent. The two squads will be ordered out for practice tomorrow forenoon as early as it is possible to secure the use of the ball park. The day will be put in getting as much work as possible, as the Los Angeles club is to be played on Friday.

No Rest for Substitutes.

The second squad will have hardly time to get over its car sickness, for it will be shipped on to San Francisco tomorrow night to be on time at the earthquake city for the games scheduled there, beginning on Friday. Louis Comiskey will have charge of team No. 2 for the present. This will allow the players an exceedingly short time to get the stiffness out of their bones and the soreness out of their arms before tackling the exhibition schedule.

The run since last midnight has been over smooth roadbed and the miles have been reeled off at a rate of sixty an hour for part of the time. The engineer was given orders, however, to run slowly tonight so that the arrival of the train could be timed for 7 o'clock tomorrow. William J. Leahy, assistant general passenger agent of the Rock Island road, who has been in charge of the special all the way from Chicago, has had hard work holding it back so as to bring it into Los Angeles on the hour President Comiskey desired.

Real Indians, Not Mexicans.

At Yuma, Ariz., shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon a stop of two hours was made to give the players and rooters accompanying them a chance to barter with the Indians and to see the city.

All of the members of the party had plenty of fun with the Indians. Some of the players tried to get them to take less than they asked for their wares and were surprised to find they could not buy anything, not knowing that the Indians, unlike the Mexicans, will not cut prices.

The prison and other places of interest in Yuma were visited by the Sox before a whistle from the engineer called them to continue their jaunt.

The weather today was not as warm as it was yesterday, the sun was under clouds most all day. The dust was bad, but the conditions were not uncomfortable.

GAMES IN BOWLING LEAGUES.

Treulichs Average 974 1-3 and Twice Defeat the Paul Pohls in the Belmont Tourney.

The Treulichs rolled into the limelight in the Belmont league last night, when they won two games from the Paul Pohls with an average of 974 1-3, all three of their games being dangerously around the four figure mark, with the first nine pins over. Tom Riermeier led with an average of 209 2-3, while Lau got 204 1-3.

At the other end of the city the No. 1 Steeles won three straight from the Eclipse quintet, averaging 961. Rooney led the assault on the pins with 208 1-3. Mattie Fesl, the man who narrowly missed wearing Paul Phelps' medal for high game around the country, shot the banner series of the night, with 214 average in the North Chicago league. Howard Majors won three games from the Centurys in the Monroe league, averaging 949, with Al Leigh dropping the wood for 208 1-3 and Wood negotiating 207 1-3. Scores:

BIG STAKE TO JACK ATKIN

Schreiber Entry Wins Rex Handicap at Fair Grounds.

VICTORY A GREAT SURPRISE.

Sprinter Carries 125 Pounds and Beats Classy Field at 1⅛ Miles.

New Orleans, La., March 3.—[Special.]—One of the greatest surprises ever given a local racing crowd was had today when Jack Atkin won the Rex handicap, the feature event of the carnival at the fair grounds.

It is no exaggeration to say the local race course never had such a gathering, and of the great throng not even a small percentage believed the Schreiber horse successfully could compete with the classy field over the mile and one-eighth called for in the Rex.

Jack Atkin generally has been accounted a sprinter pure and simple, and when asked to carry 125 pounds at such a distance with horses like Juggler and Angelus, coupled as the Burlew & O'Neill entry, Glorifier, Old Honesty, Yankee Girl, and Temacco, the Ellison entry, and other fillers in, it was generally taken as a complimentary parade of a popular horse.

He won in sensational fashion. He might have gone to the front at any time and made a runaway race, but his rider had orders to wait on Angelus. This he did to the head of the stretch, the two always being away off in front of the others that were waiting for them to stop, and when they straightened for home it was all over.

Jack Atkin Takes Lead.

Jack Atkin went to the front and opened a winning lead before reaching the eighth post and in the final fifty yards was taken under stout restraint. So strong was the pull of its rider at the finish that Old Honesty, the gamest and strongest finisher of the others, almost stole his victory from him. Yankee Girl was a poor third.

With the great holiday crowd battling against them, a big crowd of layers must have recouped some of their recent losses, as only two favorites were successful. Next to the stake event, the feature was a brilliant ride by Notter on Severus, the winner of the fifth race, when he landed Dunne's colt at the finish a head in front of Sainesaw. Horse and rider were well "prepped" for the occasion, Severus having been played heavily out of town by C. R. Ellison, for whom Notter rides.

ST. EDGAR SCORES AT OAKLAND.

Favorite in Opening Race Is Given a Close Contest by Belmere After a Poor Start.

Oakland, Cal., March 3.—St. Edgar, favorite at 5 to 2 in the opening race at Emeryville today, scored a victory by a narrow margin. Belmere, though almost left at the start, came near being a winner. In the fourth event the three choices had the race to themselves and after Lorado began to get weary May Amelia assumed the lead and won cleverly. Shenandoah was always third and never improved his position. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile, selling—St. Edgar, 110 pounds [Miller], 13 to 5, won; Belmere, 112 [Butwell], 5 to 2, second; Mabel Hollander, 105 [Davis], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 4-5.

Second race, 1 mile and 20 yards, selling—Mrs. O'Farrell, 97 pounds [A. Walsh], 5 to 1, won; Alcibiades, 94 [Hildebrand], 25 to 1, second; Rustler, 91 [Gilbert], 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:47.

Third race, ¾ mile, selling—Dick Wilson, 111 pounds [Butwell], 8 to 1, won; Billy Myer, 85 [Gilbert], 29 to 1, second; Hulford, 108 [Keogh], 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 1-5.

Fourth race, ¾ mile, selling—May Amelia, 106 pounds [Keogh], 11 to 5, won; Dorado, 109 [W. Kelly], 7 to 2, second; Shenandoah, 111 [Kirschbaum], 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:28 2-5.

Fifth race, 1 mile and 20 yards, selling—Mendon, 109 pounds [Hildebrand], 6 to 1, won; Fuelletta, 114 [Heatherton], 10 to 1, second; Whidden, 105 [Burton], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:46.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 20 yards, selling—Nigrette, 100 pounds [Gilbert], 9 to 5, won; Senator Warner, 107 [J. Butler], 16 to 5, second; San Gil, 97 [Walsh], 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 4-5.

RESULTS AT LOS ANGELES.

HONORS TO BRITT IN COAST BOUT.

Nelson Outpointed in Battle at Los Angeles—No Decision Given.

FIGHT GOES TEN ROUNDS.

"Bat" Is More Aggressive, as Usual, but Wild and Uncertain in His Aim.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 3.—[Special.]—Jimmy Britt jabbed Batling Nelson at will for ten rounds tonight and if a decision had been given it must have gone to James Edward. Nelson, as usual, forced the fight from gong to gong, but he missed nine out of every ten blows he started and was compelled to take considerable punishment in every round.

Britt got to the wind hard with a right shortly after they shook hands in the first round. He followed the blow up with several left jabs to the face, getting away without a return. Nelson sent a right to the jaw just before the gong, but apparently it did no damage.

In the second round Britt was inclined to mix things, but his seconds yelled to him to wait a round, and Jimmy obeyed orders. Britt held the lead in the third, landing five blows to Bat's one. Nelson, however, bored in with his head down, swinging his arms in almost every direction except the right one when they were not clinched.

They came together without any sparring in the fourth, Britt sending a hard hook to Bat's nose. Britt's eye was bleeding at the close of the round, and just before the gong Nelson sent a hard right to the wind.

In the fifth hard rights to the face were exchanged for ten seconds after the gong. Nelson scored several times in the clinches, but Britt kept up his jabbing tactics and more than held his own.

Shortly after the sixth started Nelson hit Britt rather low as they came out of a clinch, and cries of foul were heard from several in Jimmy's corner. Referee Eyton paid no attention, however, and, although Britt appeared weak for the time being, he was still jabbing at Bat's nose at the end of the round.

Britt came back strongly in the seventh and followed instructions to stay away and use his left and right hook and jabs. It was Jimmy's round. The eighth, ninth, and tenth rounds were repetitions of the seventh. Nelson was willing and forced the fighting, but his swings for the most part were wild and Jimmy simply jabbed and ran away, occasionally stepping in quickly and fighting toe to toe.

The gong at the close found the boys fighting head to head. The crowd was with Nelson, but the verdict certainly would have gone to Britt had a decision been rendered.

GANS' WIFE SEEKS A DIVORCE.

Colored Pugilist's Spouse Wants Separation, but Not from Joe's Salary and Auto.

Baltimore, Md., March 3.—[Special.]—Joe Gans, the negro lightweight champion, is in the divorce courts of this city again. His wife today filed a bill for partial divorce and the court signed an order giving the pugilist until March 19 to show why a counsel fee of $200 and alimony of $50 a week should not be paid while the trial is pending.

Gans sued his wife for a divorce two years ago, but the bill was dismissed.

Gans, it is claimed, is at present under a five week theatrical engagement at a salary of $1,000 a week. The wife further claims his hotel, known as the Godfield hotel, in this city is worth $25,000, that he owns an automobile worth $5,000, and that his income amounts to $25,000 a year.

Welsh to Fight Little.

After "Packey" McFarland defeated Fred Welsh at Milwaukee it was claimed the Englishman did not weigh more than 128 pounds. Yesterday his manager in closing terms for his match at Peoria on March 12 against Walter Little insisted on making the weight 133 pounds at 2 o'clock. Little's manager, Hugh Gatens, although surprised at this demand, closed the match.

Olson Matched with Pardello.

Charles Olson made another move towards the championship goal of the wrestling game yesterday by matching himself to wrestle Leo Pardello. The match will be decided at Brooke's Casino next Tuesday night. Olson is a newcomer to Chicago, but has been in the game for many years.

WOULD ADD FRESHMEN TO TEAM

Michigans' Track Coach Wants First Year Men to Compete Against First Regiment.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 3.—[Special.]—Michigan will try to use freshmen athletes against the First regiment of Chicago when the Wolverines and soldiers meet here on March 21. Coach Fitzpatrick intends to ask the board of athletic control to declare freshmen eligible on the ground this meet will not be in any sense intercollegiate. If his request is granted the freshmen will be important factors in the biggest event of Michigan's indoor schedule.

Trotting Foal at Hammond Place.

Lexington, Ky., March 3.—[Special.]—The first trotting foal of the season at Hamburg Place is a half brother to Siliko, 2:11¼, the Kentucky Futurity winner, lately sold to Russia. It is a bay colt by Vice Commodore, 2:11 [grandson of Nancy Hanks] out of Silicon, 2:13¼, by Wilton.

Waverly Rink Declared "Outlaw."

At a meeting of the board of control of the Western Skating association last night in the offices of Phil Lauth, 145 La Salle street, the Waverly skating rink was declared an "outlaw" rink, and the skaters who participated in a match race at the rink Feb. 28 were declared outlawed.

Wisconsin, 43; Nebraska, 4.

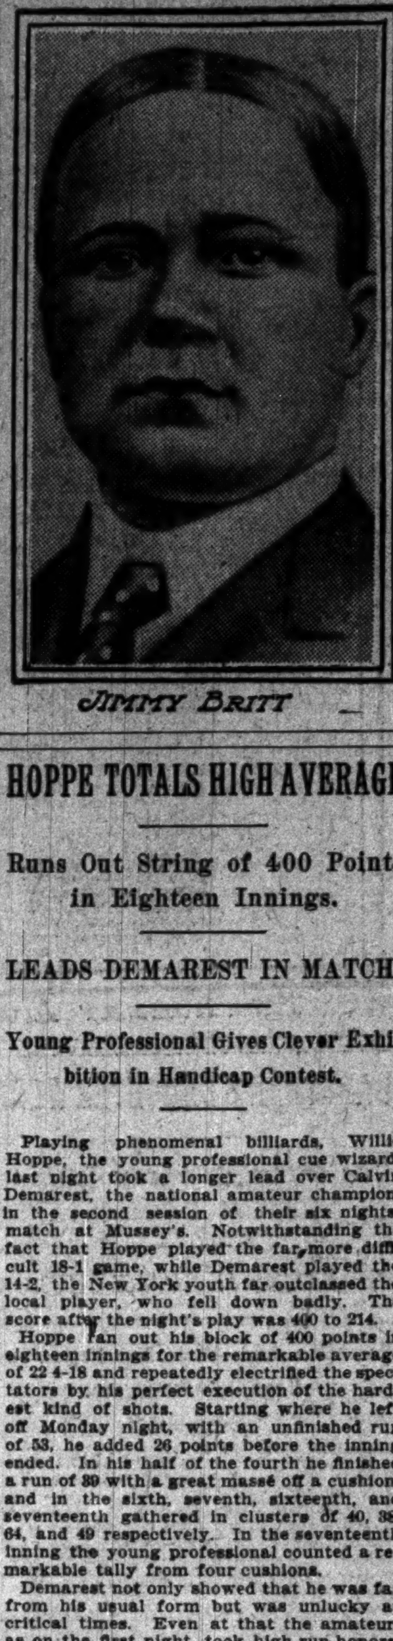

Madison, Wis., March 3.—[Special.]—Wisconsin defeated Nebraska tonight, 43 to 4. The Cornhuskers were outclassed and unable to score a single field basket. Stiehm was the star, totaling twelve field goals. Walsh, his opponent, made Nebraska's lone four points.

Sporting News Notes.

Cecil Bishop won the second preliminary one mile roller race last night at the Luna park rink, beating Dick Gronas, who was second. The time was 4:15.

J. Breton, a 17 year old boy, won the second preliminary of the one mile state skating championship at Riverview park last night, making the distance in 2:38. Al Cooley also qualified for the final tonight.

HOPPE TOTALS HIGH AVERAGE

Runs Out String of 400 Points in Eighteen Innings.

LEADS DEMAREST IN MATCH.

Young Professional Gives Clever Exhibition in Handicap Contest.

Playing phenomenal billiards, Willie Hoppe, the young professional cue wizard, last night took a longer lead over Calvin Demarest, the national amateur champion, in the second session of their six nights' match at Mussey's. Notwithstanding the fact that Hoppe played the far more difficult 18-1 game, while Demarest played the 14-2, the New York youth far outclassed the local player, who fell down badly. The score after the night's play was 400 to 214.

Hoppe ran out his block of 400 points in eighteen innings for the remarkable average of 22 4-18 and repeatedly electrified the spectators by his perfect execution of the hardest kind of shots. Starting where he left off Monday night, with an unfinished run of 53, he added 26 points before the inning ended. In his half of the fourth he finished a run of 39 with a great massé off a cushion, and in the sixth, seventh, sixteenth, and seventeenth gathered in clusters of 40, 38, 64, and 49 respectively. In the seventeenth inning the young professional counted a remarkable tally from four cushions.

Demarest not only showed that he was far from his usual form but was unlucky at critical times. Even at that the amateur, as on the first night, took high run honors, his record being 82. Demarest averaged 12 10-17 for his seventeen innings.

Hoppe—20, 2, 0, 39, 5, 40, 38, 6, 28, 30, 25, 11, 1, 25, 4, 64, 49, 3.—400. Average 22 4-18. High run, 64.

Demarest—0, 1, 20, 12, 0, 21, 9, 1, 8, 82, 3, 51, 3, 1, 7, 0, 0—214. Average, 12 10-17. High run, 82.

Play will be continued tonight.

At the Billiard Rooms.

At Foley's—Wallace [135] defeated Cooper [100] by 135 to 77.

At Sutton's—Sutton averaged 40 at 18-2, making 600 points in fifteen innings. High runs were 177, 98, 89, and 51. Remmach, an amateur, who opposed him, averaged 12.

At Anson's—"Chick" Wright, the California amateur, playing 14-2, defeated Jake Schaefer, playing 18-1, by 300 to 299. Wright averaged 18 14-16, with runs of 64 and 58, Schaefer notching 18 8-16, with runs of 55, and 39.

Miles to Play Against Jay Gould.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, March 3.—Eustace Miles, the court tennis player, will sail for New York on the steamer Etruria next week accompanied by Peter Latham. He will fill the interval before his match with Jay Gould on April 6 by lecturing and giving exhibitions.

Irish vs. Germans March 17.

Manager Cal Harris is arranging an international wrestling contest for St. Patrick's night at the Englewood skating rink. Four Irish wrestlers will be pitted against four Germans in catch-as-catch-can bouts of one hour limit. Medals for the winners will be engraved with German and Gaelic inscriptions.

A. A. U. TO CONTROL SCHOOL SPORTS.

President Herman Takes Steps to Remedy Chaotic Conditions.

ASKS TEACHERS TO HELP.

Plans Call for New Organization Vested with Authority to Rouse Interest.

The Central A. A. U. will take control of high school and academic athletics in this city and form an organization along the lines of the New York Public School league if plans announced yesterday by President Herman of the Central section are consummated.

The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of the Central A. A. U. board of managers next Friday, and if considered favorably a committee will be appointed to lay the proposition before Prof. Schneider of the board of education. If approved by him the assistance of the board will be sought in forming the new organization under A. A. U. auspices.

The plan grew out of a recent discussion of the apparent decline in the standard of sports among the local high schools, which was beginning to make itself felt in the universities and athletic clubs. The blame for this decline was attributed to the half hearted encouragement given high school sports by the present governing body, the Cook County High School league.

Reasons for New Body.

Speaking of the need of a change in athletic control, Mr. Herman said.

"Dr. Charles E. Boynton has stated that the school board of athletic control is unable to handle athletics as they should be handled, the members of the board not having sufficient time. Moreover, the president of the board of education refuses to recognize the athletic board and denies that the latter has the power to enforce its rules.

"There is no reason why athletics in Chicago high and grammar schools cannot be put upon the same plane as in the New York schools. I expect to see a new organization here patterned after the public schools league of that city. If this can be done with the aid of the board of education every child in the schools will be given a chance to develop physically, instead of the 1 in 100 who gets that chance now.

Squabbles Among Schools.

"Under the present system of ruling there is more fighting among the schools to see which one can protest the other first. When a team finds some flaw in the makeup of a rival school's squad by which it can profit the result is a protest and bad feeling. If an athelete of unusual ability joins one school the other teams go around with their noses to the ground looking for a chance to put him out of the running. Eberly Wilson of the University high school, one of the best young athletes in the city schools, is in danger of being put out of the league because he was a member of a 'frat' at Hyde Park over a year ago."

CEDRINO VICTOR AT ORMOND.

Wins the Minneapolis Trophy Race at 100 Miles, Driving a Sixty Horse Power Italian Car.

Ormond, Fla., March 3.—Slow time and a chapter of accidents marked the two events run off on Ormond beach here today, opening the sixth annual tournament, under the auspices of the Automobile Club of America. Weather conditions were ideal and the crowd one of the biggest in the history of the meets.

Cedrino, driving a 60 horse power Italian car, won the 100 mile race for the Minneapolis international trophy in 1:50:20. The record is 1:15:40, held by Clifford Earp.

The other entries were: Blakely, driving a 120 horse power American car, and Shefts, with an American of 120 horse power. The car driven by Shefts went out of the running before a quarter of a mile had been traversed, and half an hour later took up the pace again. The other American car went out at the ten mile turn, and Cedrino finished the race alone. He ran sixty miles on three tires and a rim. Of his accredited time a total of approximately twenty-five minutes was spent in repairs.

The 150 mile event for stock chassis was won by Bergdol, driving an 80 horse power German car. Bergdol covered the course in 2:40:33, finishing over fifty miles in advance of his nearest competitor. Summaries:

100 mile race for Minneapolis cup—Won by Cedrino, 60 horse power Italian car. Times at laps, 25 miles, 26:39 4-5; 50 miles, 1:00:05; 75 miles, 1:25:05; finish, 1:50:20.

150 miles stock chassis—Won by Bergdol, 80 horse power German car. Times at laps, 25 miles, 25:15; 50 miles, 1:01:02; 75 miles, 1:25:32; 100 miles, 1:47:31; 125 miles, 2:10:38. Finish, 2:40:33.

James Laughlin, driving a 40 horse power American car, was stopped by the judges after completing 120 miles. The first event on tomorrow's program is the 128 mile invitation race for amateurs.

FIFTEEN YEARS OF KEEN SUFFERING

Rheumatism Developed Burning, Painful Sores on Legs—Tortured Day and Night—Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail—Wife Had Debility and Pains in Back.

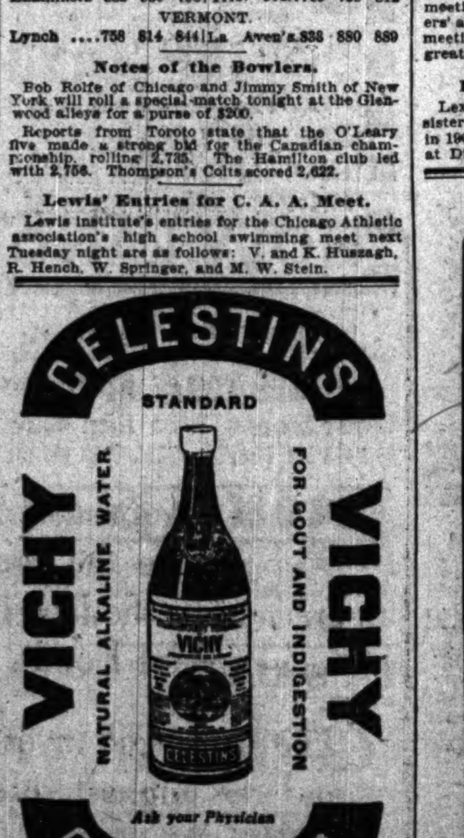

BOTH USED CUTICURA AND ARE WELL AGAIN

"My husband had been a great sufferer with rheumatism for nearly fifteen years. At first it was in his bones, but after a while it was in the flesh and finally running sores broke out on his legs, from below the knees to the ankles. There are no words to tell all the discomfort and great suffering he had to endure night and day. He used every kind of remedy and three physicians treated him, one after the other, without any good results whatever. So one day I happened to read about Cuticura Remedies. I asked him if he would not try them. 'No,' said he, 'it's no use, I've spent enough money now.' The next day I ordered five dollars' worth of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent. He began to use them without confidence but after three weeks all the sores were dried up. The burning fire stopped, and the pains became bearable. After three months he was quite well. Two years later the pains and sores came back after he had been working hard and had taken cold. But as soon as he used Cuticura again it cured him. Two years ago I used Cuticura Pills for general debility. They did me a great deal of good and made me well. Three months since I had pains in my back and Cuticura took them away, too. I can prove this testimonial at any time. Mrs. V. V. Albert, Upper Frenchville, Me., July 21, 1907."

A Single Treatment

Consisting of a warm bath with Cuticura Soap, a gentle application of Cuticura Ointment, and a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent or Pills, is often sufficient to afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure of torturing, disfiguring eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations, and inflammations of the skin and scalp, from infancy to age, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.), and Pills (25c. per vial of 60), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston. Mailed free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

CORN IS BOOSTED SHARPLY.

Shorts Stampede to Cover When Big Optimists Bull Prices.

Operations in yesterday's wheat market were featured by a tremendous burst of short covering that carried the May delivery ⅝c over the coveted dollar mark.

The big upturn—an advance of 3c from the day's lowest price, touched at the opening—also was materially helped by the reinstating of long lines and a steady drying up of pit offerings. There was a complete reversal of sentiment. The start found the general trade in a bearish mood, largely as a result of the heavy pressure of long grain the day before, but before the session was half over marked bullishness predominated, the close finding the great majority of operators in the ranks of the optimists.

Profit taking by scattered holders with handsome gains at hand finally took a little of the edge off the market. Closing quotations represented net advances of 2⅜c for May, 1⅞@1¾c for July, and 1⅝@1¾c for September.

Big Offerings Well Absorbed.

Despite the spirited selling the day before for profits offerings in the pit were very scanty, plainly indicating that the bulk of Monday's offerings had found ready absorption. The disinclination of holders to sell freely frightened the shorts, whose rush for shelter finally developed into a veritable stampede. Eastern, northwestern, and southwestern shorts joined in the dash for cover here as well as in their own markets. The sound of the final gong found many previously skeptic traders firmly convinced that supplies in the interior are dangerously light and that real difficulty will be experienced in meeting requirements between now and the time another yield is available.

Bullish Estimate from Northwest.

One of the leading northwestern experts wired in an estimate of farm reserves in the northwest that bristled with bullishness. His message whipped the shorts out of a leisurely canter into a wild gallop and injected an elephant's dose of new confidence into the veins of the bulls, the more rabid of whom predicted that, except for "natural reactions," May wheat would scale to a much loftier level before it became a matter of history. The northwestern investigator estimated the farm reserves for market in that section, including country elevator stocks, at 31,000,000 bu spring wheat. He estimated winter and durum requirements at Minneapolis between now and Aug. 1 at 9,000,000 bu, and figuring in the present stocks at Minneapolis and Duluth holdings of spring wheat, he calculated that the supply of all kinds of wheat to Aug. 1 would be 52,000,000 bu.

Mixed Tone in Europe.

Liverpool closed ½@¾d lower, recovering some of its early loss, but Berlin and Budapest ignored the break here the day before, finishing at advances of ¼c and 1⅝@2¼c respectively. Antwerp was unchanged to ⅝c lower. Paris again was inactive. Bears were influenced early by an increase of almost 5,000,000 bu in the European visible, but the effect of this showing was offset by Bradstreet's statement on the world's available supply—an increase of only 2,060,000 bu, compared to a gain of 5,282,000 bu the corresponding time last year. Duluth and Minneapolis together received only 161 cars of wheat, compared, to 239 cars the previous Tuesday, and 391 cars the similar day in 1907. St. Louis and Kansas City had 96,000 bu, against 99,000 bu a year ago. Total primary arrivals were 314,000 bu, those of a year ago being 509,000 bu. Clearances at the seaboard were light at 124,000 bu, wheat and flour.

Advance Checks Millers.

Millers did comparatively little at the sample tables, confining their purchases to immediate necessities. It was reported that a cargo of Argentine wheat was sold c. i. f. London for March-April shipment at a price equivalent to $1.03⅛, the loftiest since Chicago wheat got into the 90s. Minneapolis wired that more elevators closed on March 1 in Minnesota, South Dakota, and North Dakota than ever before in the history of that market, giving additional indication of light supplies in the northwest. Minneapolis stocks showed a decrease of 225,000 bu for three days. The trade paid little attention to the small decrease of local contract stocks last week—156,000 bu. The foreign crop summary was generally favorable, although conditions did not show much change. Armour and other elevator men engaged rather briskly in the selling of May wheat against purchases of the July, but throughout the session there was increasing indication of congestion in the nearby delivery. The advance checked the cash demand, and prices were hopelessly out of line for exports.

Corn Develops Marked Strength.

Despite more generous receipts than had been expected and weather that was generally considered favorable, the corn market developed a marked degree of strength, its upturn hastening the advancee in the finer cereal. Leading long interests bulled with a vengeance, their buying stampeding local and southwestern shorts to covering. Offerings throughout were light and at no time pressing, even the hardest spots failing to dislodge much of the grain. Closing prices, which were within ⅛c of the day's top, represented net gains of 1⅜c for May, 1⅛c for July, and 1c for September. The May early sold off ¼c from the previous close, its best showing being 62⅝c. Most of the fireworks were in this month.

Local arrivals were 557 cars, none contract, against 446 expected, and 585 received the similar day last year. The estimate for today was 375 cars. Total primary receipts were 557,000 bu, compared to 1,039,000 bu a year ago, and clearances at the seaboard were light at 45,000 bu. Bradstreet's showed a decrease of 169,000 bu in the world's available supplies, compared to an increase of 81,000 bu the corresponding time last year. There was much growth in traders' belief that, with light stocks east and practically no grain in country elevators west, there will be much difficulty in providing shipping requirements when the farmers enter into their spring farm work. There was moderate business at the sample tables, where prices displayed a sound tone. Liverpool closed ¼d lower for futures and ¼@½d off for spot.

Oats Follow Other Grains.

There was a little improvement of traffic in the oats market, which materially strengthened its position, largely in sympathy with the rise in the more important cereals. There was a better call for old May and increased pressure on the September, which was relatively the most active future. Commission houses were arrayed on the selling side early, but later shifted to the supporting side. The big bull leaders were said to have taken the grain on the softer spots, causing increased nervousness in the ranks of the shorts. Final prices showed net gains of 1c for old May, ⅝c for new May, 1¼c for old July, and ⅜@½c for September. Prices were strong at the sample tables, where a fair business was transacted. Local receipts were 455 cars, about as expected, against 206 cars a year ago. The local estimate for today was 274 cars. Primary arrivals aggregated 887,000 bu, compared to 655,000 bu the corresponding day in 1907. Clearances at the seaboard were nil. The world's available supplies, according to Bradstreet's showed a decrease of 334,000 bu, against a falling off of 1,344,000 bu the similar time in 1907.

Rye Scores Good Advance.

Rye futures felt the influence of the sharp upturn in wheat and closed 1c to 2c higher. Cash rye was also firm. Receipts were 8 cars. No. 2 free on board was quoted 84c; No. 3, 78@82c; No. 4, 65@77c; May sold from 84c to 85c.

The better grades of barley were firm, but low grades were slow. Receipts were 51 cars, with 22 cars expected today. Feed was quoted 65@72c; malting, 75@92c; screenings, 40@64c.

Flaxseed was quoted ½c higher. No. 1 northwestern was called $1.20; No. 1 from the northwest, $1.18½; No. 1 southwestern, $1.10. Receipts were nil.

Timothy seed was more active. March was offered at $4.85, and country lots were quoted $3.60@4.50.

Clover seed was firm at $19.50 for contract, $19.60 for March, and $12.25@18.50 for cash seed.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Several houses which have been prominent on the bear side were leading buyers of wheat yesterday. Love being the leading buyer on the extreme advance and Barrell starting the upturn lower down. The extensive purchases recently by these houses led some of the trade to believe that the purchases represented more than short covering, it being intimated considerable of the wheat was for long account. Both of the houses named, however, have been large sellers recently, the selling not being as conspicuous as the buying. The northwestern contingent was credited with absorbing a big line of wheat recently, basing their buying on the bullish estimates of country elevator and farm stocks in the spring wheat country. Lake, Northern Grain, Hulburd-Warren-Chandler, and Peavey were on the buying side, and yesterday the Marfield house was a heavy buyer. It was intimated that the Watson crowd of Minneapolis has been playing heavily on the short side of wheat recently through one of the big bear houses, some attributing the Barrell trading lately to this interest. Bartlett-Frazier were on both sides of the market, but were helping the buying movement along on the upturn. Patten was talking bullish and advising his friends that the short side was dangerous. Gillett sold 500,000 bu of May early, and on the advance nearly all the large commission houses were taking profits.

The cash demand for wheat was light, the unsettled state of the future market keeping the millers out of the market. On the early decline there was a little inquiry for shipment, but the late advance checked even this budding demand. Sales were modest in the aggregate, most of the purchases of No. 2 red, which were for small lots, being made on the basis of May price in store. The outside markets were quiet, although Minneapolis reported millers buying there quite freely. Stocks at Minneapolis decreased 225,000 bu for three days. Southwest the chief factor was the expected larger receipts of wheat from the interior. Corn prices here were unchanged to 1c higher, the late advance in futures causing a gain in the price of the better grades. Low grades were ½@1c lower. The eastern shipping demand continued moderate. Offerings were modest. One house reported purchases of 50,000 bu in the country, and other concerns smaller quantities. No. 4 corn sold at 8¼c under May price. Oats were unchanged in spite of the upturn in the pit. Offerings were fairly generous. The east was buying quite freely, however. Local sales were 50,000 bu wheat, 125,000 bu corn, and 225,000 bu oats.

"The development of affairs in Russia has fully justified the forecasts of those who predicted that shipments from that direction practically would cease at the end of last year, and rumors continue to prevail as to purchases not only for the north (of which there is no question), but also for the south, which may prove to be well founded," said Lenders & Co. of London. "If south Russia should begin importing while the new crop is still five months off it would be idle to pretend that this would not have considerable effect on the market, if only for sentimental reasons, but if in addition to that we find North America falling off considerably as a shipper, wheat, which looks so plentiful just now, may begin to appear not overabundant, and with most of the largest European importing countries having to arrange for six months' supplies before their own new crops become available and having used up a much greater proportion of their old crops, the market might quickly begin to wear a different complexion."

Broomhall's weekly cable summary of foreign crop conditions read: "United kingdom and Spain—Weather somewhat colder; outlook for crops continues favorable. Italy and north Africa—Outlook favorable, with exception of some complaints from a new droughty district. Bulgaria—Crops have wintered well. Roumania—Weather continues favorable; outlook for winter wheat favorable; sowing has commenced. France—Some resowing in the north as a result of early unfavorable climatic conditions, otherwise outlook is favorable. Holders firmer in their views. Germany—Weather colder and condition of crops is considered satisfactory; the country has purchased a large quantity of wheat from Argentina, but the markets still respond quickly to strength abroad. Russia—In the southwest the outlook is unchanged from Feb. 25, which was more hopeful. Elsewhere the outlook is mostly satisfactory. Arrivals of wheat at ports of shipment are small, or in some cases nothing."

Bartlett-Frazier, Pringle, Miner, Wagner, Wrenn, and Edwards were the leading buyers of corn. Selling was scattered, offerings being light throughout the day. Logan-Bryan bought a few July oats at the start, and there was some buying of September by commission houses. Selling was principally of old July and new May. Armour was credited with buying provisions through brokers, and the Cudahy Packing company and stockyards interests were on the buying side. Selling was scattered.

C. W. Thornton, the Duluth grain statistician, was out with the following estimate of northwestern wheat stocks: "Farm reserves for market on March 1 and country elevator stocks in the northwest are 31,000,000 bu of spring wheat. Estimating durum and winter wheat consumption at Minneapolis to Aug. 1 at 9,000,000 bu, and figuring in present stocks at Minneapolis and Duluth spring wheat stocks, and we have a supply of all wheat to Aug. 1 of 52,000,000 bu. From March 1 last year to Aug. 1 Minneapolis, Duluth, and country mills used up 37,500,000 bu, and shipments from Duluth and Minneapolis were 13,000,000 bu, making a total distribution of 50,500,000 bu, exclusive of the 17,000,000 bu on hand at terminals Aug. 1, and an estimated country supply of 8,000,000 bu."

Freer marketings of winter wheat were reported from the southwest and some of the local houses also reported more liberal acceptances in the country. A Kansas City wire to W. P. Anderson & Co. said receipts would be more liberal, as the farmers were more disposed to market their grain at present prices, and that country grain dealers were also shipping from their stocks on hand. Bartlett-Frazier also had a message from the southwestern market saying a lot of wheat had been bought in the country since Thursday to go to Kansas City. On Monday the bidders were filled up, and a big run of wheat is expected from both Nebraska and Kansas.

"The mills here have been the big buyers of wheat recently," said a letter from Minneapolis to W. H. Lake & Co. "Duluth exporters say they are within 1c of working No. 1 northern for export and have worked quite a little No. 3 Manitoba recently. A well posted grain man here estimates country elevator stocks in the northwest at 8,000,000 bu, which includes all country mill stocks, and the farmers have about 12,000,000 bu to market. If this estimate is anywhere near right it is sensationally bullish, because country mills alone will require 20,000,000 bu to run them until the new crop. We can see no reason for a further setback."

Bradstreet's report of the available supply last week shows the following increases:

The demand for lard was sharp during the greater part of the day, and was credited to the larger packers. The strength in this commodity was instrumental in rallying the whole list. Statements of lard stocks were considered bearish but appeared to have been discounted to a large extent.

The corn bulls are banking on light receipts of corn for the next sixty days, and it is claimed that receipts at country elevators during the next two months will be light, both on account of the bad roads and because spring work will interfere with deliveries.

Broomhall cabled that Argentine shippers predict there will be a large quantity of wheat shipped this month, and then weekly during April and May the exports will average between 4,000,000 bu and 4,800,000 bu.

The N. K. Fairbank company's cable advices indicated lard stocks of the world March 1 aggregated 294,471 tcs, against 227,971 tcs on Feb. 1, 289,713 tcs a year ago, and 255,290 tcs on March 1, 1905.

Lincoln, Neb., wired that Milwaukee was bidding $1.04 for No. 2 hard wheat and had bought about all the wheat available in the elevators there and that farmers were not selling freely.

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental National bank, was elected to membership on the board of trade by the directors. Mr. Reynolds is the treasurer of the association.

Hately Bros.' estimate of lard stocks in all centers shows an increase during February of 74,500 tcs, against 31,250 tcs increase a year ago. The total is now 313,000 tcs.

Libby, McNeill & Libby's lard refinery building "K" was made regular by the directors yesterday for the storage of canned goods, stearine, and product of like nature.

Closing prices for wheat in foreign markets were: Liverpool, ¼@½d lower; Paris, holiday; Antwerp, unchanged to ⅝c off; Berlin, ¼c higher; Budapest, 1⅝@2¼d higher.

The directors during the day offered $2,200 each for three memberships. So far this year nine memberships have been purchased by the directors and retired.

India was said to be offering wheat now in moderate quantities, as prices in that country are nearing a parity with other markets.

Sales on the call were: Corn—Cool and sweet, 10 days, 2,000 bu at 52c; No. 3 white, April, 7,000 bu at 61½c Illinois proportional.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 375 cars; oats, 274 cars; rye, 5 cars; oats, 22 cars; hogs, 40,000.

No. 2 red winter wheat in Antwerp was said to be 6c over the same grades in the Liverpool markets.

Winnipeg receipts were 126 cars of wheat for the day, against 345 cars a year ago.

A private Liverpool cable said the cash demand for wheat was well sustained.

Deliveries on March contracts during the day were 500 tcs lard.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Receipts of cattle were heavy and lower prices were made on cows, while steers were steady for heavy and firm to 10c higher for medium and lightweights. Bologna bulls were in urgent request from eastern shippers and sold up to $4, the best price so far this season. Hog prices were 5@10c lower, owing to arrivals being 18,000 more than for the same day last year, and slow demand from shippers. Lambs made up the bulk of the receipts of sheep, while wethers and yearlings were scarce and fully 10c higher. A sale of $5.65 for clipped wethers showed a net gain of 20c over the best sale yesterday, and established a new high mark for the season.

CATTLE.

Speculators showed signs of uneasiness when arrivals of 4,500 were posted, as they were overloaded with stock, having looked for a falling off in the movement following the breaking up of the country roads. Packers were aware of the situation, and in the absence of an urgent inquiry from shippers proceeded to work for lower values. Cowstuff made up the bulk of the receipts and sold at 10c decline at $4.50@5.00 for feeders. Light and medium steers were ready sale at from $5.80 to $6.15, being firm to a shade above Monday's best prices. Butcher stock was weak. Bologna bulls sold to eastern shippers at $3.75@4.00, the latter being the top for the season. Calves were unchanged to a shade higher, with top at $7.25, bulk of sales from $6.50@7.00, and lightweights $5.50@6.00. Quotations:

Choice to fancy steers	$5.80@6.15
Medium to good steers	5.45@5.75
Inferior to fair steers	4.25@5.40
Fat cows and heifers	2.75@5.25

Good to fancy veal calves	7.00@7.25
Heavy calves	5.50@7.00
Light calves	5.50@6.00
Bologna bulls	3.75@4.00

Cattle at six western markets, 27,400, against 25,500 a week ago, 30,500 a year ago, and 33,000 two years ago. Total for 1908 to date, 1,360,000, against 1,550,000 the same period 1907.

HOGS.

Opened 5@10c lower on heavy receipts, 30,000, or 18,000 more than a year ago, sold off on lack of demand until fully 10c lower, and then rallied late in the day in sympathy with higher prices for hog products on the board of trade. Packers secured their supplies at a full 10c decline, paying $4.35@4.40. Shippers were less keen in making purchases. The top record was $4.52½, compared to $4.65 Monday. Average price was $4.43, against $4.53 Monday and $6.92 last year. The bulk of the sales was at $4.35@4.45. Selected packing and shipping grades sold largely 10c lower, with the top $4.52½, and only four loads going at that price. The general run was taken at $4.45@4.50. Mediums and butchers were 10@12½c lower early and 10c off at the close. The quality was inferior and with shippers only moderately interested they were inclined to drag. They ranged $4.40@4.45. Heavy packing hogs went at $4.35@4.40, a loss of 10c. Armour & Co. led the packers with purchases of 4,000, and Swift came in for 3,000, while shippers purchases totaled only 8,092.

Bulk of sales	$4.35 @4.45

SHEEP.

Yearlings and wethers were in moderate supply, lambs again making up the bulk of the arrivals. Prices were fully 10c higher for the former, while the latter were irregularly lower. A feature was the sale of clipped wethers at $5.65, the best price so far this year. The top for the day, $6.90, was paid for choice fed lambs and natives. There was an urgent demand for lambs averaging around 90 lbs. to 95 lbs., Swift & Co. paying $6.75 for a load, which weighed around 95 lbs, and there were several shipping orders on the market for 90 lb lots. Clipped sheep brought $5.00@5.65, and wool wethers, $6.00. Fair to prime ewes sold at $5.25@5.75, the bulk going at $5.40@5.60. Receipts, 12,000, compared with 11,294 a week ago, 11,945 a year ago, and 20,386 two years ago.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

There was a suggestion of easiness in hog products at the start, on long pressure prompted largely by a bearinsh construction of the monthly local statistics on meat stocks and by liberal receipts of hogs here and at other leading western packing centers. It was a matter of only a few minutes, however, before values started on a rapid trip upward, a brisk call for lard from one of the principal packers having beneficial effect on the entire list. It was pit opinion that many of the larger packers bought freely of everything on the counter. Small western packers sold on the bulges, and all the softer spots witnessed snappy covering by floor shorts. There was some early selling for the account of foreign longs, according to pit detectives. Shorts directed most of their attention to ribs and pork. Cudahy was accounted the principal supporter, but late in the session the Armour interests were said to have bought liberally. The outside investment demand was not as snappy as recently. The day's shipments of meats hence were heavy at 3,750,065 lbs, against 1,699,944 lbs the corresponding day last year; lard, 1,136,697 lbs, compared to 800,314 lbs in 1907. Late trade indicated that some of the packers were removing hedges. Some of the commission concerns sold on resting orders. The monthly local statistics on lard were bullishly construed, and many in the trade believe this commodity stands an excellent show of working sharply higher in the near future, notwithstanding the professed bearishness of leading stockyards interests. Final pit prices showed net gains of 25@35c for pork, 12½@15c for lard, and 10@12½c for ribs.

Hides and Wool.

CHICAGO, March 3.—HIDES—Were weak and prices tended lower. The quality of the offerings is the poorest in years and tanners neglect the market. Wool trade is dull and future prospects depend almost entirely on the goods situation. Present stocks are liberal and are expected to sell 35@40 per cent under last year's prices. Clothing wools are in large supply, while there is practically no demand. Staple wools are less freely offered, but manufacturers are out of the market, excepting for immediate necessities, while mills are running only two-thirds of their usual time. Quotations:

Fine, heavy	14@16c
Ungraded, unwashed, in bags	16@20c

Burry wool, 5@7c off in price from equal grades in good order.

BOSTON, Mass., March 3.—A better feeling prevails in the local wool market. The leading domestic quotations range as follows: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, XX, 33@34c; X, 30@31c; No. 1 washed, 37@38c; No. 2 washed, 36@37c; fine unwashed, 24@25c; fine unmerchantable, 28@29c; medium clothing, 24@25c; half blood clothing, 23@24c; half blood combing, 31@32c; three-eighths blood combing, 28@29c; delaine washed, 37@38c; delaine unwashed, 30@31c. Michigan, Wisconsin, New York fleeces—Fine unwashed, 22@24c; delaine unwashed, 28@29c; half blood unwashed, 30@31c; three-eighths blood unwashed, 30c; quarter blood unwashed, 26@27c. Kentucky, Indiana, and Missouri—Three-eighths blood, 30@31c; quarter blood, 26@28c. Scoured values: Texas—Fine 12 mos, 68@70c; fine 6 to 8 mos, 55@58c; fine fall, 48@50c. California—Northern, 60@61c; middle counties, 55@57c; southern, 53@55c; full free, 45@48c. Oregon—Eastern No. 1 staple, 68@70c; eastern No. 1 clothing, 60@62c; eastern average, 58@60c; valley No. 1, 58@60c. Territory (scoured basis)—Fine staple, 65@68c; fine medium staple, 63@65c; fine medium clothing, 53@55c; fine clothing, 55@60c; half blood, 57@60c; three-eighths blood, 55@58c; quarter blood, 45@48c. Pulled—Extra, 63@65c; fine A, 55@57c; A supers, 45@48c.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 3.—WOOL—Dull. Medium grades, combing and clothing, 20¼@23½c; light fine, 16½@19½c; heavy fine, 14@15½c; tub washed, 26@33c.

Chicago Horse Market.

Eastern inquiry for farm mares and chunks showed more activity, but values remained about unchanged. The approaching seeding season is expected to improve the demand for this grade, and dealers, while not expecting higher values, look for an increased outlet for all classes. Heavy drafters made a shade better price, selling at $180@200 for the bulk and $230@275 for choice. Farm mares and chunks were $115@150 for 1,300@1,400 lb chunks, with the bulk going at $125@140. Southern chunks ranged from $60 to $115. Coachers, $110@130 for fair, and $140@350 for good to choice. Carriage pairs were quoted at $225@675, according to quality and action.

IN THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

EGGS.

CHICAGO, March 3.—The tone of the egg market was easy, but prices were held at the decline of Monday. Trade was fairly active, with a good demand for local account and moderate shipping orders. Receipts were 7,756 cases, compared to 14,038 cases a year ago. The lower prices prevailing are expected to increase the consumption, especially as the quality of current receipts is good. Prices:

Eggs, prime firsts	20c	Do dirties	11@14c
Do firsts	19c	Do extras, 80 per cent fresh	22c
Do ordinary firsts	16@18c

NEW YORK, March 3.—EGGS—Easier. Receipts, 12,142 cases. State, Pennsylvania, and nearby selected white fancy, 26@27c; good to choice, 24@25c; brown and mixed fancy, 23@24c; do firsts, 21@22c; western and southern firsts, 21½c; seconds, 21c; thirds, 20@20½c. Eggs in Philadelphia—Weak and 1c lower. Pennsylvania and other nearby firsts, 22c, at mark; do, current receipts, 21c, at mark; western choice, 22c, at mark; do fair to good, 19@21c, at mark.

BUTTER.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Storage butter extras were quoted lower, and the whole market had an easy tone. Fresh creamery extras were quoted at 31c but sales were made as low as 29½c. Receipts were liberal—5,141 tubs, compared to 4,937 tubs a year ago. Quotations:

Butter, dairies, extras	28c	Do firsts	27@29c
Creameries, extras	31c	Do seconds	21@23c
Do storage extras	29½@30c	Packing stock	20c

NEW YORK, March 3.—BUTTER—Quiet. Receipts, 11,346 packages. Held firsts to thirds, 24@29c. Butter in Philadelphia—Steady. Extra western creamery, 32½c; nearby points, 35c.

POULTRY.

CHICAGO, March 3.—The market for live and dressed chickens was firm and prices for the live stock were advanced ½c. Receipts were comparatively light, and there was a good demand from dressers. A moderate demand existed for dressed ducks and geese, which were in light supply. Quotations:

Live chickens, lb	12c	Do turkeys	16@16½c
Do spring, lb	12½c	Do ducks	10@11c
Do turkeys, lb	13c	Do chickens	10@12½c
Do geese, per doz	$5.00@7.00	Do squabs, doz	$2.00@2.50
Dressed geese	8@9½c

NEW YORK, March 3.—Poultry, alive, feeling firm and tendency higher on fowls, though official quotations had not been settled at a late hour. Dressed, quiet; Philadelphia spring chickens, 26@28c; turkeys, 12@18c; fowls, 10@13½c.

CHEESE.

CHICAGO, March 3.—All grades of cheese were again in brisk demand and the market tone was strong. The inquiry for American makes is especially good, and it is believed supplies back are light. There was a moderate inquiry for export account. Quotations:

Daisies	13½@14c	Limburger	15@16c
Twins	12¾@13c	Brick	12c
Y. America	13¾@13⅞c	Swiss	10@14c

NEW YORK, March 3.—Cheese—Firm, unchanged; receipts, 3,326 boxes. Cheese in Philadelphia—Firm; fair demand; New York full creams, choice, 15⅞@16c; do fair to good, 15@15½c.

VEGETABLES.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Two cars of tomatoes were received, one from Florida and one containing Cuban stock. The fresh stock commanded steady prices, but the ordinary run was slow. The celery market continued firm and a shade higher. Lettuce was without special change. Prices for asparagus continue high, and for that reason the demand continues light. Trade in potatoes was slow, the demand being weak. Prices were well maintained. Receipts were 93 cars. Quotations:

Beets, sacks	60c	Do new, brls	$6.50@7.00
Carrots, sacks	35@50c	Sweet potatoes, per brl	$3.75@5.00
Cabbage, per ton	$10.00	Peppers, per crate	$1.50@3.00
Cauliflower, per crate	$2.25@2.50	Turnips, sacks	60@75c
Celery, crate	$5.00@6.00	Spinach, brl	$3.50@5.00
Cucumbers, box	50c@$2.75	String beans, boxes	$1.00@4.00
Egg plant, per crate	50c@$1.50	Pea beans	$2.30@2.35
Lettuce, brl	$1.00@5.00	Lima beans, Cal., 100 lbs	$5.50@5.62½
Do leaf, cases	18@20c	Tomatoes, six baskets	$1.00@2.50
Onions, bu	75c@$1.00
Potatoes, bu	60@75c

FRUITS.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Trade in fruits was slow and without much feature. Aside from a fair business in California oranges, the demand for which keeps good, little was done in any direction. Prices:

Apples, brl	$2.00@5.00	Oranges, box	$1.50@3.50
Bananas, per bunch	60c@$1.50	Pineapples, per crate	$2.00@3.25
Malaga grapes, keg	$3.50@4.50	Strawberries	25@50c
Lemons, box	$2.00@2.50	Cranberries, per brl	$8.50@9.50

HAY.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Steady. Receipts, 1,133 tons; shipments, 138 tons. Choice timothy hay, $15.50@16.50; No. 1 timothy, $14.50@15.50; No. 2 timothy and No. 1 mixed, $12.00@13.00; No. 3 timothy and No. 2 mixed, $9.00@11.00. Kansas and Indian territory prairie, choice, $11.50@12.00; No. 1, $10.50@11.50; No. 2, $9.00@10.00. Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Dakota prairie, choice, $9.50@10.00; No. 1, $8.00@9.00; lower grades, $7.50@8.00.

STRAW.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Rye, $7.50@8.00; wheat, $6.00@6.50; oats, $6.50@7.00.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Effects of the money stringency have disappeared and the tendency is for higher prices in all lines. Buying of future supplies of canned fruits is especially active, while tomatoes, which generally lead in that respect, are more conservatively taken, due to high prices for the season and to the fact that buyers did not realize the profits they anticipated last year. An increased supply of canned apples knocked about $1 per dozen off the price, but the decline caused an increase in the consumption, and offerings are being absorbed, while values are slowly recovering. Salmon is firmly held. Pineapples are growing scarce, with prices higher. The season for sirups is about over and the trade is quieting down.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Sugar developed a firmer tone, some brands scoring advances. The general demand was the best in twelve months. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Cut loaf, H and E, $6.10; standard powdered, $5.40; granulated, $4.97@5.14; extra C, $4.74; canary, $4.38; chemically pure milk sugar, 17c per lb in brl lots. Supplies are fairly large.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Raw sugar firm; fair refining, 3.30c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.80c; molasses sugar, 3.11c. Refined steady; crushed, 5.60c; powdered, 5c; granulated, 4.90c.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Firmness prevailed in the coffee market, with the demand active and supplies fair. Buyers are taking the better grades, and the trade generally shows preference for high qualities.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices but eased off slightly during the middle session under scattering liquidation in the absence of support, the market closing dull, net unchanged. Sales were reported of 6,250 bags. Spot coffee quiet; No. 7 Rio, 6¼c; Santos No. 4, 8⅝@8¼c; mild coffee nominal; Cordova, 9¼@13½c. Quotations:

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Wholesalers and jobbers report more orders from the road, with advices from their salesmen indicating further improvement in the near future. The call is for spring goods in general. Silk dealers note a healthier general demand for immediate wants, and some of them are predicting an early advance in values. There was an unusually large number of outside merchants in town today, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, New Mexico, and Kansas being represented. Men familiar with the situation say that Chicago this year is attracting merchants who formerly made their purchases in St. Louis and Kansas City, attributing this gain in trade largely to the vigorous "foreign" conquest being made by the Association of Commerce. The general run of dry goods rules strong.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The dry goods market was more active in the jobbing houses today, sales of dress goods and silks being well attended. The export trade is quiet. Cotton yarns are easy, but some business is passing at low prices. Linings are moving in southern markets more freely than elsewhere. General lines of buying show improvement in a small way.

Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, March 3.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.65c; middling gulf, 11.90c. No sales. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

The sales were 10,000 bales of which 1,000 were for speculation and export and included 9,500 American. Receipts, 13,000 bales, including 11,700 American. Futures opened firm and closed steady.

Oils.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Conditions remain practically unchanged in the local oil market. Following are prevailing quotations: Prime white, 150, 9½c; perfection, 150, 10½c; headlight, 175, 11½c; eocene, 12c; elaine, 17½c; scarlet rose, 12c; Michigan test, w. w., 11½c; p. w., 10½c; V., M. & P. naphtha, 11c; gasoline, 13½c; machine gasoline, 24c; raw linseed oil, single brls, 41c; five brl lots, 40c; boiled linseed oil, single brls, 42c; five brl. lots, 41c; turpentine, 55c; summer black oil, 7¾c; winter black oil, 8½c. Prices quoted apply to brl. lots, Chicago, free on board.

OIL CITY, Pa., March 3.—Credit balances, $1.78. Runs, 12,716. Shipments, 191,738; average, 164,360.

Metals.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The London tin market was unchanged to 5s lower, with spot quoted at £128 10s and futures at £127 10s. Locally the market was dull at $29.25@30.25. Copper was lower in the English market, closing at £56 15s for spot and at £57 5s for futures. Lake was quoted at $12.37½@12.62½, electrolytic at $12.25@12.50, and casting at $12.12½@12.37½. Lead was 5s lower at £13 12s 6d in London. Locally the market was dull at $3.65@3.75. Spelter was unchanged at £21 in London. The local market was dull at $4.70@4.75. Iron was higher in the English market, with standard foundry quoted at 49s 6d and Cleveland warrants at 50s 10½d. The local market was unchanged. No. 1 foundry northern, $18.25@18.75; No. 2 foundry northern, $17.75@18.25; No. 1 southern and No. 1 southern soft at $17.25@17.85.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 3.—LEAD—Lower; $3.60. SPELTER—Lower; $4.70.

Antimony.

NEW YORK, March 3.—[Special.]—The demand for antimony is mainly routine in character, with a steady tone and prices partly nominal. Prices are nominally 9c for Cookson's, 8¼@8¾c for Hallett's, and 7⅞@8¼c for ordinary brands. The London market continues quiet, with prices easy at £35 for Hallett's and £34 for ordinary brands.

Whisky.

CHICAGO, March 3.—WHISKY—Steady on a basis of $1.35 for finished goods.

PEORIA, March 3.—WHISKY—$1.35.

STOCKS LOWER NEAR CLOSING

Bill Aimed at Trading on Margin Affects Prices.

NO BASIS FOR PESSIMISM.

Wall Street Market Is Featureless Aside from Copper and Wabash.

[FROM THE NEW YORK TIMES' FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, March 3.—[Special.]—Perhaps the widespread discussion which was had in the financial district today of the measure introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Hepburn proposing to tax stock transactions in order to put an end to trading on margin or speculating, as Washington prefers to call it, had something to do with the recessions which prices made in the afternoon following a moderate advance in the early part of today's stock market session.

There was little real belief, however, that this measure would become a law, and at the most the feeling was that it might pass the house and set a fashion to be followed by the lower branch of the legislature of the state. In another way, however, this proposed legislation had something to do with the day's business on the stock exchange. It represents another phase of the attitude which politicians and a certain section of the public are taking not only toward Wall street but toward all activities which center in Wall street.

Inimical Laws Not Likely.

It is worth noting, however, in connection with the Hepburn bill that while there has been much talk in Washington inimical to financial markets the present session of congress has so far failed to develop a single law in any wise harmful to legitimate financial interests. And it is open to question if any such law will find a place upon the statute books before congress adjourns.

Among the trading elements there was an effort made to work up enthusiasm over the announcement from Washington that the attorney general contemplates no proceedings which would prevent the Southern Pacific from paying its customary dividend on its shares held by the Union Pacific.

With the exception of the movements in the copper shares and the weakness of the Wabash issues the market was featureless. Unless its continued dullness and firmness may be considered significant of its stubborn resistance to unfavorable developments the copper stocks were affected in some degree by the further reduction in the price of the metal and by the passage of the usual dividend upon Granby shares. Attention was drawn to the February figures for business failures by reason of the total, both as regards liabilities and numbers, being smaller than in the month of January, although above those of February, 1907.

Banks Lose to Subtreasury.

No changes of importance occurred in the money market, but the banks reported another loss to the subtreasury bringing the total for the week up to $1,081,000. Financing of corporation requirements is still going on quietly and serving to keep time rates firm. The banks are surrendering government deposits slowly, while their efforts to reduce circulation are meeting with less success than had been expected. In the month of February, in spite of the curtailment by the banks of this city, the circulation of the national banks of the country as a whole increased $27,000,000, bringing the total of bank notes outstanding to $695,674,519, a new high record.

Money on call easy, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1¾; offered at 1¾. Time loans steady; 60 days, 3½ per cent; 90 days, 3¾@4 per cent; six months, 4¼@4½ per cent. IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., March 3.—[Special.]—Local specialties were higher in the earlier trading today, but the business was in small volume. Prices held fairly firm until midday, from which time on the market sagged, final quotations for coppers being mixed, losses predominating, though they were in no case severe or of significance. Investment shares ruled fairly steady. Call loans, 4@4½ per cent; time loans, collateral, 5¼@6 per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent; clearing house loans, 3 per cent.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, March 3.—Money was in fair supply and demand today, and discounts were quietly steady. Trading on the stock exchange showed much irregularity. The gilt edge was the only cheerful section, being supported in anticipation of easier money, but they closed below the best of the day. Home rails and Mexican rails yielded to liquidation, but closed above the worst. Paris sold diamond shares, but supported foreign bonds moderately. Although American shares were inactive they were steadily held above parity in the forenoon on the better Wall street closing of yesterday. Pacific stocks received the most attention. Prices eased later, but New York supported Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and the close was firm.

WORKSHOP OWNERS TO BE SUED

Sanitary Inspector Ball Recommends Prosecution of Sixty for Not Having Licenses.

Recommendation that suits be filed against the proprietors of sixty workshops was made to City Prosecutor George H. White by Chief Sanitary Inspector Charles B. Ball yesterday. An inspection of the workshops was made in November, and it was found that but 2,486 out of 5,095 were operating under city licenses. Notices were sent out, and all but 700 complied. A second notice brought in 550 more.

PHONE TO PAY 10 PER CENT

Company to Make No Change During Present Year at Least.

BANK HAS SILVER JUBILEE.

South Side "L" Stock Off 6 Points on Reduction of Dividend.

It is understood that the Chicago Telephone company will make no change in its present 10 per cent dividend rate during the year 1908. That much has been decided upon. What the rate will be next year will be determined by the character of the earnings. If, however, without intrenching on the surplus the company can pay 10 per cent this year, there is good reason to believe the rate will not be changed. The last annual report disclosed a surplus of over $5,000,000, and this will be available for dividend purposes.

The directors of the company are scheduled to meet today to act on the quarterly distribution. The meeting may be postponed through lack of a quorum in the event that President Wheeler, who is out of the city, may not be able to return in time for a meeting today.

The company's instrument statement for February shows a net gain of 2,368 in the number of telephones installed during that month. Of the total 2,132 were in the city and 236 were country lines. The company on Feb. 29 had a total of 208,250 telephones, of which 150,306 were in the city and 57,940 were country lines.

Bank Quarter Century Old.

The Continental National bank yesterday rounded out the first quarter century of its existence, and its deposits were almost at the top notch, being over $70,000,000 and higher than any published statement has ever indicated. They compare with $64,724,747 on Feb. 14, the date of the last bank call.

The bank was organized on March 3, 1883, by P. D. Armour, C. T. Wheeler, and John C. Black. Mr. Wheeler was the first president. The bank began with a capital of $2,000,000. At the end of the first year the deposits were $3,600,000. Since then the capital has been increased until now it is $4,000,000. The surplus and undivided profits are $3,315,000.

George M. Reynolds, who came to the bank ten years ago from Iowa to act as cashier, is now president, while John C. Black, who for many years was president, is chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Black came to Chicago fifty-two years ago and has been prominently identified with the banking business ever since. In the last few years the bank has had a rapid growth and has become one of the large earners, although the dividend rate is held down to 8 per cent.

The first board of directors was composed of P. D. Armour, H. C. Van Schaack, H. C. Durand, R. T. Crane, J. H. Dole, W. G. Hibbard, and C. T. Wheeler.

Laying Off Employes.

The Missouri Pacific railroad company has dismissed about 10,000 employés in the operating, mechanical, and clerical departments. The cut in the number of employés will offset in part the reduction in revenues which the system is now suffering.

Meanwhile the foreign labor element continues to leave the United States. During the months of January and February 109,151 third class passengers went to Europe. During the same period 32,260 of the same class arrived in the United States, as against 88,131 during January and February of 1907.

No General Cut on Erie.

In regard to the rumor that the Erie railroad had ordered a general reduction of 10 per cent in wages, President Underwood was quoted yesterday as saying:

"No such order has been issued. The Erie has contracts fixing the rates of pay and hours of service, and the company would be violating these contracts if it issued such an order."

General Financial News.

Since last Friday the New York subtreasury has gained $1,081,000 from the banks.

At the New York metal exchange all grades of copper were reduced ⅛c, making lake, 12¾@12⅞c; electrolytic, 12¾@12½c; castings, 12¼@12⅜c.

Directors of the Western Union will meet March 11 to take action on the quarterly dividend. The expectation in New York yesterday was that the distribution would be in stock the same as the last quarterly dividend.

Will Retire from Western Trust.

H. Wollenberger, vice president of the Western Trust and Savings bank, will shortly retire from that position. It is reported he will go into business on his own account.

Returns Bonded Debt.

President Grossman of Street's Western Stable Car Line, announces that on Feb. 1, 1908, the company paid the last $25,000 of an original issue of $1,000,000 first mortgage bonds. The entire issue has been retired and the mortgage securing the same released.

The principal indebtedness for the Hicks and Canda cars purchased on March 1, 1902, has since that date been reduced $360,000, in addition to the payment of the first mortgage bonds.

Chicago Stocks.

South Side "L" stock sold off 6 points on the local exchange yesterday on the announcement that the company had reduced the dividend from a 4 to a 3 per cent basis. The dealings were not heavy, being 550 shares. Some holders of the stock would not be surprised if a further reduction in the dividend rate were made. The company has been running close to its surplus account.

There was some further activity in Street's Stable Car common. The recent buying has probably been due to the fact contained in the announcement yesterday that the company's bond issue had been retired.

In the bond department a few sales of Chicago Railways company 5s were made at 95. This is an advance of 1½ points over the price at which the bonds were offered to the public last week.

Lindsay Light made a new low record yesterday, dropping to 19.

BUYS HALSTED STREET PLANT

Burley & Tyrrell Company Buys South Side Warehouse.

APARTMENT BUILDINGS SOLD

Flat Houses Figure in Realty Transactions of the Day.

The Burley & Tyrrell company has purchased from Henry A. DuPont, of Wenterthur, Del., the property at 878-898 South Halsted street, between Twenty-second street and John place, for $112,123.

The property has a frontage of 230 feet, with a depth of 124 feet, and has brick warehouse improvements. The purchasing company gave back a trust deed to Augustus S. Peabody, trustee, to secure a bond issue of $100,000 for five years at 6 per cent.

Pruett & Moore have conveyed to Henry Hanson the twelve flat building at the southwest corner of Wilson avenue and Hazel street for $55,000, subject to an incumbrance of $28,000. In part payment the sellers took the property at 111-113 Evergreen avenue, and the property at 294 Grand avenue. Thomas E. Sullivan & Co. represented the sellers and Charles A. Johnson the purchaser.

Sells Apartment House.

Jacob Paquet has sold to Eva Davis the apartment house property in Stony Island avenue, 100 feet north of Sixty-second street, east front, for $27,500, subject to an incumbrance of $15,000.

The property at 30-32 River street has been sold by the estate of Joel C. Walker to Frank P. Graves for $60,000.

The Chicago Title and Trust company is trustee in a loan of $100,000, five years, at 5½ per cent, to Frederick Goetz, president of the Goetz & Floodin Manufacturing company, secured by the property in Michigan street, 50 feet west of Orleans street, with factory improvements.

Record was made yesterday of the twenty year lease by the Imperial Safe Deposit company, by A. E. Nusbaum, president, to the Mills Novelty company of the eight story building at the northeast corner of Jackson boulevard and Green street, at $33,000 a year from Jan. 1, 1907. This property recently was acquired by the University of Chicago.

Laboratory Will Be Moved.

The estate of E. L. Brand will erect a one story building at 2450-2454 Calumet avenue for the Walker-Gordon laboratory, now at 2112 Michigan avenue. The lease is for ten years from May 1 at a term rental of $19,350. It was negotiated by J. W. Lewis of H. O. Stone & Co.

Edwin C. Hammer has conveyed to Emma Kleinsarge, both of San Francisco, an undivided thirtieth interest in the property at 347-349 State-st. for a nominal consideration. The assessors valued the property at $200,920.

BUSINESS PERSONALS.

LADIES

WITH SUPERFLUOUS HAIR ON THE FACE.

REMEMBER, we do nothing but superfluous hair work; that this is my 20th year in business; that I was the first lady to open an office in Chicago, and that I do the work myself, with two expert assistants.

REMEMBER, with our 5 TO 10 NEEDLE METHOD only a few hours' time is sufficient to cure any case.

REMEMBER, we guarantee to kill every hair we treat, and should any return we will gladly remove them FREE OF CHARGE and thank you for the privilege of doing so.

MME. STIVER, M. E.,
1407 Auditorium Building [theater entrance],
Telephone 4223 Harrison.

ARE YOU BALD?

PEAK'S HAIR GROWER has proved that THE ROOTS OF YOUR HAIR NEVER DIE by growing hair on the heads of scores who have been bald 15 to 25 years. No matter how long YOU have been bald I will start YOUR hair growing WITHIN ONE WEEK. It will POSITIVELY STOP hair falling. The Chicago office is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kindermann, who have been associated with the discoverer in the main office and laboratory at Cleveland, Ohio. Call and get a 50 cent trial treatment. The complete treatment is inexpensive and will PROVE EVERY CLAIM or MONEY REFUNDED. Open daily and Sundays till 9 p. m.

Instructor In

HAIRDRESSING, MANICURING,
ELECTROLYSIS, FACIAL AND SCALP TREATMENTS.

Would a business of your own be of interest to you? One in which big money is made and the work is of the very highest type? I have started many women in business or secured fine positions for them, where they now are independent. How about yourself?

If you are dissatisfied with what you are doing at present, interview me, either personally or write for my free pamphlet. A few weeks' work will pay you for your investment.

"L" 43d and 39th-st. electric, 2 story 9 room solid stone front residence; cement walks; furnace heat; cement basement; lot 160 ft. deep. The kind of a house you could not construct today for less than $6,000, saying nothing about the lot. The house is just as good as when first finished. Get busy on this quick—"first comes, first served."

PRICE $3,250.
$400 CASH, BALANCE $25 MONTHLY.
511 GARFIELD-BLVD., west of Wentworth-av., 2 story frame 14 room residence; lot 25x140 ft. Talk about your bargains, you could not build this house today for less than $5,000. The lowest cash value that could be placed upon the lot is $2,500; 200 ft. boulevard street, free from all assessments. Do not delay in seeing this.

When you have finished reading the description of these properties, naturally the thought comes to your mind, is all this true? Why are they being sold at such sacrifice prices? BECAUSE we are operators—we buy them in large bunches at bankrupt prices from estates that have to have the ready cash quick. We then sell them out at small quick profits.

FRED'K H. BARTLETT & CO., 100 Washington-st.

BARGAINS AS LONG AS THEY LAST

Our prices for February sold us so many fine cars and customers were so pleased that we have decided to continue them this week.

These sales do more for us than newspaper advertising. The cars speak for themselves when put to work.

Better get busy and make your selection soon, for spring will soon be here. Many are the famous Thomas cars, taken in trade for new Thomas cars. Also have a few other makes. They are standard or we would not have them on the place. Some as low as 65% of original cost.

All styles. Write today for list T.

MAYORS SEE WAY TO FINANCE CITIES

Easy to Borrow Money if Only Constitutional Bond Limit Be Increased.

COMMITTEE TO PICK PLAN

Heads of Twenty Illinois Municipalities Come to Chicago for Conference.

After briefly considering two tentative plans for increasing the working funds of Illinois municipalities, the heads of twenty cities of the state, who met yesterday at the invitation of Mayor Busse, left the task of preparing a final plan for the accomplishment of this end in the hands of a committee of seven members, to be announced later.

The majority of out of town men had come on such short notice that they were unprepared for a thorough discussion of the broad subject of tax reform and municipal finance, but all were agreed on the main proposition, that the limit of bonded indebtedness must be raised. When this idea had been affirmed and reaffirmed, Joseph E. Paden of Evanston made the motion that a committee of seven be named to develop the suggestions into a feasible plan. The naming of the committee was left to Controller Wilson.

Wilson for Change in Constitution.

The first suggestion, finally winding up in a conclusion that an amendment to the constitution is the remedy for the poverty of the cities, was broached by Mr. Wilson. It was the question whether bond issues on water works and similar public utilities of a municipality might not be excluded from the 5 per cent limitation of the bonded indebtedness established by law.

He argued that such a plan would give the corporation greater borrowing power and that it would put the borrowing of money on pumping stations and electric light plants on a business basis that would work for their greater efficiency.

He put the query to Walter L. Fisher, asking if, under the present legal situation, waterworks and similar bonds might not be exempt from classification in the limit of 5 per cent of the assessed value of the property of the city.

"I think," said Mr. Fisher, "that the constitutional amendment of 1904 permitting special legislation for Chicago was not intended to give us any special privileges beyond those that are necessitated by the special needs of the great community.

"But even with this true there is a silver lining to the cloud. A constitutional amendment could exempt from the general class of municipal bonds those secured only by the income and property of a revenue producing utility. I believe that is the road by which this problem must be approached."

Hanberg Has an Easier Way.

The second plan was raised for discussion by Commissioner of Public Works Hanberg. He suggested that an additional bonding power might be acquired at once by an increase in the assessed valuation of property upon which the 5 per cent limit is based. He pointed out that the rate of taxation could be lowered so there would be no additional hardship upon property owners.

In support of a contention that Chicago has not adequate borrowing power, former Ald. Raymer quoted figures to show with its limit of obligation reached, the per capita indebtedness of the city is only $18, while in other large cities of the country it is as high as $120.

Among the out of town mayors who spoke in support of the two plans advanced were Andrew Olson of Moline, E. S. McDonald of Decatur, James Farrell of Ottawa, and George Shumway of Galesburg.
